"THE SHOT"

Maryland's new home for Terrapin Athletics was completed in the fall of 2002 and has already provided six seasons of toppled attendance records and memories on the hardwood. Comcast Center provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball games and serves as the campus site for university special events and select community events.

The Terrapins' first public event at the arena was the 2002 Midnight Madness celebration, which has grown to become one of the premiere student events of the academic year. The women's basketball team holds the distinction of playing the first-official game in Comcast Center, an 80-72 victory over Loyola on November 22, 2002, also the first game of the Brenda Frese Era.

In each of the six seasons Maryland has called Comcast Center home, attendance for women's basketball games has soared. The Terps have ranked in the top 10 in attendance in each of the last two years and have been in the top 25 since moving to the new building. In 2006-07, Maryland made the largest single-season improvement in home attendance in the nation, nearly doubling its average from the previous season. A school-record 150,000-plus fans attended home games at the state-of-the-art arena, and surpassed that benchmark in 2008.

Comcast Center has also been the site of nine of the 10 largest crowds in ACC women's basketball history. Among the top crowds are two sold-out games in 2006-07, breaking the conference's single-game attendance record, a mark held by the Terrapins.

The top-notch facility was the site of the first and second rounds of the 2005 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship, and was selected to host in 2008, when the tournament was expanded to eight teams at eight sites. The College Park site led all others in attendance over the two-day event. The Terrapins are slated to host the first and second rounds of the championship, once again, in 2009.

Fans can also relive their memories of the men's and women's basketball national championship seasons. The arena also houses both teams' crystal national championship trophies in a glass-encased display on the concourse level, while the Final Four playing surfaces are prominently displayed on the arena's floor level.

Comcast Center houses the university's athletic administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's near -750 student-athletes on 27 teams. An additional 1,500-seat gymnasium serves as home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams. The Sprint Heritage Hall multipurpose room, which is located on the concourse level, is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, meetings and serve as the pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena, while the 20 suites provide enhanced viewing and entertainment capabilities for Maryland fans.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors can learn about the men and women who have forged the Maryland Athletics program among the nation's elite as they stroll through the Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. The Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride.

Maryland has, once again, reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and basketball arena in the country.

ACC AND THE RPI REPORT

The ACC has been the top-rated conference in the nation two of the last four years, according to the RPI Report, and in the top three nationally in each of those seasons. The ACC topped the report in 2005 and 2006 and was third the last two seasons. In the final report for 2008, the ACC had four teams in the top 20 (3. North Carolina, 6. Maryland, 10. Duke, 16. Virginia).

ACC SETS TOURNAMENT ATTENDANCE MARK

The 2008 ACC Women's Basketball Tournament in Greensboro, N.C. continued to display the increasing popularity of the event when it set several new tournament attendance records, including a new total attendance record with 72,114 fans over the four-day event. Other records broken include:

- First Round (Game 1). 10,158
- First Round (Game 2). 4,890
- First Round (Games 3&4 6,320
- Quarterfinals (Game 5) 12,969
- Quarterfinals (Game 6) 7,201

ACC AND BEYOND

Since the inception of the WNBA in 1997, 69 former ACC players have performed in the league, while five former players have worked the sidelines as coaches. Most recently, four ACC players were selected in the first round of the 2008 WNBA Draft, all within the first 14 picks. The previous two seasons, the conference saw nine players selected on draft day, setting an ACC record.

Meanwhile, seven ACC representatives, including coaches and players, have participated in the Olympics, including Maryland's Vicky Bullett was a member of both the 1988 and 1992 Olympic teams. Many more have participated with the USA Basketball program and represented the ACC in international tournaments. For instance, Marissa Coleman, Laura Harper, Crystal Langhorne and Lynetta Kizer have each won at least one gold medal at junior world competitions or the Pan American Games.

ASSOCIATED PRESS POLLS SHOW ACC STRENGTH

For a third-consecutive season, the ACC finished with three teams in the Associated Press top 10 last season, as North Carolina finished second, Maryland fifth and Duke ninth. No other conference had three top-10 teams at seasons end even once over that span. The ACC has had at least three teams in the final AP poll in each of the last 14 years. Last year, six ACC schools were ranked at least once, while Maryland, North Carolina and Duke polled in the top 15 throughout the season.

ACC IN THE NCAA TOURNAMENT

Over the last 31 years, the ACC has proven to be one of the most powerful conferences in the history of the NCAA Tournament. The league's teams have given the conference a combined 184-136 record (.526).

- The ACC boasts the most nationally televised games — 41 games per season
- ACC schools have the highest percentage of NCAA Tournament victories
- The ACC is the only conference to have three schools play in the same Final Four (Duke, UNC, Maryland in 2006)
- Maryland has won more ACC Championships than any other ACC school (8)

•The league has made 14 total trips to the Final Four over the last 27 seasons, with five teams reaching the title game and Maryland and North Carolina claiming national championships.

•The 2006 NCAA Tournament marked the first time in tournament history that a conference sent three teams to the Final Four.

•For the past six seasons, the ACC has sent at least six teams to the NCAA Tournament. Last season, Maryland, North Carolina, Duke, Florida State, Georgia Tech and Virginia all reached the Big Dance.

•For a third consecutive season, two ACC teams earned No. 1 seeds to the NCAA Tournament. North Carolina, which picked up the school's fourth consecutive ACC Tournament crown, finished 30-2 and earned a No. 1 slot for the fourth consecutive year, while Maryland, which concluded the season 30-3 overall and was 19-0 in College Park, Md., earned another top seed in the NCAA postseason tourney.

•The ACC has sent at least one school to the Sweet 16 for 20 consecutive years, and at least one to the Final Four in 11 of those seasons.

•The league has made 14 total trips to the Final Four over the last 27 seasons, with five teams reaching the title game and Maryland and North Carolina claiming national championships.

•The players have been named the NCAA Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, including Laura Harper in 2006. All told, 14 ACC players have been named to the All-Final Four team since 1989. Sixty-five have earned NCAA Tournament All-Region distinction with 10 Most Outstanding Player honors.

ACC TELEVISION

Members of the Atlantic Coast Conference will make 78 television appearances during the 2008-09 season. The schedule boasts 41 televised games involving ACC teams, including 10 involving the Terps.

•Twelve ACC games will be available nationally, including seven games on ESPN2 and five more on Fox Sports Net.

•Thirty conference match-ups will air on the league's regional sports networks, which include Comcast SportsNet, Fox Sports Net South, Fox Sports Net Florida, and New England Sports Network. The regional sports networks reach approximately 24 million households.

•Seven games of the 2009 ACC Women's Basketball Tournament to be held March 5-8 at the Greensboro (N.C.) Coliseum – four on the league's regional sports networks and three nationally on Fox Sports Net and affiliates. FSN will broadcast the ACC Tournament semifinal games and the 2009 ACC Championship game.

•This season will feature the second annual ACC/Big Ten Challenge, which matches 11 teams from each conference in head-to-head. In the inaugural year of the event, the ACC won eight of the 11 matchups. Last year, every game of the competition was television on ESPNU or the Big Ten Network.

- Playing for the Terps means playing in the nation's fourth-largest media market.
- The Terps are covered extensively by two of the nation's top 10 newspapers on a regular basis: the Washington Post and the Baltimore Sun.
- USA Today, the nation's newspaper, is headquartered less than 20 miles from Comcast Center.
- Under the Shell is the first 13-episode television program to feature a women's basketball team, and enters its fifth season. The show airs nationally and can also be viewed on the internet at www.umterps.com/undertheshell.
- The Maryland Sports Radio Network can be accessed worldwide via the Internet at www.umterps.com.
- Maryland is scheduled to appear on television at least eight times, including four national broadcasts, in 2008-09. Three regular-season games will be on ESPN2.

- ACC women's basketball will receive extensive live television coverage during the 2008-09 season with the ESPN networks, Fox Sports Net and FSN affiliates. Regional broadcasts are featured on Comcast SportsNet (in the Baltimore/Washington, D.C. area), FSN South, FSN Florida and the New England Sports Network.

- The first-ever women's basketball game to televised was from Cole Field House in 1975, when the Terps hosted Immaculata.

- An hour-long ACC preview show airs on Fox Sports Net and affiliates, while ACC basketball is featured weekly on "ACC: All-Access" show on regional networks.

- Every major television network – ABC, NBC, CBS and Fox – has a major news gathering affiliate in both Baltimore and Washington, D.C. No university on the East boasts eight major news outlets within a 35-mile radius of its campus except the University of Maryland. Regional cable broadcasts power Comcast SportsNet and local cable outlets provide the Terps with a news presence unmatched in college basketball.

"One of my favorite, life-changing, experiences while playing at Maryland was participating in community service. It helped me see how we can really help others and encouraged me to do community service on my own. Overall, being a part of the Maryland women's basketball team opened up so many doors professionally for me. I learned so much. I learned how to make my own decisions as an adult, I met people in the community and social world, which all led to much success for me after Maryland."

"For me, Maryland is where it all started. I had an once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to come to America and play in the most competitive basketball environment possible, while earning a great degree. Maryland, to me, was an endless opportunity that I can say today, is the reason why I am where I am today. In addition to giving me the academic foundation that lead to my PhD, I made friends for life. My teammates from back when I played are, to this day, my closest and dearest friends. They truly are friends for life. Playing at Maryland taught me so much. I came here in 1996 as a young girl from Serbia and, today, I'm a strong, confident and a successful woman. "Playing basketball at Maryland helped me to become a strong woman. It prepared me for the life I'm leading now and helped me overcome any challenge or obstacle I've faced in my life. Maryland did wonders for my preparation. I learned to multi-task and developed time management skills. But most importantly, it helped me develop maturity and independence, confidence to speak up and to be a leader. I've become a successful person today because of my experience at Maryland."

Ashleigh Newman (2005-08)

Major: Criminal Justice
Position: Guard
Basketball Honors:
Holds school record for most-consecutive games played; Hustle Award, Defense Award
Current Career: Inside Sales Associate, Assistant Basketball Coach

"I had an amazing experience at Maryland. I really loved meeting new people and I was blessed to have some of the greatest teammates ever for all four years. Playing basketball at Maryland had a big impact on my life. I am in the working world now and I know what it takes to get where you want to be. I have a great understanding of work ethic and basketball at Maryland helped me mature over the years."

2002

April 2, 2002 – Brenda Frese is named the new head coach of the Maryland women's basketball team. She is only the third coach in the history of the program.

2002-03

Nov. 19, 2002 – Even before coaching a game at Maryland, Frese signs the No. 10 recruiting class in the nation, which includes McDonald's All-American Shay Doron.
Nov. 22, 2002 – The Brenda Frese Era begins when the Terrapins defeat Loyola, 80-72, in the first game ever played in the new Comcast Center.
Dec. 1, 2002 – The Terps break 100 points for the first time in almost 10 years, defeating UMES, 102-31.
Feb. 1, 2003 – Over 5,000 fans watch the Terps edge out NC State, 74-72, in the largest crowd since 1996.

2003-04

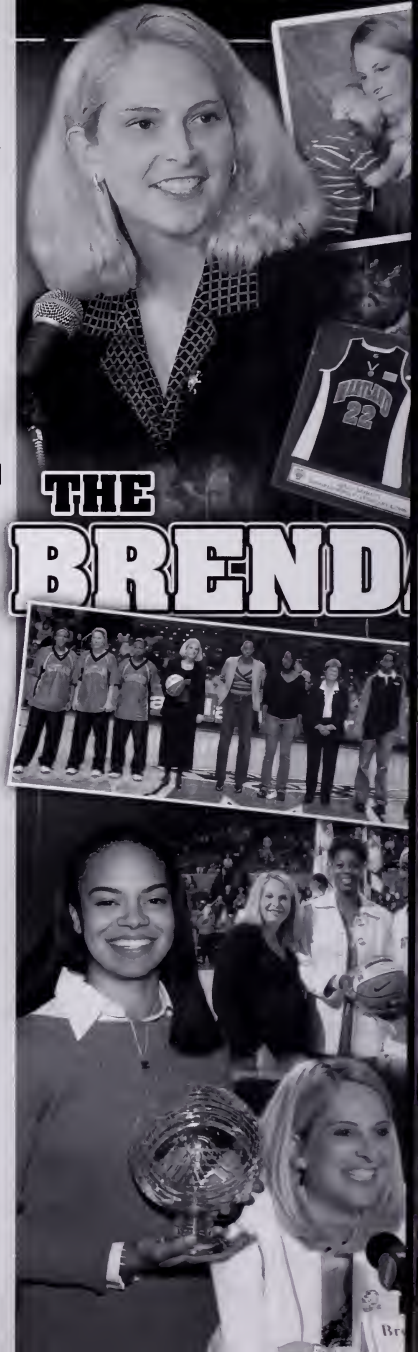
Nov. 21, 2003 – Shay Doron, Frese's first recruit, puts on a free-throw shooting clinic in her first-collegiate game, making an NCAA-record tying 23 free throws against Coppin State.
Feb. 22, 2004 – The excitement had been brewing all season and Terp fans get their last shot to see the team in action. A then-Comcast Center record 13,446 fans some to watch Maryland play Duke, the the-second largest crowd in ACC history.
Feb. 29, 2004 – In a must-win situation, Maryland travels to Clemson and wins, 80-69, finishing in a tie for third in the ACC, its best showing since 1997, also earning a first-round bye in the ACC Tournament.
March 6, 2004 – Maryland tops Florida State, 62-47, in the quarterfinals of the ACC Tournament, advancing to the semifinals for the first time since 1998.
March 21, 2004 – In what was supposed to be a rebuilding year, Maryland earns a 12th seed in the NCAA Tournament and upsets Miami, 86-85, for the team's first postseason victory in 12 years.
March 2004 – Three Terps earn postseason honors, with Shay Doron leading the way earning third-team nods becoming the first rookie in school history to garner All-ACC honors.

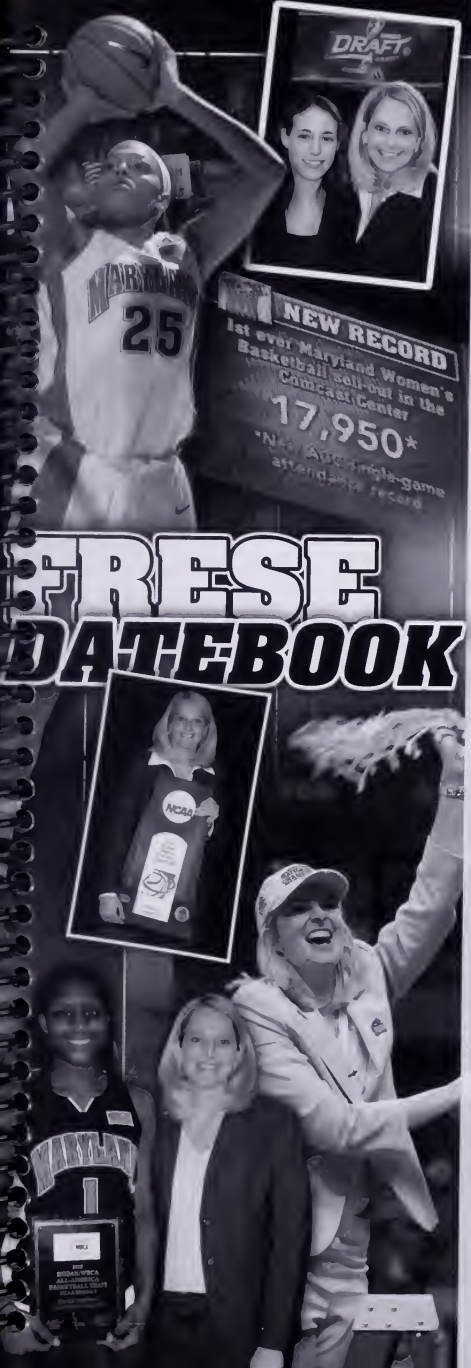
2004-05

Nov. 2004 – Maryland is ranked 23rd in the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today Coaches preseason poll, the team's first preseason ranking since 2002.
Dec. 6, 2004 – After opening the season with a 5-1 record, Maryland cracks the top 20 in the rankings for the first time in 11 years.
Jan. 9, 2005 – The Terps stun No. 5 North Carolina, defeating the Tar Heels, 92-77, for Maryland's first upset of a top five team since 1992.
Feb. 3, 2005 – Maryland's win over Georgia Tech is Frese's 100th-career victory as a head coach.
Feb. 12, 2005 – The Terps ask fans to "Cram Comcast" and they respond. 17,243 fans fill the stands to set the then-ACC single-game attendance record.
March 4, 2005 – Maryland wins its 20th game of the season, the first since 1992-93, defeating Clemson, 66-55, at the ACC Tournament.
March 5, 2005 – The Terps upset No. 19 NC State to advance to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament for the second year in a row.
March 20, 2005 – Maryland's win over UW-Green Bay in the first round of the NCAA Tournament is Frese's 50th as head coach of the Terrapins.
March 2005 – Crystal Langhorne is named the ACC's Rookie of the Year, the first to earn the honor since 1991. She is also a second team All-ACC selection, the highest honored rookie Terrapin in school history. Shay Doron garners first team all-conference nods, Kodak/WBCA All-Region honors and is a Kodak/WBCA Honorable Mention All-American.
April 2005 – The Terps end the season ranked 24th in the final poll, the first time they appear in the last poll of the season in 12 years.

2005-06

Nov. 26, 2005 – Stacked with a roster boasting six high school All-Americans and eight Gatorade Players of the Year, Frese's Terps nearly upset then-No. 1 Tennessee in the Virgin Islands.
Feb. 9, 2006 – Maryland hands the Tar Heels another stunning upset 89-63. Ashleigh Newman hits an improbable shot to force overtime.
March 4, 2006 – The Terps continue to shock the women's basketball world, defeating No. 2 Duke, 90-81, in the ACC Tournament, reaching the championship game for the first time since 1993.
March 2006 – Crystal Langhorne is named first team All-ACC, while Shay Doron and Marissa Coleman are second team selections. Coleman is also the second-straight Terrapin selected the ACC's Rookie of the Year.
March 13, 2006 – The NCAA Tournament bracket is announced and the Terps earn their highest seeding since 1993.
March 27, 2006 – Frese helps the Terps overcome a stomach flu, leading them to a 75-65 overtime win over Utah putting Maryland in the Final Four for the first time since 1989. Crystal Langhorne is selected the region's Most Outstanding Player.
April 2, 2006 – Facing a familiar foe, Maryland pulls off another upset, disposing of top-seed North Carolina to advance to the program's first-ever NCAA championship game.
April 4, 2006 – Maryland wins its first-ever National Championship, defeating top-seeded Duke, 78-75, in overtime. Freshman Kristi Toliver hits a game-tying three-pointer with seconds remaining in regulation to force the extra time.
April 4, 2006 – Sophomore Laura Harper is named Most Outstanding Player of the Final Four and Toliver is named to the all-tournament team.
April 2006 – Sophomore Crystal Langhorne is the first Terrapin in 17 years to be selected an All-American, earning the honor from the Associated Press and the USBWA.





2008-07

October 2006 – Five Terps are named Naismith Award preseason candidates, a first in the history of the honor. Four are named to the preseason WBCA Wade Watch list, also a first in the history of the award.

November 2006 – Returning all five starters from the championship team, Maryland receives its first-ever preseason No. 1 ranking and remains in that spot for 10 weeks.

Dec. 2, 2006 – Sophomore Marissa Coleman is the first Terrapin in school history to record a triple-double and the 11th in the history of the ACC.

Jan. 3, 2007 – The Terps handily defeat NC State, 80-61, in the ACC opener, giving Frese her 100th win as head coach of the Terrapins.

Jan. 10, 2007 – Maryland runs out to a school record 18-0 start, also breaking the school record for longest win-streak, winning 24-straight games with the victory over Miami, 111-53. It is the largest margin of victory in an ACC game for the Terps.

Jan. 28, 2007 – An ACC-record and sold out crowd of 17,950 fill Comcast Center to watch a rematch of the 2006 NCAA semifinals vs. North Carolina.

Feb. 18, 2007 – Terp fans tie the ACC attendance record, selling out the game, the third women's basketball sell out in school history and the second in Comcast Center. It also marks the final home game of seniors Shay Doron and Aurelie Noirez.

March 2, 2007 – Maryland avenges its loss to Georgia Tech, defeating the Yellow Jackets, 75-59, to advance to the ACC Tournament semifinals for the third-straight year.

March 2007 – Crystal Langhorne is a first team All-ACC pick for the second year in a row, while Coleman is named to the second team. Kristi Toliver garners all-conference nods for the first time and is named to the third team.

March 18, 2007 – Maryland is the No. 2 seed for the second-straight year and advances to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the fourth-straight year with a win over Harvard.

April 2006 – Crystal Langhorne is selected to the WBCA All-American team, the first to be honored by the organization since 1989. She is also named an All-American by the Associated Press and USBWA, the first Terp to earn multiple All-American honors in school history.

November 18, 2007 – The Terrapins win the Preseason WNIT Championship, defeating #4 LSU in the finals. Maryland beats Princeton, Delaware and #23 Notre Dame en route to the title game.

December 3, 2008 – Crystal Langhorne breaks the all-time rebounding record at Rutgers. She would go on to finish with over 1,000 for her career. Kristi Toliver also surpasses the 1,000-point mark, the third Terp this season to achieve the feat, making the Terrapins one of 12 known NCAA teams all-time with four active 1,000-point scorers.

January 18, 2008 – Langhorne breaks the all-time scoring record in a 74-62 victory at Virginia. She would go on to be the first Terp to score 2,000 points and the first with 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds.

February 17, 2008 – Frese gives birth to twin boys – Markus and Tyler. That evening the Terrapins defeat Duke at Cameron Indoor Stadium to claim the first regular-season sweep of the Blue Devils since 1992-93.

February 24, 2008 – Terrapins defeat Florida State, 92-84, in overtime for an NCAA-record 21st home victory of the season and the fifth undefeated home season in school history. Senior Crystal Langhorne has her jersey honored after the game. She is the first-ever Terp to have her jersey in the rafters while still active.

March 2, 2008 – Frese makes a surprise return to the sidelines, traveling to NC State to watch her Terps defeat the Wolfpack, the team's 13 ACC victory of the season, tying a school record.

March 4, 2008 – A school-record four Terrapins are named to the All-ACC team, with Langhorne and Toliver garnering first-team nods. Langhorne also becomes the first player in the history of the program to be named to the All-ACC squad four times.

March 5, 2008 – It took almost 20 years, but Langhorne becomes the second player in school history to be voted the ACC Player of the Year.

March 7, 2008 – The Terrapins win their 30th game of the year, defeating Boston College in the quarterfinals of the ACC Tournament. It is the second 30-win campaign in school history.

March 17, 2008 – With the announcement of the bracket for the 2008 NCAA Women's Basketball Championship, Maryland learns it is the number one seed in the Spokane Region, the second time in school history the Terps have been a top-seeded team and the first time under Frese.

March 23, 2008 – Frese wins her 200th-career game as the Terrapins defeat Coppin State at home, 80-66, in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, advancing to the second round for the fifth-straight year.

March 30, 2008 – With a dominating win over No. 20 Vanderbilt, Frese leads the Terrapins to the NCAA Elite Eight for the second time in three years. They would go on to fall to NCAA finalist Stanford.

April 5, 2008 – Langhorne and Toliver are named WBCA All-Americans, the first time since 1989 multiple Terrapins have garnered the award in the same year. They would be named All-Americans by the Associated Press, the USBWA and Sports Illustrated.

April 5, 2008 – It is announced that Toliver has been named the Nancy Lieberman Award winner, presented to the nation's top point guard. She is the first Terrapin to earn the honor. She would accept the award, presented by Lieberman, on April 23 at the Detroit Athletic Club.

April 6, 2008 –Langhorne and Laura Harper are the first two Terrapins to ever be drafted in the first round of the 2008 WNBA Draft.

The Terrapins travel all over the U.S. and the world, exploring new places and experiencing new cultures. Every student-athlete in the women's basketball program, during their four-year career, will take a trip overseas. In the past, Maryland has visited Paris, Prague, Austria, Budapest, the U.S. Virgin Islands and the Bahamas. Where are we going this year? Cancun, Mexico!

TRAVELING WITH TH

The family environment is what sets Maryland apart. Head coach Brenda Frese's number one goal is to provide each student-athlete with the most positive and diverse experience possible. She helps players find confidence within themselves so they are empowered to be the best student-athlete they can be. There are many fun and unique experiences off the court that enable the team to establish a special bond, camaraderie and friendships that last a lifetime.

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are some 127 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. As of 2007, 86 programs rank in the top 25 nationally and a school-record 31 programs were in the top 10 in the latest U.S. News & World Report undergraduate ranking of top public universities.

Specifically, the University of Maryland's Smith School of Business was ranked 21st, while the Clark School of Engineering was ranked 25th. In graduate school rankings, the College of Education, the Clark School of Engineering, the College of Information Studies and the College of Computer, Mathematical and Physical Sciences each had specialties listed among the top 25 in the nation.

NO BETTER

High-tech, engineering, and service industries thrive in close proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internships, work-study opportunities and career choices for students. And, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small-town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities.

There truly is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

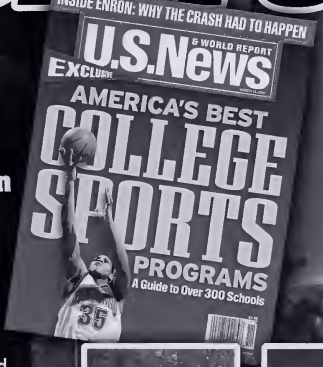
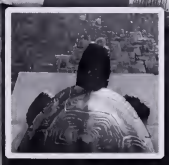
Terps Athletics Tops In Management, Innovation

The University of Maryland athletics department won the inaugural collegiate PRISM Award given by the the University of Massachusetts Department of Sports Management. The award honors demonstrated excellence and innovation in sports management of NCAA Division I-A and I-AA institutions.

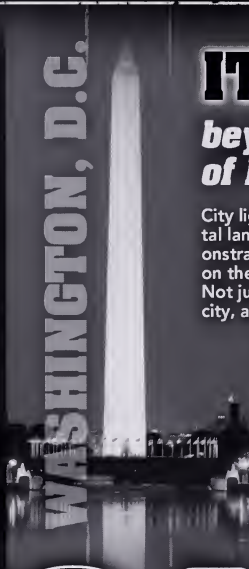




IT'S ALL HERE

beyond the University of Maryland campus.

City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.



SO MUCH

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of College Park. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttle buses serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

BALTIMORE

The 12th-largest city in the United States is often referred to as the "Charm City." Located just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland, its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports.

ANNAPOLIS

The state capital of Maryland lies just 30 miles east of the University of Maryland. Long called the "sailing capital of the United States," Annapolis is located at the mouth of the Severn River on the Chesapeake Bay. The historic downtown area is known for its wonderful eating and shopping opportunities. There are few places in the world that rival the Chesapeake Bay area for its appealing qualities.

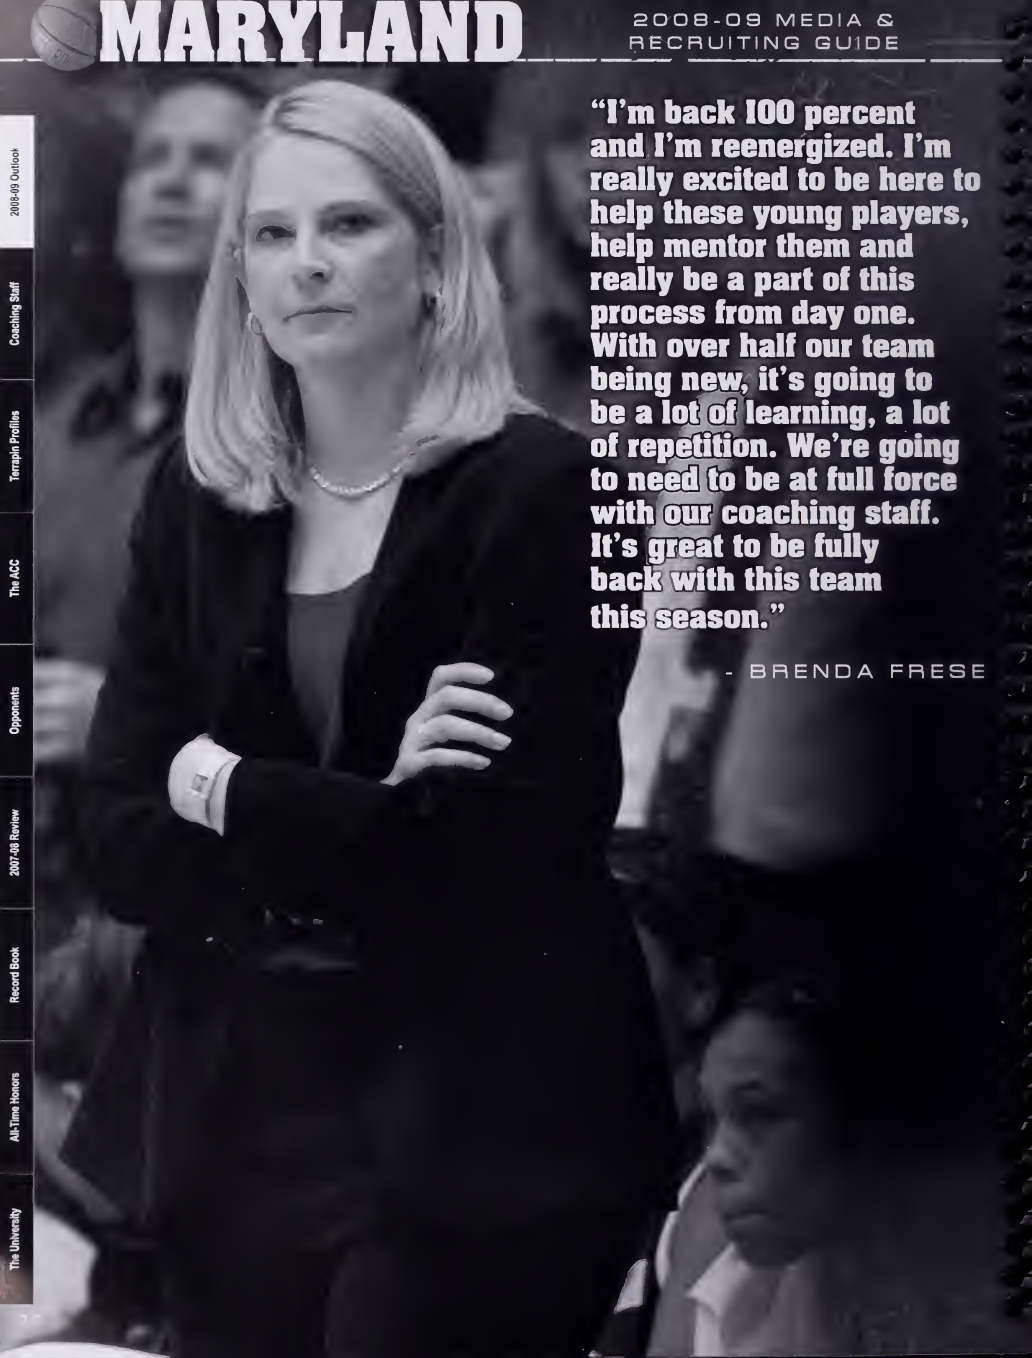
BASKETBALL



"I'm back 100 percent and I'm reenergized. I'm really excited to be here to help these young players, help mentor them and really be a part of this process from day one. With over half our team being new, it's going to be a lot of learning, a lot of repetition. We're going to need to be at full force with our coaching staff. It's great to be fully back with this team this season."

Season Outlook

TERRAPINS RELOAD FOR ANOTHER RUN AT AN NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP

Coming off a second 30-win season and trip to the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight in three years, expectations are once again high for the Maryland Terrapins this season. The Terps return two of the nation's top players in seniors Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver, and head coach Brenda Frese has once again brought in some of the nation's most talented players to College Park.

While the expectations have not changed, the team will look a lot different due to the loss of five seniors from last year's squad, the most impactful class in the history of the program. Gone is the dominant post presence brought by WNBA first-round picks Crystal Langhorne and Laura Harper, as well as, Jade Perry. Arriving on the scene is a young and talented group of posts who will be expected to make an immediate impact.

The leaders of the team, though, will be the senior guards whose introduction to the college basketball world led to a national title for the Terrapins in 2006. The talents of Coleman and Toliver are unquestioned, as both earned All-American honors last season. Coleman is a three-time All-ACC pick, while Toliver was the 2008 winner of the Nancy Lieberman Award, presented to the nation's top point guard, and was tabbed All-American by the Associated Press, Women's Basketball Coaches Association and United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA).

Now, the backcourt duo will have to adjust to their role as the senior leaders of the team. During their first three seasons, there was a core group they had deferred to, players who carried the team to national prominence while receiving a lion's share of the attention. As the upperclassmen and the most experienced members of the team, Coleman and Toliver will be the guiding force for the Terps.

But Coleman and Toliver will not be alone to carry the squad. Fellow senior Sa'de Wiley-Gatewood will be back on the court this season, after taking last year off to focus on getting healthy. Bringing a wealth of experience from nearly three years of high-level collegiate basketball, she should be able to adjust quickly to life back on the court. In addition, although just a sophomore, Marah Strickland was a constant key for the Terps last season. Surrounded by experienced talent which often left her the fifth option on the floor, Strickland nonetheless gave several glimpses of the impact she can have on the game, most notably in the NCAA Regional Tournament in Spokane, Wash.

The Terrapins also welcome back the talents of sophomores Drey Mingo and Emery Wallace, while resdhirt freshmen Anajlé Barrett and Kim Rodgers look to make their way back and finally get on the floor after both suffered knee injuries prior to last season.

"What can you say about Kristi that hasn't already been written? Earning the Nancy Lieberman Award and All-America honors last year, she is someone who we will look to this season to provide the leadership. Having been here three years, she knows our system, she knows what we want."

- Brenda Frese

Along with those returning players, Maryland will feature several fresh faces as they welcome in a talented crop of newcomers. The Terps welcome McDonald's All-American Lynetta Kizer and last year's WBCA National Junior College Player of the Year Demauria Liles. In addition, Lori Bjork joins the team after graduating from the University of Illinois in three years. She will sit out this season due to transfer rules as she begins her graduate-student career at Maryland this fall.

Also joining the Terrapins is Yemi Oyefuwa. Hailing from Great Britain, a 6-foot-6 center Oyefuwa has only been playing the game for two years, but she is a raw and untapped talent the coaching staff is looking forward to molding into a post presence.

At the helm of this new-look roster will be Brenda Frese, starting her seventh season as the head coach of the Terps. Frese, who missed parts of last season due to the pregnancy and birth of her twin sons, Markus and Tyler, is excited to get started with a full slate of games this year.

"I'm back 100 percent and I'm reenergized," she said. "I'm really excited to be here to help these young players, help mentor them and really be a part of this process from day one. With over half our team being new, it's going to be a lot of learning, a lot of repetition. We're going to need to be at full force with our coaching staff. It's great to be fully back with this team this season."

With a revamped roster and young talent in abundance, it should be an exciting season for Maryland. The integration of the experience of Coleman and Toliver with the potential of the newcomers will be key for the pair, who are looking to leave College Park the same way they arrived, as national champions.

Guards

For the first time in a long while, head coach Brenda Frese can look on the depth chart among the guards and explore numerous options. Maryland has lacked depth in previous seasons, but with six former high school All-Americans, what the Terps do not have in experience is more than made up for in talent.

Headlining the guards are senior Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver. Toliver has been a cog at the point guard position the last three years. Best known for her heroics in the 2006 National Championship game, she has emerged as the top point guard in the country last season. She has evolved into a complete player, being able to read the floor and recognizing what is needed from her in any given situation from night to night.

"What can you say about Kristi that hasn't already been written?" Frese commented. "Earning the Nancy Lieberman Award and All-America honors last year, she is someone who we will look to this season to provide the leadership. Having been here three years, she knows our system, she knows what we want. She will need to take on a greater role in terms of her leadership with these underclassmen, to guide this team and lead them in a way we want."

Coleman sealed the deal in the national championship game, sinking a pair of free throws in the final ticks to leave no doubt who was the champion that evening in 2006. While her talents are known, Coleman has been playing in the shadows of great players, and has been willing to do so, taking on the role asked of her on each night, whether it was scoring, rebounding or defending. One of the most versatile players in the country, Coleman is the only player in school history to post a triple-double and one of just three players in ACC history to have 1,500 points, 800 rebounds, 300 assists and 100 blocks. She is an opponent's "nightmare," as Oklahoma head coach Sherri Coale put it last year, because of her versatility. This year, opponents and the media, alike, will take notice of Coleman. She can do it all, shoot, slash, rebound, dish and defend.

"I do believe this is going to be Marissa's breakout season," Frese predicted. "Marissa has been the unsung hero on this team for three years. She has sacrificed points, rebounds and minutes for the chemistry of this team. That's what I think is so exciting for her in her senior year. She's going to be a go-to player. She has that ability. She can take over a game at whatever point when she wants. The thing for her will be consistently putting this team on her back and understanding what is expected and required of her this season. I know she's ready for the challenge."

Perhaps the biggest task ahead of these veterans will be their roles as leaders. Taking example from the great leaders before them who have led the Terrapins to four of the most successful years in the program's history, the heralded freshmen of the 2006 title team now assume the role of mentors for a crops of exciting young guards on the Maryland roster.

Sophomore Marah Strickland displayed some of her eye-catching ability last season when she started 36 of the team's 37 contests as a freshman. She immediately became one of the team's top outside scoring options, converting on more than 40 percent of her three-point attempts and averaging 8.5 ppg.

"Marah had a tremendous freshman campaign," Frese said. "She really understood her role. I thought she was selfless in that role, in terms of understanding at times she was going to be the fifth option. But she remained hungry within that option, taking what the defense would give her. Going into her sophomore season, she's going to be taking on a much bigger role."

Also playing a much larger role will be Anjalé Barrett, Kim Rodgers and Sa'de Wiley-Gatewood, all of whom missed last season due to injury.

Wiley-Gatewood, a Parade High School National Player of the Year as a high school senior, is looking forward to being able to complete her first full collegiate season after missing parts previous seasons due to injury or NCAA transfer rules.

"We feel really good about Sa'de. This is the best she's felt with her knees after taking that time to become fully rested and healed," said Frese. "We all know what she's capable of doing. Sa'de brings versatility to this team. She brings strength, a 1-2 guard that is really going to break people down off the dribble and help players get open shots."

For redshirt freshmen Barrett and Rodgers, also All-Americans out of high school, waiting for an opportunity to step on the court for the Terps has them excited to start the new season.

"Anjalé was an exciting player out of high school," Frese remembered. "She can be an extremely quick, penetrating point guard. She can run a team and likes to be up-tempo. The thing that makes her harder to guard is she's a lefty that can break people down and be able to score off the dribble."

"Kim is another talented player we recruited out of high school," said the head coach. "She's a very talented scorer and rebounder. I see Kim being able to stretch the defense

"I do believe this is going to be Marissa's breakout season. Marissa has been the unsung hero on this team for three years. She has sacrificed points, rebounds and minutes for the chemistry of this team. That's what I think is so exciting for her in her senior year. She's going to be a go-to player. She has that ability. She can take over a game at whatever point when she wants."

Posts

Anchored by reliable veterans Kristi Toliver and Marissa Coleman at the guard positions, the Terrapins do not have the same luxury of experience on the interior. With the graduation of Crystal Langhorne, the program's all-time leading scorer and rebounder, and 2006 Final Four Most Outstanding Player Laura Harper, Maryland fans will see several new faces in the frontcourt this season.

One of the most versatile players in the country, Coleman can play the 1-4 and will see time down low. Not only will her shooting be a major factor, but her rebounding prowess will be even more important this season with the losses to the posts.

Sophomore Drey Mingo, who saw time in 30 games last season, including all four of the Terrapins' contests in the NCAA Tournament, steps in as the team's most experienced option down low. That experience learning from the two recently-graduated, WNBA draft picks is something that has the Maryland coaching staff excited about Mingo's future.

"Drey gained a wealth of experience, not only in games last year, but in practice," Frese said. "To be battling two future WNBA picks, Drey has the advantage. She's long, she's athletic, she can face up and she can shoot the three. She's someone we're expecting big things from."

Expected to see a lot of time alongside Mingo in the frontcourt is freshman Lynetta Kizer. Out of Potomac High School in Virginia, Kizer won a gold medal at the FIBA U18 World Championship in Argentina this summer as a member of the US U18 National Team. A McDonald's and WBCA All-American, the 6-4 Kizer will likely step into the center position right away.

"Playing with USA was invaluable for Lynetta," Frese said. "She got a jump start on what it's like to play at the highest level. The practices are run by Division I head coaches and the demands and expectations are high. So it really increased her learning curve early, in terms of what those expectations at practice and games are going to be like here at Maryland."

"Drey gained a wealth of experience, not only in games last year, but in practice. To be battling two future WNBA picks, Drey has the advantage. She's long, she's athletic, she can face up and she can shoot the three. She's someone we're expecting big things from."

- Brenda Frese

Along with recruiting some of the top high school talent in the nation, the Terrapins will welcome Demauria Liles, the WBCA National Junior College Player of the Year last year out of Gulf Coast Community College. Liles, who Frese describes as a "big-time slasher," will be expected to defend multiple positions, something that will be aided by her impressive quickness.

"The biggest thing for Dee will be the transition from junior college to college," Frese explained. "She will need to make that transition in the classroom and be able to handle everything that's expected at a prominent institution like Maryland."

Returning for the Terps will be sophomore Emery Wallace, who saw time in 12 games last season after redshirting due to injury during her first year in College Park. Wallace has impressed the coaching staff with her dedication and determination despite injury.

"Emery has still, to her credit, shown a lot coming off so many knee injuries," Frese commented. "We're really impressed with her courage and her energy. She's a selfless player. She's completely about this team. She brings great energy to what this team needs every single day for practice and preparation."

"We have a lot of NCAA Tournament teams on our schedule this year. Those are the kind of teams and the kind of games that are going to get you prepared for the ACC slate and the postseason."

- Brenda Frese

Another new addition to the Maryland program will be Yemi Oyefuwa, a 6-6 center out of Great Britain. Having only played the game for two years, Frese expects Oyefuwa to be "someone who is really raw and is going to have a huge learning curve. The exciting thing is, she will work hard. She brings another great dimension with her size. She will provide a lot of depth for us this season."

Also joining the team this season will be Lori Bjork, a transfer who earned All-Big Ten honors while graduating in three years from the University of Illinois. She will sit out this season before hitting the hardwood for Maryland in 2009-10, but her work ethic in practice and big game experience could prove invaluable to a young Terrapin frontcourt.

Schedule

Last season, Maryland faced one of the toughest schedules in the nation right out of the gate, playing 17 games before the calendar turned to 2008, including five against ranked opponents and a trip to California.

This season, things calm down a little for the Terps, as only 13 games are on the 2008 docket. Still, the team is looking forward to some strong competition in 2008-09 as 17 teams advanced to the postseason last year, including 10 NCAA Tournament teams.

"We have a lot of NCAA Tournament teams on our schedule this year," Frese said of the season slate. "Those are the kind of teams and the kind of games that are going to get you prepared for the ACC slate and the postseason."

The Terrapins open on the road for the fourth time in five years as they travel to Fort Worth, Texas, to take on TCU on Nov. 14. The two teams have only met once before, as the Terps downed the Horned Frogs 82-64 in College Park on Nov. 17, 2006.

"To start on the road at TCU will be a difficult opponent for our young team to start out," Frese said. "They need to understand and learn early on the mentality that's expected."

The home opener will take place two days later as Maryland welcomes Delaware State into Comcast Center. The game kicks off a three-game home stand, including return games with James Madison on Nov. 20 and UCLA on Nov. 23. Both teams gave the Terps fits on the road last season, but Maryland was able to come away with two victories, defeating JMU, 71-65 and UCLA, 79-75.

After squaring off with the Bruins, the Terrapins leave the confines of home for over a month, not returning until the Terrapin Classic on Dec. 29-30.

Maryland travels to Cancun, Mexico over the Thanksgiving holiday to take part in the Cancun Caribbean Challenge. It sounds like a trip to paradise but the Terrapins will be all business facing South Dakota State, Montana and Illinois, all teams that advanced to the postseason last year, in a round robin event, from Nov. 26-28.

The Terps will make it two in a row against Big Ten foes when they travel to West Lafayette, Ind., to take on conference champion Purdue in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge on Dec. 4. The two illustrious programs have not met since Mar. 14, 1997, when the Boilermakers defeated Maryland 74-48 in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. It will be a hostile environment, as Purdue consistently ranks in the top 10 in attendance each year.

The road swing does not get any easier as the Terps travel to Pittsburgh, an NCAA Tournament squad, on Dec. 7. Last season, the Terps claimed a 90-77 victory over Pitt in College Park.

For the second time in three seasons, Maryland travels to nearby Baltimore to take on Loyola on Dec. 9. The last time Maryland traveled to Reitz Arena, they rolled to a 110-55 victory on Dec. 21, 2006, in front of a packed arena of mostly Terrapin fans.

A trip to Norfolk, Va. to take on Old Dominion on Dec. 21 completes the road trip for the Terps. The two powers of the women's game have not met since Dec. 8, 1993, when Maryland claimed a 77-61 win in Norfolk. ODU is looking to make more headlines after upsetting the ACC's Virginia last year to advance to the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen.

After changing to a three-day format last season, the Terrapin Classic returns to its four-team, two-day set up this year. The Terps play UNC Asheville on Dec. 29 and will follow that up with either Mississippi State or Marshall on Dec. 30.

"Going to Cancun for three days gets you prepared for the ACC and NCAA tournaments," Frese said of the early-season schedule. "Facing a tough team like Purdue in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge on their home court with a raucous crowd will be a tremendous environment to prepare us for when we go down and play our ACC opponents on the road. That's what the non-conference schedule is based around. Our veterans are going to have lead us early. Our young players are going to have to gain a wealth of experience early and often and get them prepared for the ACC schedule."

After a short road trip after the turn of the calendar on Jan. 3 to Richmond, the ACC season begins on Jan. 8 when Wake Forest visits Comcast Center. The Terrapins' first road test in conference will be a big one, coming against Duke at Cameron Indoor Stadium on Jan. 12. The contest will be aired on ESPN2, one of 10 television games for the Terps.

"To have 10 TV games says a lot in terms of how much our conference works to put ACC teams out there," Frese said. "It is exciting for this team and this program to have three ESPN2 exposures and the Big Monday game with Duke."

After traveling to Clemson on Jan. 15, the Terps come home for games with Virginia Tech (Jan. 18) and North Carolina (Jan. 25).

Sa'de Wiley-Gatewood

Three of the next four games will be on the road, with a home game against NC State (Feb. 5), sandwiched between road trips to Virginia (Jan. 30), Florida State (Feb. 2) and Boston College (Feb. 9).

After returning home to take on the Cavaliers on Feb. 12, the Terps will welcome in Rutgers for their final non-conference tune up of the season. The Scarlet Knights, who handed the Terps their first loss last season by a 68-60 count in Piscataway, N.J., will visit Comcast Center in the midst of "February Frenzy" on ESPN2.

The Terps conclude the regular season with trips to Georgia Tech (Feb. 19), who has taken Maryland down to the wire the last several years, and Miami (Mar. 1) and home games against Duke (Feb. 22) and Boston College (Feb. 27). The final two regular season games on the slate will be televised, with the game against the Blue Devils being televised nationally on Fox Sports Net (Comcast SportsNet in the Baltimore/Washington, D.C. area), while the BC game will be a regional telecast.

The first team to win eight conference titles, tying for the most ACC Tournament crowns all-time, the Terps will kick off their attempt for a ninth and first since 1989, Mar. 5-8 in Greensboro, N.C.

For a second-straight year and third time in six years, College Park will play host to the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament, Mar. 22 and 24. If Maryland gets invited to the Big Dance, it is guaranteed to play its first and second round games in Comcast Center. Should the Terps advance, the regional championships begin Mar. 28 with the 2009 NCAA Tournament concluding at the Final Four in St. Louis, Mo., April 5 and 7.

Preseason Notebook

Early Polls Have Terps In Top Five

Athlon's Magazine was among the first preseason polls published and the Terrapins were among the mix of top teams in the nation. On the strength of two potential All-Americans returning for the 2008-9 campaign, Maryland was tabbed No. 6 overall in the ranking.

The Terps were just behind Duke, who holds the No. 5 position in the ranking, while three other ACC squads were also in the top 25 poll, including No. 12 North Carolina, No. 18 Virginia and No. 20 Florida State.

Coleman, Toliver Candidates for Wade Trophy

Women's Basketball Coaches Association

Seniors Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver were two of 25 players named to the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's (WBCA) "Wade Watch" list for the State Farm Wade Trophy, presented to the Division I national player of the year. It is the third-straight year both players have been named to the preseason list.

For the fourth-consecutive year, Maryland has placed at least two candidates on the Wade Watch list. The Terps were one of only six teams with multiple candidates this year. Toliver was the 2008 Nancy Lieberman Award winner and an Associated Press, WBCA and USBWA All-American, while Coleman was selected an All-American by Sports Illustrated.

The 2009 State Farm Wade Trophy winner, presented to the national player of the year, will be announced at the WBCA's National Convention held in conjunction with the NCAA Final Four.

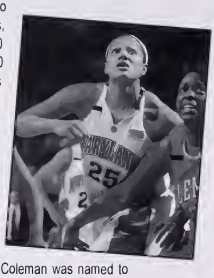
Toliver's Helping Hand Nearing Record

After a year of breaking numerous records and reaching milestones, the Terps are not done just yet despite the new season. Nancy Lieberman Award winner and All-American Kristi Toliver needs just three assists to break the program's all-time record set by Debbie Lytle from 1980-83. Lytle handed out 583 assists during her tenure in College Park

In 2006-07, Toliver had 275 assists, breaking the ACC's single-season record which had stood for 30 years.

Coleman Among Elite Company

One of the most versatile players in the country, Marissa Coleman is among elite company as one of only three players in ACC history to record 1,500 points, 800 rebounds, 300 assists and 100 blocks. She joins Duke's Alana Beard and Icis Tillis, both former All-Americans, as the only players in league history to reach those benchmarks.



A three-time All-ACC selection, Coleman was named to the Preseason Wade Watch List and ranked in the top 15 in seven different statistical categories in the ACC. Coleman needs 200 boards to become the first-ever player in the league to reach the benchmarks of 1,500 points, 1,000 rebounds, 300 assists and 100 blocks.

Joining the Terrapins...

Maryland welcomes four new faces to the squad this season – freshmen Lynetta Kizer and Yemi Oyefuwa, and transfers Demauria Liles and Lori Bjork.

Kizer brings with her an impressive resume, which includes high school All-America honors from McDonald's, the WBCA and Parade magazine. Liles was the 2008 WBCA CC/JC Player of the Year after leading Gulf Coast Community College to a national championship. Oyefuwa hails from across the ocean, London, England. She played in the Under-20 European Championships this summer and brings incredible height standing at 6-foot-6. A graduate student, Bjork has a wealth of experience at the collegiate level, playing three seasons at the University of Illinois. An All-Big Ten pick, she will not play in 2008-09 due to NCAA transfer rules, but the Terps will look forward to her sharp shooting from beyond the three-point line.

Frese Signs Sixth-Straight Nationally Ranked Class

A workhorse on the recruiting trail, head coach Brenda Frese continues to bring to College Park some of the top talents in the nation. With the signing of Lynetta Kizer and Demauria Liles in 2008, it marked the sixth-straight year the Terrapins have signed a top-10 recruiting class. Add to that, transfer Lori Bjork and Yemi Oyefuwa, Maryland looks forward to added depth and talent to an already strong class.

Terps Launch Website

The Maryland women's basketball program launched www.MarylandWomensBasektball.com this fall. The new, comprehensive website details everything that fans, family, alumni and potential recruits would want to know about the Terps.

Maryland on the Tube

When Maryland unveiled its tough schedule late this summer, it also revealed the Terps will be making at least nine television appearances in 2008-09, including five on national television, three of which are on ESPN2 televised contests.

The Terrapins make their first TV appearance when traveling to West Lafayette, Ind., for the second-annual ACC/Big Ten Challenge against Purdue. The game will be televised nationally on the Big Ten Network. Other nationally televised contests include a Jan. 12 clash at Duke and a Jan. 25 match with North Carolina, both on ESPN2. Rutgers visits Comcast Center on Feb. 15 and will also be on ESPN2. The Terps will be on Fox Sports Net and its affiliates across the country when they host the Blue Devils on Feb. 22.

The ACC's Regional Sports Network (RSN) will televise Maryland's games on Jan. 18 (Virginia Tech), Jan. 30 (at Virginia), Feb. 9 (at Boston College) and on Feb. 27 (Boston College).

Selected first and second round games of the ACC Tournament will be televised on the Regional Sport Network, while the semifinals and championship games will be on Fox Sports Net.

The NCAA Tournament is televised on ESPN and ESPN2.

Going Under the Shell Again

As the Terrapins prepare for the 2008-09 campaign, Maryland's Under the Shell is recording the team's every move looking for compelling stories which will be tracked throughout the season. The 13-episode, behind-the-scenes, all-access television show featuring the Maryland women's basketball team is back for its fifth season. Last year, fans were able to follow head coach Brenda Frese while she went through the pregnancy, then birth, of her twins; the reaction of the players when they heard the news of the new baby boys; while, on the court, the Terrapins broke records and reached numerous milestones.

2002 AP COACH OF THE YEAR

There was no better fit for the University of Maryland women's basketball program than head coach Brenda Frese. The 2002 Associated Press National Coach of the Year arrived in College Park with great expectations and has not disappointed. Reviving a once-prominent women's basketball program back to the national stage, her high work rate and positive attitude has resulted in six-straight top-10 recruiting classes and a National Championship in 2006.

Frese has balanced that strong work ethic with a fun and family-friendly environment, also becoming a wife and a mother of twin boys, giving birth to them in the midst of one of the most successful seasons in the progam's history. With the birth of her twins in February, she becomes one of only six coaches to win a national championship and be a parent.

SIX-STRAIGHT TOP 10 RECRUITING CLASSES

NO. 10	NO. 2	NO. 4	NO. 7	NO. 2	NO. 10

Since her first season at the helm when the team won just 10 games, Frese has guided Maryland to a National Championship in 2006, five winning seasons, four-straight 20-win seasons, including two 30-win campaigns, and five-consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament. In 2006-07, Maryland also received its first-ever No. 1 preseason national ranking, remaining in the top spot in the polls for 10-consecutive weeks.

"This has been an incredible journey and winning the national championship in 2006 was just the beginning," said Frese. "My coaching staff and I had the belief we could win a national championship here at Maryland. With all the administrative support, the first-class facilities – we knew we could build something great. We did not set any timetables, but what we have achieved so far ... it's beyond expectations."

Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow courted the 2002 Associated Press National Coach of the Year because of Frese's reputation for making amazing turnarounds and her relentless work ethic with recruiting. Described as dynamic, overachieving, determined and enthusiastic, the 38-year old coach is one of college basketball's rising stars. Standing atop the podium in Boston in 2006, Frese became the fifth-youngest coach at age 35 in NCAA history to win a national title and only the ninth to win in her first trip to the Final Four.

Despite claiming eight ACC Tournament titles, Maryland's program advanced to new heights when Frese arrived. In her second season, she led Maryland to a tie for third in the ACC standings, its highest finish since 1996-97, and has placed in the top three in the conference in four of the last five seasons, including two second-place showings, the last coming in 2007-08. That year, the Terrapins also earned their highest ACC Tournament seeding in 15 years, winning a school record-tying 13 league games.

Frese has built the team's success around recruiting, hard work and a positive atmosphere. The instant she arrived on campus, she has determinedly worked the recruiting trails in an effort to reclaim the elite status Maryland once had in the 1980s. Success came quickly and early. Before she even coached a game in the newly-constructed Comcast Center, she received committments from a pair of high school All-Americans, including Shay Doron, who went on to become a three-time All-ACC pick and a WNBA Draft selection. In all, 13 high school All-Americans would don a Maryland uniform under Frese's reign.

All six of Frese's recruiting classes have been ranked in the top 10, while three have been rated in the top five. The landmark signings of Crystal Langhorne, Laura Harper, Jade Perry and Ashleigh Newman were rated No. 2 in the country, while the class of Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver was ranked No. 4, the core of the Terps' national championship team. Her 2007 batch of Terrapins included four high school All-Americans and a No. 2 national ranking.

Frese's recruiting classes have lived up to their billing and her pupils have earned numerous accolades. The first Terp in 17 years to garner All-American nods in 2006, Crystal Langhorne was a three-time Associated Press (AP) and United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) All-American, the program's first multiple All-American. She was selected a WBCA All-American in 2007, the first in school history since 1989, and then again received the accolade in 2008. Another Terp, Kristi Toliver, would go on to be selected a WBCA, AP and USBWA All-American in 2008, the fifth player in Maryland women's basketball history to earn the national status.

Frese's players have also received numerous ACC honors. In her last season, Langhorne was selected the ACC's Player of the Year, only the second Terrapin all-time to receive the honor and the first in nearly 20 years. She was the program's first ACC Rookie of the Year since 1991 in 2005, and following in her footsteps, Marissa Coleman also nabbed the honor during the Terps' championship campaign in 2006.

In all, 16 Terps have received All-ACC citations in Frese's six years, including a school-record four in 2008 when Langhorne, Coleman, Kristi Toliver and Laura Harper were selected. Four Terps have been first team selections five times. Langhorne became Maryland's first three-time first team all-conference selection and the first to be named to the All-ACC team four times . Shay Doron, Frese's first Maryland recruit in College Park, and Coleman were two of four Terrapins all-time to be selected all-conference honors three times. Doron was the first freshman in school history to be named All-ACC in 2004. Langhorne was the highest-honored freshman in the program, garnering second team honors in 2005. Seven of Frese's players have also been named to the ACC All-Freshman team.

Several Terps have also garnered national recognition under Frese. Toliver became the first Terrapin to earn the highest point guard honor in the country, winning the Nancy Leiberman Award in 2008, after being a finalist in the previous year. Several have earned spots on national player of the year candidate lists, making history in the fall of 2006. That year, for the first time ever, four players from the same team were selected preseason candidates for the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's (WBCA) prestigious Wade Trophy when Doron, Coleman, Langhorne and Toliver were put on the Watch List. All five starters were tabbed preseason honorees for the Naismith Award, also a first in the history of the award.

Frese has seen success on her three stops in nine seasons as a head coach. Making amazing turnarounds her calling card, she captured her 200th-career victory in 2008 in the first round of the NCAA Tournament and boasts a 202-85 record (.704), posting eight winning seasons in all and two 30-win campaigns. She has led her teams to six NCAA Tournament appearances. Her Maryland squads have posted a 145-55 mark in six years (.725), advancing to at least the second round of the tournament in each of the last five seasons, including two Elite Eight showings in two of the last three years.

Maryland has rewritten several records over the last six seasons. In 2007-08, the Terps became the first team in NCAA history to have four active players with at least 1,000 points on the same roster. That year, school records were broken for most home wins (21), which is also believed to be an NCAA record. The team opened the 2006-07 campaign winning 18-straight games, setting the program record for best start to a season. In 2005-06, the team's 34 wins were a school record, shattering the previous mark. The championship squad also set new standards for highest road winning percentage (.900), points (3,166), field goal attempts (2,363), three-point field goals (216), three-point attempts (540), free throws (690), free throw attempts (924), team free throw percentage (.747), rebounds (1,720) and blocked shots (195). Numerous individual records have also fallen since her recruits began donning a Terrapin uniform. Among the most notable are the career scoring and rebounding records, which Langhorne shattered, becoming the first-ever Terrapin to score 2,000 points and to grab 1,000 rebounds.

"Under the leadership of Coach Frese, we have made extraordinary progress in the last six years. Her passion for the well being of her student-athletes, her determination to win and her obvious joy in leading the Terps team is a powerful combination. There is no program in the nation better positioned to succeed in the next decade. The 2006 National Championship is only the beginning for our young Terps."

In the last three years, Maryland has been crowned the statistical champion six times. The Terrapins posted the best rebounding margin in 2006 (+11.9) and 2007 (+14.3). Also in 2006, the Terps shot 40.0 percent from three-point range, tops in the country, while winning the most games of any team that year (34). In 2007, the team's 18.3 assists-per-game average was also the best in the country, and in 2008, Maryland had the best shooting accuracy at 49.5 percent.

Maryland has been one of the most prolific scoring teams in the nation over the last three years, ranking No. 2 in scoring average in 2006, 2007 and 2008. It has also ranked in the top 15 in the nation in scoring margin, field goal percentage and blocked shots during that three-year span.

Maryland's rise into the upper-echelon of, not only the ACC, but in the country, has bolstered the excitement surrounding the team. Over the last five years, the program has ranked in the top 25 in the nation in attendance, including top-10 rankings the last two seasons. In 2007, Maryland recorded the largest one-season improvement in home attendance, averaging 9,533 fans in 16 games, almost double the average from the previous season (4,183). More than 150,000 people made their way through the Comcast Center turnstiles, a school-record. By seasons' end, the Terps were sixth in the nation in average attendance, also placing fourth in overall attendance, as 241,280 spectators filled the stands at home and on the road to watch the Terps play in 34 games. In 2008, Maryland hosted over 160,000 fans in 21 games and was ranked eighth in the nation in average attendance that year.

One of the highlights of the 2006-07 campaign was the announcement of two sell-out games in Comcast Center, the first- and second-ever in the young facility. The stands were filled to capacity when the Terps hosted North Carolina on Jan. 28, 2007, breaking the ACC's single-game record, the first women's basketball sold-out game since 1992. The record was matched in the regular-season finale on Feb. 18, 2007, when Duke came to College Park.

Maryland owns nine of the conference's top 10 attendances all-time, eight coming since Frese has roamed the sidelines. Leading the ACC in attendance the last two years, the Terps have drawn 10,000+ crowds 14 times in the last six years, including two sellouts of 17,950.

In the classroom, the Terps have also been all-star students. Fifteen of Frese's Terps have been named to the ACC Honor Roll, while Shay Doron and Crystal Langhorne have received Academic All-American nods by ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA.

"I knew she would do a good job [at Maryland] but to do it this fast, it's really unbelievable. It's like, 'Where did Maryland come from?' Now, they're a force to be reckoned with. It's amazing what's she's done in a short time. She's a great motivator, she gets her players to run up and down the court, and, in talking to some of them, it's just a positive feeling and that's why she's getting some of the [top] kids."

- ESPN Basketball Analyst Pam Ward

2005-06: A Special Season

The 2005-06 season was primed to be a successful year. With two freshmen, two sophomores and a junior in the starting lineup, Maryland's chances to contend for a national title were projected to be a year away according to the experts. But after a near upset of then-No. 1 Tennessee early in the season, the young Terrapins were filled with confidence and looked primed to make a statement.

Stacked with six former high school All-Americans on the roster, the Terrapins were ranked in the preseason poll for the second-straight year, breaking the top 10 in November for the first time since 1993. Maryland climbed to as high as No. 4 in the national polls until its regular-season meeting with then-No. 1 North Carolina on Feb. 9. Considered the underdogs throughout the season, the Terrapins went into a packed Carmichael Auditorium and stunned the Carolina fans, handing the Tar Heels their first loss of the season in overtime, 98-95.

That evening, Frese uttered, "Our program took a step forward tonight."

It certainly had. Inching up to No. 3 in the polls, the first top-three ranking in 13 years, the Terrapins remained there until winning the national championship and becoming the undisputed No. 1 team in the nation, earning the top spot in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll for the first time in school history.

The Terps overcame numerous hurdles en route to being crowned national champions. Playing in the toughest conference in the nation, Maryland's 12-2 record was good enough to tie for second in the ACC standings, the best finish since 1993 and the most conference wins since that same year. Ranked in the top three and logging wins over five ranked opponents heading into the ACC Tournament, the Terrapins faced a tough Duke opponent in the ACC Tournament semifinals while also facing a 14-game losing streak to the Blue Devils. The Terps broke that streak, toppling the second-ranked Blue Devils, earning a spot in the championship game for the first time in 13 years.

Maryland earned its highest NCAA seed in 14 years, garnering the No. 2 seed in the Albuquerque Regional, improving its seeding for the third-straight year. Reaching the Sweet Sixteen for the first time since 1992, the Terrapins easily knocked off defending champion Baylor. In the Elite Eight, playing for a chance to reach the Final Four for the first time in Frese's career and the program's first since 1989, the team was struck with a stomach flu, affecting nearly half the players and staff. Despite their struggles, Frese, who had also come down with the sickness, rallied her troops. A hard-fought game to the end, the contest was forced into overtime against a well-coached Utah squad.

Riding a wave of confidence, the outcome would be the same for the fifth time that season, as Maryland punched its ticket to Boston.

In Boston, Maryland faced familiar foes. For the first time in the history of the NCAA three teams from the same conference had reached the Final Four and the Terps had overall top-seed North Carolina as their first challenger. The Terrapins pulled away from UNC, 81-70, knocking off the No. 1 team in the nation for the second time of the season, with No. 1-seeded Duke on the horizon. The Terps were the only team in the country to beat the Heels and was the first time in school history they had beaten the No. 1 team in the nation twice in the same year.

In the championship game, Maryland found itself down 13 points in the second half. It looked like the same story in 14 of the previous 15 meetings between the teams, but the young Terrapins fought back in the final 15 minutes, overcoming the second-largest deficit in finals history. Toliver hit one of the biggest shots in tournament history, a three-pointer over Duke's 6-7 center Alison Bales, sending the game into overtime. And the Terrapins knew they had the game already won.

After claiming the 78-75 victory, with five players in double figures, sophomore Laura Harper, who missed two-thirds of the previous season because of an Achilles' tendon tear, was voted the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, while Toliver was named to the all-tournament team.

Maryland's 34 victories were the most in the country and the most in school history. Its four loses were to teams ranked No. 1 at some point during the season. Playing the season with "seven starters," the second-ranked offense in the nation had numerous weapons as five players on the team averaged double figures. Langhorne was an AP and USBWA All-American, while earning first team All-ACC honors. Coleman, who tied Langhorne's school record of five ACC Rookie of the Week selections, was the conference's Rookie of the Year. She was also the only conference freshman to be named All-ACC, earning a spot on the second team, along with Doron.

The most astonishing aspect of the season was the Terrapins' perfect record in a school-record six overtime games, none of which were at home. Maryland rode the mantra "Overtime is Our Time" into the final game of the season, capturing the program's first national title in overtime.

Laying the Foundation

Despite a roster with eight freshmen and sophomores in Frese's third season, Maryland was picked to finish third in the 2004 ACC Preseason Media Poll, with two Terrapins earning preseason honors, including Langhorne, who was selected Preseason Rookie of the Year, the first Terrapin to ever receive the recognition since the polling began in 1991. Frese's young Terps garnered a top 25 ranking in both the AP and ESPN/Coaches poll, rising to as high as No. 15 during the regular season, the team's highest ranking since 1993. Their 22-10 record that year was the team's first 20-win season in over a decade. On Jan. 9, 2005, the Terrapins recorded one of the biggest wins in school history in over a decade, upsetting No. 5/4 North Carolina at Comcast Center.

The Terrapins advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight year and were ranked No. 24 in the season's final Coaches poll, the first time the Terps had appeared in the final rankings since 1992-93.

Doron was selected Kodak/WBCA Region II All-American, the first Terrapin to earn the honor since 1993, and was also tabbed a first team All-ACC performer. 2005 was also the first in time 14 years a Terp was voted the ACC's Rookie of the Year when Langhorne earned the honor and was also voted second team All-ACC.

In 2003-04, just her second season at the Terrapin helm, Frese took Maryland to an unexpected run to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and the program's first tournament victory in 12 years.

In what was supposed to be the second year of the rebuilding process, Frese instilled confidence into a Maryland squad that went 4-12 in ACC play the season before and was depending on players with limited experience, including two-highly touted recruits in Doron and Kalika France. The Terrapins surprised all prognosticators, placing in a tie for third after being picked eighth in a preseason poll. Maryland went 18-13 on the season, its first winning season in four years. In ACC play, the Terps posted an 8-8 mark, doubling their conference win total from each of the previous two seasons and their best showing in the standings since the 1996-97 campaign. Collecting 18 wins overall, the most since 1996-97, Maryland was rewarded with an NCAA Tournament bid, the first time since 2000-01, and was the only 12th seed to advance to the second round.

The long list of accomplishments that season included reaching the ACC semifinals for the first time since 1998, averaging a 12.3 margin of victory in conference games and sweeping Wake Forest and Clemson, its first sweep of any ACC squad in three years.

Frese's first season at the Terps' helm was the rebuilding year it was predicted to be. With a roster short on depth but high on effort, she led Maryland to a 10-18 record, narrowly missing wins at several junctures. Frese's Terps also notched several positive steps in her first year including: breaking 100 points in a game for the first time since Dec. 28, 1993, winning their first ACC road game since Feb. 19, 2001, drawing a crowd of 5,078 - at the time the largest at a Maryland women's basketball game since Feb. 24, 1996, and bringing home their first win from Florida State since the 1995-96 campaign.

"I think this is a great hire for the University of Maryland. Brenda will do a great job of continuing the great tradition of Maryland basketball. She is outstanding in all areas needed to lead a program to national prominence. She is hard working and extremely organized. She knows what it takes to find players who can succeed at this level."

— Iowa State Head Coach Bill Fennelly

University President C.D. Mote, Jr. congratulating Coach Frese after winning the NCAA title

"I think the University of Maryland made a good choice in hiring Brenda. She is obviously an up-and-coming coach and she did a great job at the University of Minnesota while she was there. She worked for me so I feel I know her a little better than some other people. I think she will do a great job there, I think it was a good hire and I think that five years down the road, the University of Maryland will have a very good team on their hands."

— Kent State Head Coach Bob Lindsay

Learning the Ropes

One of college basketball's rising stars, Frese fits with Maryland's legacy of success. At Minnesota, she earned AP National Coach of the Year honors as well as Big Ten Coach of the Year recognition for turning the Gophers' 8-20 program into a 22-8 team and a top 25 contender in 2001-02. One of the biggest one-season turnarounds in NCAA history, Minnesota set a then-school record with 22 wins and tied for second in the Big Ten with an 11-5 conference mark. Frese also took the Gophers to what was only the school's second NCAA Tournament appearance. The Golden Gophers earned a fifth-seed in the NCAA Tournament and defeated UNLV in the first round before being eliminated by three points in the second round by North Carolina.

Frese's revitalization of the Minnesota program rocked the Big Ten establishment, with her team's 10-win improvement in conference play marking the biggest one-year improvement in Big Ten history. Moreover, the 11 Big Ten wins were three more than Minnesota totaled in the previous six seasons combined. The Golden Gophers had also achieved their highest ranking in school history to that point when Minnesota was listed 14th in the AP Top 25 in mid-February and garnered a No. 18 national ranking in the final regular season AP poll. Undoubtedly, Frese had arrived.

Frese started her head coaching career during the 1999-2000 season at Ball State, a program that had gone 66-169 in the nine seasons prior to her arrival. She guided the Cardinals to a 16-13 showing in 2000 and garnered Coach of the Year honors in the Mid-American Conference. Frese led Ball State to a then-school best 19-9 mark in 2000-01, capturing the school's second back-to-back winning seasons in Ball State history. In her final year at Ball State, the 2000-01 team received votes in the AP poll, climbing as high as No. 28 in the country.

Frese's enthusiasm has been contagious for the fans of her teams as well, as support increased significantly at both Minnesota and Ball State under her leadership. Buoyed by the best start (9-1) in school history, the Golden Gophers finished the season ranked 19th nationally in home attendance average (4,360), including an average of 8,828 fans during the second half of the campaign when the team moved to Williams Arena from the Sports Pavilion. The Gophers attracted the top four crowds in school history, including a record attendance of 12,142 vs. Michigan State and a crowd of 11,389 vs. Indiana. Frese's 2000-01 Ball State team posted a 10-2 home record and set a single-season home attendance record.

She launched her Division I coaching career in 1994 as an assistant coach at Kent State University, helping the Golden Flashes to records of 20-8 (1994) and 17-10 (1995) during her two years there. The Cedar Rapids, Iowa, native then joined Bill Fennelly's staff at Iowa State as the Cyclones' recruiting coordinator, where she assisted in another impressive turnaround, helping ISU to three NCAA Tournament appearances in four years. All told, the Cyclones posted a composite record of 84-38 with Frese as an assistant, including a 17-10 record in 1995-96 when Iowa State recorded the biggest one-season turnaround in school history. In 1997, the Cyclones made their first-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament, a feat they duplicated in 1998 and 1999 with identical 25-8 records. In 1999, Iowa State was ranked among the nation's Top 25 for the entire season and came within one victory of reaching the Final Four.

During her stay at Iowa State, her 1998-99 recruiting class was ranked among the nation's top 10, and the Cyclones enjoyed tremendous success at the gate, drawing a record crowd of 12,337 vs. Santa Clara in the first round of an NCAA Tournament game played in Ames, Iowa, and rewriting Iowa State's single-season attendance mark multiple times.

Frese is a 1993 graduate of the University of Arizona, where she was a three-year letterwinner for the Wildcats as a guard. When injuries sidelined her during her senior season, she joined the Pima Community College coaching staff in Tucson, Ariz., as an assistant coach in charge of recruiting and scouting. Aside from her bachelor's degree in communications from Arizona in 1993, she also earned a master's degree in athletic administration from Kent State in 1995.

Frese has found success in her personal life, as well, marrying husband Mark Thomas on August 20, 2005. The couple, who live in Howard County, Md., welcomed their first children, twin boys Markus and Tyler, born February 17, 2008.

"Coach Frese has built a motivated, skilled basketball team that will strive to be on the top of their game. It is a fun and exciting style of play for players and for fans. Coach Frese is a hard working and dedicated coach who will continue to win at a very high level."

Erica Floyd

ASSISTANT COACH • OHIO STATE '93
SEVENTH YEAR AT MARYLAND
15TH YEAR OVERALL

A 15-year assistant coaching veteran, Erica Floyd enters her seventh season at Maryland and begins her eighth year overall on the bench alongside head coach Brenda Frese.

"Erica has been a constant asset to our program and remains one of the best in the coaching profession," said Frese. "Her impact on our recruiting efforts has been tremendous thanks to her dynamic and engaging personality. Her experience as a player at a high-profile program has proven time and again to be beneficial to our players' maturation process."

Floyd was a member of Frese's staff at Minnesota and made the move to College Park with Frese in April of 2002. Floyd has been instrumental in transforming and rebuilding the Terrapin program into a national power, which won the 2006 National Championship and has made five-consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament.

During Floyd's tenure, the Terps won their first national championship in 2006, made two trips to the NCAA Elite Eight, recorded its first 30-win season that same year, has posted four-straight 20-win campaigns, also a first for the program, and finished in the top three of the ACC standings in four of her six years, including second place in 2007-08, winning a school-record tying 13 league games. In the last three years, Maryland has also been crowned the NCAA's statistical champion in at least one category, including rebounding margin twice, three-point shooting, assists per game and field goal percentage. Since arriving in College Park, the Terps earned their first No. 1 preseason ranking in school history in 2006-07, remaining in the top 10 in the rankings for 10 weeks overall.

In Floyd's six years, she mentored 2008 ACC Player of the Year Crystal Langhorne, now a member of the WNBA's Washington Mystics, and 2006 ACC Rookie of the Year Marissa Coleman, while the Terps have earned 16 all-conference recognitions. Her recruiting efforts have helped to land six-straight top-10 incoming classes, as some of the top talents in the nation have donned a Maryland uniform, including the No. 2-rated classes in 2004 and 2006, and the No. 4 class in the nation in 2005. Among the players she helped to recruit to College Park is three-time All-ACC honoree Shay Doron, who went on to be drafted into the WNBA, and the Sacramento Monarchs' Laura Harper.

At Minnesota, Floyd assisted in on- and off-campus recruiting and with scouting and film breakdown. The position coach for forwards and centers, she helped guide 2002 Big Ten Freshman of Year Janel McCarville, a member of the New York Liberty, and also led the Gophers' community service efforts. Minnesota experienced the biggest one-year turnaround in Big Ten history in Floyd's year there, going 22-8 after inheriting a program that had been 8-20 the previous season.

Floyd called Cleveland State home from 1998-2001, serving the Viking program in all capacities. She coached CSU's Audra Cook, 2000 Midwestern Collegiate Conference Player of the Year and was in charge of coordinating team travel, also assisting in recruiting efforts both on- and off-campus. She continued to lend her experience to the forwards and centers and also aided in monitoring academics, scouting and coordinating summer camps.

Floyd joined the coaching ranks at Kent State from 1994-98 where she coached alongside Frese, who was an assistant at the time. A position coach, Floyd assisted with various aspects of the program including coordinating team travel, scouting and summer camps. A Kent, Ohio, native, she was also the school's assistant marketing director from 1995-98.

Graduating with a bachelor of science degree in education in 1993, Floyd played basketball at Ohio State University from 1989-92. She was a member of the 1989 Buckeye squad that shared the Big Ten title that season. A graduate of Theodore Roosevelt High School, she was the 1988 Gatorade High School Player of the Year for the state of Ohio and was inducted to Roosevelt's Hall of Fame in 2006.

Floyd is an active member of the Black Coaches Association (BCA) and the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA). She resides in Columbia, Md.

Daron Park

SECOND YEAR AT MARYLAND
10TH OVERALL

Daron Park enters his second season at Maryland after making an immediate impact on the program in his first. Park, who joined Brenda Frese's staff prior to the 2007-08 season, suddenly found himself at the helm while Frese was sidelined for much of the season due to pregnancy and the birth of her twins.

Park acted as the floor coach while Frese was on leave, going 9-1 with the only loss coming in double overtime at No. 3 North Carolina. In that role, Park navigated a 76-69 win at Cameron Indoor Stadium the day Frese gave birth to her twins, completing the first season sweep of Duke for the Terps since the 1992-93 season. His steady hand helped the Terps not skip a beat as they established a new program best with a 21-0 mark at home.

Alongside Frese, Park helped Maryland reach the NCAA Elite Eight, while recording only the second 30-win campaign in program history. Under Park's watchful eye, the Terps boasted All-American honorees Crystal Langhorne and Kristi Toliver. Langhorne and Laura Harper emerged as two of the top picks in the 2008 WNBA Draft, while Kristi Toliver became the first Terp to win the Nancy Lieberman Award. The Terps finished the regular season second in the ACC standings, tying a school record for league wins with 13 and earning a No. 1 seed to the NCAA Tournament. Maryland also led the nation in field goal shooting.

"Daron is an upbeat, energetic coach who has a direct effect on our players," said Frese. "His strengths include on-court player development, scouting and game management. His fresh ideas have had a huge impact on our team."

During Park's tenure as an assistant to legendary Utah head coach Elaine Elliott, the Utes won two Mountain West Conference Championships, making two NCAA Tournament appearances. In 2006, Utah made its best-ever showing in the Big Dance, advancing to the Elite Eight, falling 10 points short of the NCAA Final Four to the eventual national champion Terrapins in overtime.

Helping the Utes to 72 victories during his three seasons, his primary responsibilities included development of perimeter players, scouting of opponents, game preparation and assisting in recruiting efforts, helping bring current WNBA star Leilani Mitchell to Utah.. He coached former Ute standouts Kim Smith and Shona Thorburn, both MWC Players of the Year and first-round WNBA draft picks.

Prior to arriving at Utah, Park was head coach of the women's basketball team at Westminster College, a NAIA school in Salt Lake City, for four years from 2000-04. He handled all facets of the program while also serving as the head coach of the golf teams and the department's sports information director. Park produced 30 academic all-conference and eight Academic All-America selections while there. In 2003-04, the Lady Griffins led the league in field goal percentage, had two all-conference picks and the newcomer of the year.

Park served as an assistant for the Westminster men's team in 1999 before being appointed the first head coach of the women's team.

Park began his coaching career as an assistant coach for the Valley High School boys basketball team in Las Vegas, a position he held from 1996-99, winning the 1997 zone championship and 1998 state title, amassing a 61-27 record over his three years.

Park was a team manager for the University of Idaho's men's basketball team in 1989-90, then transferred to Montana State, where he also served in that capacity until graduating in 1994 with a degree in health enhancement.

Park is married to his wife, Laura. The couple has two children – a daughter, Rylee (8) and a son Dillon (3) – and live in Laurel, Md.

Park's Coaching Credentials

- Assistant Coach, Maryland (May 2007-present)
- Assistant Coach, Utah (June 2004-April 2007)
- Head Coach, Westminster College (April 2000-May 2004)
- Assistant Coach, Westminster College (June 1999-March 2000)
- Head Coach, Valley High School (1996-97)

Tina Langley

ASSISTANT COACH
WEST ALABAMA '96
FIRST YEAR AT MARYLAND
10TH YEAR OVERALL

On May 22, 2008, head coach Brenda Frese announced the hiring of Tina Langley, who brings with her a reputation as an energetic coach with relentless drive on the recruiting trail. A native of Jasper, Ala., Langley is making her second go-around in the ACC.

"We are ecstatic to have Tina come on board with our basketball family," said Frese. "She's extremely hardworking and very passionate about coaching our players. Tina brings a lot of energy and great ideas and will help make our program even better."

Known for her determination and work ethic, Langley had coaching stints at Toledo, Clemson and Georgia, prior to arriving in College Park, and has been instrumental in recruiting, game preparation and floor management in each of her stops. At Maryland, she will have a hand in recruiting, player development and on-court coaching. She will also coordinate the leadership council, among other responsibilities.

Langley spent five seasons at the University of Toledo, beginning her coaching career with the Rockets as a graduate assistant coach in 1998-99, before moving up to recruiting coordinator and eventual associate head coach during the 2002-03 campaign. She helped the Rockets reach the postseason three times, including two NCAA Tournament appearances. During her tenure, Toledo also won three Mid-American Conference regular season titles (1999, 2001, 2003) and two conference tournament crowns (1999 and 2001).

At Toledo, Langley was responsible for all facets of the program, including recruiting, scouting of opponents and coordinating the team's academic efforts. She helped to sign two nationally ranked classes, the Rockets accumulated a 101-38 record (.679) during her time, and the team's grade point average was ranked in the top 10 in the nation three times. On the floor, she worked directly with players who went on to be selected the team's Most Improved Player in 2001, 2002 and 2003.

Langley then joined the women's basketball staff at Clemson in 2003, under legendary head coach Jim Davis. In her two years with the Tigers, the team advanced to the 2004 Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT) while also orchestrating a CU-record six-signee class, which was ranked in the top 30 nationally in just her first season.

After her stop at Clemson, Langley was hired at the University of Georgia as the recruiting coordinator. Langley left coaching for a couple years and earned her second master's in Community Counseling from the University of Alabama, specializing in college mental health. She was the Mount Outstanding Graduate Student in 2008.

Langley played basketball and volleyball for two seasons at Bevill State Junior College before transferring to the University of West Alabama, where she lettered twice in basketball as a guard/forward. She graduated from UWA with a degree in special education in 1996, then earned her first master's degree in Recreation and Leisure with an emphasis in recreation administration from the University of Toledo.

Langley resides in Laurel, Md.

Rhet Wierzba

DIR. OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS
AUSTIN PEAY '04
SECOND SEASON AT MARYLAND
FIFTH YEAR OVERALL

Rhet Wierzba joined the Maryland women's basketball staff in May of 2007 as the director of basketball operations. After a successful season with the Terps, which saw the team reach the NCAA Elite Eight and win over 30 games, Wierzba returns for his second season on the staff. His primary responsibilities include handling the day-to-day operations of the team, while also coordinating team travel, scheduling practice time and monitoring the players' academic progress as the liaison to the Academic Support and Career Development office.

"Rhet is extremely hard working, organized, prepared and a great problem solver," said Frese. "We are very fortunate to have him on the staff. He oversees all administrative issues in the office. He also coordinates all team travel and summer camps."

A native of Farmington, Ill., Wierzba spent two seasons at Evansville serving in the same capacity for the Purple Aces' men's squad. After two seasons, he was named interim assistant coach in the spring of 2007, before packing his bags to come to College Park. Among his responsibilities at UE was handling team travel, monitoring players' academic performance and was the camp director of the team's summer camps.

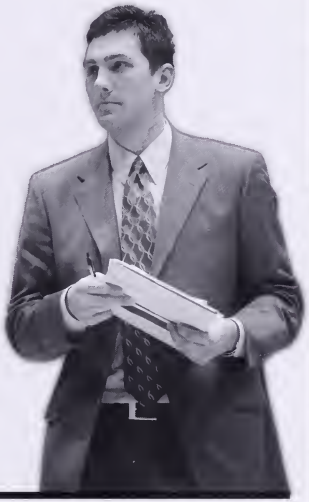
Wierzba is a 2004 graduate of Austin Peay State, where he helped the Governors win back-to-back Ohio Valley Conference titles, while making an NCAA Tournament appearance in 2003 and a NIT showing the following season. A team captain for two years, he was named an OVC Scholar Athlete his senior year, also winning the department's Joy Award, presented to the most outstanding senior student-athlete. He was also twice selected APSU's Male Scholar-Athlete.

After graduating summa cum laude with a degree in business management and earning honorable mention academic All-American honors three times, Wierzba went on to play professionally in Mexico and Canada.

Wierzba returned to Austin Peay after his professional stint, joining the coaching staff as a graduate assistant coach in 2004. In that position, he assisted with on-court player development, recruiting and planned team travel, while also earning a master's degree in science in health and human performance, with a concentration in sports administration. He completed his degree in 2005.

Wierzba was a member of numerous honor societies and was the school's Vice President and President of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) in 2003 and 2004. He received the conference's Medal of Honor in 2001 and 2004 for achieving the top grade point average and earned the Dr. Leon Bibb Postgraduate Scholarship.

Wierzba played high school basketball at Farmington High where he was a valedictorian, a National Merit semifinalist and an Illinois State Scholar. He has an older brother, Ben, who is currently an assistant coach with the Evansville men's basketball team. Wierzba resides in Laurel, Md.



Wierzba's Credentials

- Director of Basketball Operations, Maryland (May 2007-present)

Michelle Miller

ASSISTANT TO THE RECRUITING COORDINATOR
MARYLAND '00
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND
FIRST YEAR OVERALL

Michelle Miller returns to her alma mater this season as the Assistant to the Recruiting Coordinator. Her primary responsibilities include overseeing the design and the development of the program's recruiting website, coordinating the annual coaches clinic, golf outing and the team's community service efforts. Michelle also assists in various day-to-day activities as necessary for the coaching staff.

"We are very excited to have Michelle join our staff at Maryland. Her business and internet background gives us a different perspective and allows us to continue to be innovative and stay ahead of the curve," said head coach Brenda Frese. "She has a tremendous work ethic and we are very happy that she has decided to come 'back' to Maryland women's basketball."

Prior to joining Maryland and starting her own internet marketing consulting company, Miller was the Chief Operations Officer of an internet company where she managed all aspects of the company's operations. From 2006-08, Miller was also the head coach at Washington-Lee High School in Arlington, Va. After inheriting a winless program in 2006, she turned the program around in less than a year and led the W-L Generals to the first round of state regional tournament.

A Maryland graduate, Miller was a walk on with the women's basketball team in 1997, earning a scholarship and lettering for two seasons before finishing her degrees in finance and marketing. As a student, Miller was a member of the College Park Scholars program, served as treasurer for the National Society for Collegiate Scholars, and participated in various community service programs. She is still involved in community and non-profit associations, and is an active board member and advisor for several internet companies. Miller currently resides in Washington, D.C.

MARISSA COLEMAN

SENIOR • 6-1 • GUARD/FORWARD
CHELTENHAM, MD. • ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE (D.C.)

Brenda Frese On Marissa Coleman:
"The combination of Marissa's size and skills allow her to be very versatile on the court and is like having four players in one. At 6-foot-1, with her good ball handling skills, great outside shooting and ability to take it inside and go up strong in the paint, she's incredibly difficult to defend. One of the hardest and most focused players on our team, Marissa leads by example. She's continually taken her game to the next level and we expect her to have a stellar senior year."

PLAYER OF THE YEAR CANDIDATE

Coleman's Honor Roll

- Preseason Wade Trophy Candidate (2006, 07, 08)

One-on-One With Marissa Coleman

I chose Maryland because...
It is in a great location, I loved my teammates and the coaching staff.

What is your favorite class at Maryland?
My favorite class so far at Maryland was "History of Rock and Roll."

What is your number one goal at Maryland?
My number one goal here at Maryland is to win another National Championship and to win an ACC Championship.

What is your favorite thing to do besides play basketball?
My favorite things to do are go to the movies, listen to music, and hang out with my homegirls.

What is your favorite memory at Maryland?

Brenda Frese On Kristi Toliver:

"As one of the nation's top point guards, Kristi is expected to do great things for us again this season. Few players have the natural stroke and court vision she has. She is able to see the floor, adapt quickly to changes in the defense and leads by example. She has a real knack for the game. Going into her senior year, Kristi has been working incredibly hard on and off the court to ensure it is as exciting and rewarding as her freshman year. I'm really excited to see how she's grown in the past three years, becoming a leader for our players both on and off the court."

LORI BJORK

GRADUATE STUDENT • 5-11 • GUARD
JOHNSTON, IOWA • JOHNSTON (ILLINOIS)

Brenda Frese on Lori Bjork:
"Coming from a competitive and experienced basketball background, Lori has a lot to offer, both on and off the court. Although she is not playing this season due to NCAA transfer rules, she has already made a positive impact to our team. Her work ethic, fierce competitive nature, and her ability to lead by example, proves she will and already is an excellent addition to our basketball family."

Noteworthy:

Will not see playing time in 2008-09 due to NCAA transfer rules ... a graduate student studying kinesiology ... a third team All-Big Ten selected in 2008 ... left Illinois as a 1,000-point scorer and the Illini's record holder for made threes in a career ... also owns Illinois' best career three-point shooting percentage ... a three-year letterwinner with the Illini, she broked numerous single-season three-point shooting marks.

As a Junior (2007-08) at Illinois:

Started all 35 games and ranked fifth in the Big Ten in minutes per game (36.3) ... set the Illinois career three-point field goals record on Feb. 21 vs. Penn State and finished with 214 threes in her career ... Illinois' career free throw percentage leader at 83.5 percent ... finished the season with 1,106 points, which ranks 17th on the UI careeer scoring list, becoming the 21st Illini player to score 1,000 points on Feb. 10 vs. Indiana ... hit 77 three-pointers on the season, which is second on the UI single-season 3FG list behind only the school record of 84, set by Bjork in 2006-07 ... averaged 10.0 points per game during Illinois' run to Big Ten Tournament title game, scoring 14 points each in wins over #22 Ohio State and Michigan State ... third team All-Big Ten by the coaches and honorable mention by the media ... earned Illinois' sportsmanship award for the second-straight year ... led the Big Ten in 3FG made in conference games (2.39) ... season free throw percentage of 87.5 led the Big Ten and ranked second in the Illinois season FT percentage list ... a perfect 3-for-3 on three-pointers on Feb. 10 vs. Indiana, scoring 19 points and grabbing a career-high seven rebounds ... Hit three three-pointers and scored 16 points in the Jan. 31 win over #19 Ohio State, including two late free throws that sealed the Illini victory ... Hit a season-high five 3s for 15 points at Missouri on Dec. 19 ... Scored a team-high 22 points against Eastern Illinois on Nov. 9, converting all 10 of her free throw attempts and connecting on 4-of-8 three pointers ... Named 2008 ESPN the Magazine Academic All-District for the second straight year ... Academic All-Big Ten selection for the second year in a row ... Had the top GPA among all Illinois junior female student-athletes ... Won the team's Most Inspirational Award for her tireless work ethic ... Named preseason first team All-Big Ten by both the coaches and media.

As a Sophomore (2006-07) at Illinois:

Played and started in all 31 games ... second team All-Big Ten selection ... led the Big Ten and ranked 14th in the nation in threes made per game (2.71) ... 84 made threes surpassed the Illinois single-season record ... had a school-record streak of 35-consecutive games with at least one made three-pointer and was the third longest streak in the nation at the time ... had a nation-leading streak of 27-straight games with at least two threes made ... ranked third in the Big Ten in minutes (35.06), fifth in 3FG percentage (.385), seventh in scoring (14.3) and eighth in FT percentage (.825) for all games ... finished the year ranked 31st in the nation in three-point FG percentage ... in conference games, led the Big Ten in 3FG made per game (3.0), was third in minutes (36.20) and FT percentage (.875), fourth in 3FG percentage (.417) and eighth in scoring (14.9) ... scored a season-high 25 points on two occasions vs. Michigan (Feb. 1) and at St. Louis (Nov. 29) ... drained a career-high six three-pointers against Michigan on Feb. 1, equaling the third-most made in a single game by an Illini ... named to the 2007 ESPN the Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-America third team, the ESPN the Magazine Academic/CoSIDA All-District first team and the Academic All-Big Ten team with a 3.94 GPA in political science ... boasted the top GPA among all Illinois female student-athletes ... won the team's Most Outstanding Player award, Hustle award and Ralf Woods Free Throw Award ... team co-captain ... Illinois' Big Ten Sportsmanship honoree ... Academic All-Big Ten selection.

As a Freshman (2005-06) at Illinois:

Started 28 of 31 games ... selected to the Big Ten All-Freshmen Team by conference coaches ... led all Big Ten freshmen in 3FGM (1.71) and FT% (.810) and ranked second among Big Ten freshmen in scoring (10.1 ppg) ... ranked ninth in the Big Ten in 3FGM (1.71), 10th in FT% (.810) and 13th in 3FG% (.344) for all games ... finished fourth on the Illinois single-season 3FG list with 53 ... ended the season ranked sixth on the Illinois freshman scoring list with 313 points ... scored a career-high and team season-high 27 points on 8-for-14 shooting and 4-of-8 three-pointers on Feb. 9 vs. Wisconsin ... scored 24 points at Wisconsin on Jan. 15, hitting 5-of-6 three pointers to set a Kohl Center record for 3FG accuracy ... named to the Coors Classic All-Tournament Team after leading the Illini in scoring for both tournament games (14.0) and shooting .583 from the field ... won the team Blue Collar, Ralf Woods Free Throw and Academic Excellence Awards ... led the Big Ten All-Stars in scoring (10.3 ppg) during their 2006 summer tour in Scandinavia.

One-on-One With Lori Bjork

I chose Maryland because...
I chose Maryland because I wanted to have a chance to play for a winning program and for coaches who really care about their players.

How would you describe yourself?
I'm competitive, self motivated and stubborn, of course, I mean that in the good way.

What is your number one goal at Maryland?
My number one goal here at Maryland is to contribute positively to this program on and off the court.

Name something people do not know about you.
One thing that most people don't know about me is that I actually enjoy mowing the lawn. My dad doesn't even have to pay me to do it.

What is your favorite thing to do besides play basketball?
My favorite thing to do is to compete at anything. It can be Monopoly, mini golf, ping pong, absolutely anything.

One-on-One With Drey Mingo

I chose Maryland because...
It is a great academic opportunity for me and I'm surrounded by great people with a winning attitude.

What is your goal number one at Maryland?
My number one goal here at Maryland is to be the best student and player that I can be.

What is something people do not know about you?
One thing that most people don't know about me is I was a cheerleader and tennis player before I played basketball.

What is your favorite thing to do besides playing basketball?
My favorite things to do are reading, listening to music, and hanging with my mom.

What is your favorite memory at Maryland?
Beating Duke in the Comcast Center. It was a sell-out crowd. Comcast was exciting, intense, a very loud experience. I can't wait to experience that again.

MARAH STRICKLAND

SOPHOMORE • 6-0 • GUARD
MOUNT AIRY, MD. • TOWSON CATHOLIC

Brenda Frese on Marah Strickland:

"As one of our most consistent athletes, Marah is a fierce competitor with a tremendous work ethic. She is very reliable and always goes the extra mile, both on and off the court, to excel and be a better player and student. She has been dedicated and very focused during this offseason. We look forward to seeing how it pays off this year. We expect Marah to become a key player for us and will be very exciting to watch."

Strickland's Honor Roll

MARAH STRICKLAND #5

One-on-One With Marah Strickland

Il chose Maryland because...

So I could play on an amazing team, go to an amazing school, and because of its convenient location.

What is something people do not know about you?

One thing that most people don't know about me is I do pretty good impersonations, Bill Cosby and Jesse Jackson are my specialties.

What is your favorite thing to do besides play basketball?

My favorite things to do are watch old movies and read novels. I'd say my favorite novel was Jane Eyre.

EMERY WALLACE

SOPHOMORE • 6-1 • FORWARD
ROANOKE, VA. • HIDDEN VALLEY

Brenda Frese on Emery Wallace:
"Emery has had a series of knee injuries over the past few years. Despite this adversity, she's maintained a positive attitude and has been a pleasure to coach. She's a great vocal supporter and motivator of her teammates. Despite the unfortunate situation that Emery will not be able to play this season, she is still an essential part of this team through her positive attitude and leadership."

As a Redshirt Freshman (2007-08):

After sitting out her freshman campaign because of injury, made her collegiate debut vs. Delaware in the Preseason WNIT quarterfinal matchup vs. Delaware, netting two points from the chairty stripe ... broke out for a career-high 18 points in 16 minutes to lead the Terps to a win over Loyola ... Went 6-for-8 in the win over the Greyhounds, including 3-for-3 from behind the three-point line ... Saw playing time in 12 games overall, including an apperance in the ACC Tournament vs. Boston College ... Also earned playing time in two NCAA Tournament games vs. Coppin State and Vanderbilt.

Before Maryland:

Lettered four years in basketball, beginning her prep career at Northside High School, concluding at Hidden Valley ... scored 1,497 points, grabbed 580 boards and had 106 three-pointers over her career, while posting a career free throw percentage of 81.6 percent ... led her teams to a combined 91-10 record and three state tournament semifinals ... netted 40 points as sophomore in the Group AA semifinals also setting the state tournament record shooting 92 percent from the free throw line (12-for-13) ... District Player of the Year despite missing the first 10 games of the season because of an ACL injury ... helped the team win 18-straight games after returning from injury, winning the district and region titles, and advancing to the state championship game ... three times named first team all-district and first team all-region, while being named second team all-state before earning a spot on the first team as a senior.

Personal:

Enrolled in the College of Letters & Sciences ... daughter of Patsy and Tom Wallace ... comes from a long line of family members who attended Wake Forest University, including three cousins who are current students ... mother, Patsy, was a 1979 graduate of Wake Forest ... has two younger sisters, Maggie (19) and Kelly (17) ... late aunt Cathy Wallace was a basketball player at Utah in the late 1970s ... was a teammate of current Terrapin Kristi Toliver on the AAU Elkton Elks ... Jane Emery Wallace was born in Fayetteville, N.C., October 12, 1987.

One-on-One With Emery Wallace

I chose Maryland because...
I loved the teammates, and I loved the coaching staff, and I loved the university as a whole. I loved how big the campus was, I loved the student-athlete life, it seemed to be that all the athletes really got along and I just love Maryland, it's a winning program.

What is your favorite class at Maryland?
I am currently majoring in criminal justice and my favorite class was Juvenile Delinquency.

What are your goals for this season?
My goals for this year here are to win a National Championship and win an ACC Championship.

What is something most people do not know about you.
One thing that most people don't know about me is that before I played basketball, I was a state champion swimmer. I won the state championship in the 50 meter freestyle

What is your favorite thing to do besides play basketball?
My favorite things to do are hang out with my teammates, play basketball, go shopping, and hang out with my friends.

What is your favorite memory at Maryland?
My favorite memories of Maryland are meeting a lot of new people, dominating the ACC, and hanging out with my teammates.

About the ACC

The Tradition

John Swofford, ACC Commissioner

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 56th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 109 national championships, including 57 in women's competition and 52 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 145 times in men's competition and 92 times in women's action.

Since 1977, when the league adopted women's basketball and a tradition of excellence was established, the ACC has continued to soar to new heights.

The 2005-06 season marked the first time in NCAA history that a conference sent three teams to the same Final Four. The title game pitted an automatic ACC winner as second-seeded Maryland faced No. 1 seed Duke. The Terrapins claimed their first national title in school history and the league's second with a thrilling 78-75 overtime game at the TD Banknorth Garden in Boston, Mass., on April 4, 2006.

Following the 2006-07 season, Duke became the first ACC team and only the 14th in NCAA history to finish a regular season undefeated (29-0), while the 34 wins for North Carolina marked the most in program history.

The 2007-08 season was no different in the continuation towards excellence as eight ACC teams earned postseason bids, including six NCAA Tournament berths. It also marked the sixth consecutive year the league has sent at least six to the Big Dance. Joining North Carolina and Maryland as representatives of the ACC in the NCAA Tournament were Duke, Florida State, Georgia Tech, and Virginia. Boston College and NC State represented the league in the Women's NIT, marking the first-ever appearance for the Eagles and the Wolfpack's first since 1976. NC State advanced to the semifinals, giving the squad 21 wins for the season, their third 20-plus win tally in the past four years.

For the third consecutive year, a pair of ACC teams earned two of the No. 1 seeds to the NCAA Tournament. North Carolina, which picked up the school's fourth consecutive ACC Tournament crown, finished 30-2 and earned a No. 1 slot for the fourth consecutive year, while Maryland, which concluded the season 30-3 overall and was 19-0 in College Park, Md., earned another top seed in the NCAA postseason tourney.

Over the years, ACC women's basketball teams have gained global recognition through their television exposure. The 2007-08 schedule featured 57 televised games and included 96 television appearances. In addition, the ACC broadcasted nine games on ESPN2 and seven on Fox Sports Net and affiliates. Twenty-seven match-ups were featured on the league's regional sports network, which includes Comcast SportsNet, Fox Spots Net South, SunSports and New England's Sports Network (NESN). To conclude the 2007-08 season, the ACC finished 64-54 (.542) in front of a national televised audience, including a 23-12 mark against non-conference foes.

The league's women's basketball programs continue to rank among the best in the country in terms of the NCAA Tournament, having made 144 appearances and won 194 games in the last 31 years, including 32 wins by a number one seed. In addition to sending three teams to the same Final Four for the first time in history, the league has boasted such national accomplishments as sending at least one team to the "Sweet 16" for 20 consecutive years and at least one to the Final Four in 11 of the last 20 years. The conference has also made 14 trips to the Final Four in the last 27 years with three teams finishing second and North Carolina and Maryland capturing National Championships in 1994 and 2006, respectively.

Since 1989, the ACC has placed 14 players on the All-Final Four team, while Maryland's Laura Harper joined the ranks of Virginia's Dawn Staley and North Carolina's Charlotte Smith, who was dubbed the NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player in 2006. In all, 65 ACC players have been named to the NCAA Tournament All-Region teams with 10 Most Outstanding Player recognitions.

Eight players have garnered National Player of the Year accolades while competing under the ACC banner. Staley was a back-to-back selection in 1991 and 1992, while Smith received the ESPY award in 1995. Duke's Alana Beard was recognized with National Player of the Year honors in both 2003 and 2004, and UNC's Ivory Latta earned ESPN.com National Player of the Year in 2006. In 2007, Duke guard Lindsey Harding was named the Naismith Trophy Women's College Player of the Year presented by AT&T.

Five league coaches have combined to earn 13 national Coach of the Year honors. Duke's Gail Goestenkors, North Carolina's Sylvia Hatchell, Virginia's Debbie Ryan, Maryland's Chris Weller and NC State's Kay Yow have all garnered national recognition.

Seven ACC representatives, including coaches and student-athletes, have participated in the Olympics. NC State's Yow, assisted by Hatchell of UNC, headed up the 1988 gold medal-winning Olympic team. Maryland's Vicky Bullett was a member of both the 1988 and 1992 Olympic teams. Staley, a three-time Olympian, struck gold in Athens as a member of the 2004 title squad. Duke's Goestenkors served as an assistant coach on the gold medal-winning team in Athens.

Since the inaugural season of the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) in 1997, the ACC has been a recognizable presence in the league. Sixty-nine former ACC stars have played on the hardwood in the WNBA, while five former players have worked the sidelines as coaches. Four ACC players were selected in the first round of the 2008 WNBA Draft as the foursome was selected in the first 14 picks of the round. In all, eight league players were selected in the 2008 WNBA Draft, while the league tabbed a league-record of nine selectees in 2006 and 2007. In addition, ACC women's basketball players have earned first-team Academic All-America honors 10 times, including Virginia's Val Ackerman in 1981, the former President of the WNBA. In 1997, NC State's Jennifer Howard was tabbed GTE CoSIDA Academic Player of the Year after posting a flawless 4.0 grade point average throughout her career. Thirteen players have earned ACC postgraduate scholarships, while three others were named NCAA Postgraduate Scholars.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2008-09 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting with the 2005-06 academic year.

Review Notebook

Successful Campaign Leads To NCAA Elite Eight

Maryland advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight for the second time in three years, earning the No. 1 seed in the Spokane Region. It was the second time and first since 1989 the Terps had received a top seeding in the NCAA Tournament.

The Terrapins recorded one of the most successful seasons in the history of the program, winning over 30 games in 2007-08, the second time in three years that had occurred. They finished second in the ACC, winning 13 league games, tying a program record. Maryland also went undefeated at home, winning 21 games at Comcast Center. It is believed to be an NCAA record.

Maryland rode the coat tails of five seniors and two juniors. By season's end, four were tabbed All-Americans and All-ACC picks.

Terps Ranked In Final Polls

For the third-consecutive year, the Maryland women's basketball team was ranked in the final Associated Press Poll a feat which had not been accomplished since the 1983-84 campaign. It was the fourth-year in a row the Terps appeared in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches rankings, a first in the history of the program.

The Terps finished the regular season ranked fifth in the writers' poll. It was the second time in three years Maryland was in the top five in the final poll and only the fourth time overall. In the coaches' poll, Maryland was rated No. 7, the fourth time in the history of the ranking the Terps finished in the top 10.

Langhorne Breaks Records; Leaves As Most Decorated

It is without saying Crystal Langhorne has left a significant mark in the Maryland women's basketball history books. In her final season, she claimed the scoring and rebounding records, both of which had stood for nearly 20 years. She also earned her third-straight All-American honor and fourth-straight All-ACC nod.

Langhorne achieved many milestones in her final campaign. Leaving as the ACC's best shooter in history with a career 65.2 percent accuracy, she was the first player in the history of the NCAA to lead the nation in field goal shooting. She was the first Terp woman to score 2,000 points and the first to grab 1,000 rebounds. One of only two Terps, men's or women's, with 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds, she surpassed legendary star Len Elmore's rebounding mark, to claim the overall school record.

Langhorne is one of only 11 players all-time in the ACC to receive All-ACC nods four times and the only Terrapin. She is also the ony Terp to garner All-American honors multiple times.

Records & Milestones

Aside from Langhorne breaking the program's scoring and rebounding records, as well as, surpassing the 2,000-point and 1,000-rebound milestones, other Terrapins also broke records and achieved significant bench marks.

Marissa Coleman, Laura Harper and Kristi Toliver each surpassed the 1,000-point mark; Harper broke the all-time blocks mark; Coleman set the single-season mark for free throws made; and Toliver broke the ACC's 30-year old single-season assist record, while also making the most threes in the history of the program. Maryland also had its own "iron man." Ashleigh Newman played in every game of her career, setting the record for consecutive games played.

Four Over Millenium Mark

In 2007-08, Maryland entered the NCAA history books again, becoming one of 12 known teams with four active 1,000-point scorers.

Crystal Langhorne entered the season as the only 1,000-point scorer. Marissa Coleman reached the milestone just three games into the season vs. Delaware. Laura Harper was next, netting her 1,000th-point against Pittsburgh.

Kristi Toliver became the 25th player in school history to reach 1,000 points against Rutgers, the fourth active Terp to reach the milestone.

Langhorne Voted ACC Player Of The Year

Crystal Langhorne was voted the 2008 ACC Player of the Year becoming only the second Terrapin in school history to earn the honor and the first since 1989.

Langhorne is one of only four players in conference history to receive ACC Rookie of the Year and Player of the Year accolades in their careers.

Langhorne received 23 of 49 votes to earn the award. The next closest received 12 votes. Teammate Kristi Toliver had eight.

School-Record Four Terps Earn ACC Honors

Four Terps were voted to the 2008 All-ACC team, a record for the program. Crystal Langhorne and Kristi Toliver earned the most number of points (144) and first-team votes (46 of 49). Marissa Coleman earned her third-straight second team nod, while Laura Harper was named to the third team.

Langhorne becomes the first player in school history to be named all-conference all four years. She is one of 11 in league history to garner first-team accolades three times. Coleman also became one of only four players in the history of the program to earn All-ACC nods at least three times.

Toliver Named Top Point Guard

Kristi Toliver was selected the Nancy Lieberman Awar winner, presented to the country's top women's basketb point guard. She was the fifth different player and firs Terrapin to receive the honor, which was first presente in 2000.

Toliver was fifth in the nation in assists per game (7.4 and broke the ACC's 30-year old single-season assist mar handing out 275 helpers in 2007-08. She was second o the team in scoring, averaging a career-high 17.1 ppg, e route to earning Associated Press, United States Basketb Writers Association (USBWA) and Women's Basketba Coaches Association (WBCA) All-American honors. A firs team All-ACC pick, she led the conference with an 86.0 fre throw shooting percentage and was second with a 1.7 assist-to-turnover ratio.

Home Sweet Home

Maryland won a school-record 21 home games, breakin the program mark set during the 2005-06 campaign. Th home win streak is also the third-longest active streak i the NCAA heading into 2008-09.

The Terps finished the regular-season home slate unde feated, then won two more games in the NCAA Tournamen which was hosted by the University of Maryland. The 2 home victories in a single season is believe to be an NCA record. UNLV posted 21 wins at home in 1978-79, befor the NCAA.

Strickland Among Top Rookies

Marah Strickland was voted Honorable Mention ACC All-Freshman. The younger sister of former Terrapin Marche (1999-02), who was a two-time All-ACC pick, started all bu one game last season. She led the league in three-poin shooting percentage for most of the year and ended the season ranking second in the category at 40.7 percent She scored a career-high 20 points against Boston College on Feb. 14.

Lucky 13

Maryland's 13-1 ACC record tied the school mark fo league victories in a season. The wins are the most sinc 1992 when the Terps went 13-3. Maryland also won 13 ACC games in 1989 to set the standard.

Maryland's 92.9 winning percentage in ACC games i 2007-08 also ties a school record, also set in 1989 whe the team went 13-1.

10 Cubed

Last season's double-digit ACC win total was the third-consecutive year the Terps had won at least 10 league games, a first in the history of the program.

Under head coach Brenda Frese, the Terps have posted at least a .500 conference record in five of her last six years at the Maryland helm. It is the first time the program has recorded five-straight .500 or better campaigns in ACC play since the 1993-94 season.

Shooting With Accuracy

The Terrapins ended the season as the nation's best field goal shooting team, making just under 50 percent of their shot attempts for the season. Their 49.5 percent shooting was .1 better than Connecticut, who finished second in the nation in the category.

The Terps captured statistical titles in each of the last three seasons. In 2006-07, Maryland outrebounded its opponents by a +14.3 margin, the best in the nation. That year, the Terps also had the best assist per game average at 18.3. In 2005-06, they also led the nation in rebounding margin (+11.9), while also posting the best three-point shooting percentage (40.0 percent).

Terps Welcome New Family Members

On the morning of February 17, 2008, head coach Brenda Frese delivered twin boys, Markus William and Tyler Joseph - the first children for Frese and her husband, Mark. Later that day, Frese's squad, defeated #12/12 Duke, 76-69, at Cameron Indoor Stadium on national television, sweeping the regular-season series for the first time since 1993.

Doron, Langhorne Honored

Shay Doron and Crystal Langhorne became the fourth and fifth Terrapins in the history of the program to have their jersey numbers hanging in the rafters.

Frese's first recruit at Maryland, Doron signed before Frese ever coached a Maryland game. Doron was a three-time All-ACC honoree while at Maryland and was an Honorable Mention All-American as a senior. Doron ranks third all-time at Maryland in scoring.

At the conclusion of the Terps' final regular-season home game, Langhorne was spotlighted in a ceremony recognizing her accomplishments, including breaking the program's all-time scoring, rebounding and field goal shooting records. Owning numerous milestones and achieving many firsts during her career in College Park, she was a three-time All-American, four-time All-ACC pick, the 2008 ACC Player of the Year and a two-time Academic All-American.

Backed By Barack

When Democratic candidate (then a primary candidate) Barack Obama visited the University of Maryland campus on Feb. 11, 2008, he did not fail to mention the Terrapin women's basketball team's 2006 National Championship banner.

Speaking in front of a near-capacity crowd at Comcast Center, Obama recognized the Terps sitting in the crowd and singled them out. After a loud cheer from the audience, the candidate called out the team, "if I had brought my sneakers, I'd suit up and play against you. I've still got game ... I do." According to newspaper reports, Obama had a superstition about playing basketball on the morning of primary caucuses.

#4/4 Maryland 76
Princeton 52
PRESEASON WNIT
November 9, 2007
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Knowing it would be foolish to try to run with No. 4 Maryland, Princeton attempted to put the brakes on the Terrapins' potent fast break.

"We were going to try to out-slow Maryland," coach Courtney Banghart said. "We felt like it would be Maryland on roller-blades and Princeton in sneakers."

The problem with the strategy was that the Tigers couldn't neutralize guard Kristi Toliver, who had 16 points and 10 assists to lead Maryland to a 76-62 victory Friday night in the Preseason WNIT.

"Kristi Toliver is tough," Banghart said. "Our game plan was to challenge her shots and hope she doesn't make them."

Toliver went 7-for-10 from the floor and accounted for more than half of Maryland's 19 assists.

"She did a great job of being aggressive and attacking," Terrapins coach Brenda Frese said. "Especially in the second half, there were just a lot of great, unselfish plays that she made for us."

In the season opener for both teams, the Terrapins never trailed. Maryland led by 10 at halftime, opened the second half with a 9-3 run to go up 48-32 and coasted to the finish.

Jade Perry had 12 points and 10 rebounds, and Marissa Coleman and Laura Harper also had 12 points apiece for the Terrapins.

"Maryland is very experienced, very athletic, very versatile team," Banghart said.

Whitney Downs scored 16 points for the Tigers and Meagan Cowher, the daughter of former Pittsburgh Steelers coach Bill Cowher, scored 11 of her 13 points in the first half.

Maryland won the 2005 national championship and entered last season as No. 1, but the Terrapins didn't get past the second round of last season's NCAA tournament. Eager for redemption, Maryland got off to a solid start despite playing without standout center Crystal Langhorne, who has a sprained ankle.

"We're excited to start a new chapter," Toliver said.

Toliver scored 12 points in the first half, and Maryland limited the Tigers to 37 percent shooting in taking a 39-29 lead.

The Terps led 12-11 before Toliver scored on a drive and fed Ashleigh Newman for a basket, igniting a 19-8 run. After Princeton closed to 36-29, Toliver hit a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

"That's obviously a backbreaker," Banghart said.

Maryland expanded the margin in the second half, but a 3-pointer by Downs made it 54-40. Coleman answered with a 3-pointer and Harper scored in the lane for a 19-point cushion.

State Farm Tip-Off Classic
November 11, 2007

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Here's a sign that Maryland once again has the depth of a serious title contender: The only starter to not score in double figures was its All-American.

Marissa Coleman had 20 points and 12 rebounds, and the No. 4 Terrapins showed there's plenty more to their lineup than just Crystal Langhorne by beating No. 6 Oklahoma 76-66 in State Farm Tip-Off Classic.

"We played extremely unselfish basketball," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "It's fun to watch, the way we were moving the basketball, looking for each other. ... So many great things for us to be able to build on for the second game of the season."

Laura Harper added 16 points and 11 rebounds for the Terrapins (2-0), who shot nearly 46 percent, made 7-of-15 3-pointers, built a 24-point lead and took command by outscoring the Sooners 30-9 during the final 12 minutes of the first half.

Ashley Paris scored 17 points on 8-of-12 shooting and Danielle Robinson added 15 points for the Sooners (0-1), who made the score respectable by outscoring Maryland 13-1 during the final 2:09.

"I kind of expected us to take a little shot and reel for a little bit and say to ourselves to fight back, and we did," Oklahoma coach Sherri Coale said. "Maryland made some really tough shots, and kept us in a hole with their 3-point shooting, primarily, and we never could quite climb back out, but if we had had another 3, 4 minutes, you never know."

In a matchup of All-Americans Courtney Paris and Langhorne, it was the supporting players who put up the biggest numbers.

Kristi Toliver had 16 points and 11 assists, and Marah Strickland added 14 points for Maryland, which outrebounded the Sooners 43-32 and kept Oklahoma without a field goal for a 5-minute, 40-second stretch of the first half.

Toliver "ran this team the way we expect her to," Frese said.

Courtney Paris, last year's Associated Press player of the year, finished with 11 points and 10 rebounds, extending her NCAA-record streak of games with double figures in both categories to 62 - even though she didn't crack the 10-point mark until making a layup with 2:53 remaining.

"They have a lot of options," Courtney Paris said of Maryland's numerous post defenders. "They really challenged the inside in a lot of differnet ways with their options, but I think that's good for us to see. It lets me know there's a lot of things to work on."

Maryland took control midway through the first half, taking the lead for good when Jade Perry's basket with 10:11 left made it 18-17. Toliver's short jumper at the buzzer pushed the lead to 42-24.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Kristi Toliver had 19 points and 10 assists and Marissa Coleman had 16 points and five assists to help No. 3 Maryland win its third game in five days, 91-43 over Delaware in the quarterfinals of the Women's National Invitation Tournament.

Jade Perry had 11 points and 15 rebounds and Ashleigh Newman added 18 points and four rebounds for the Terrapins (3-0), who played for the second time without All-American forward Crystal Langhorne. The senior sat out with a sprained ankle.

"We're in a really, really good place right now," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "I love to see how we responded and we just want to keep this momentum and were looking forward to playing in the next game of the WNIT."

Maryland broke the game open with a 38-13 run over the final 14:24 of the first half after Delaware's Courtney Irving tied the game at 8 with a pair of free throws.

In the second half, the Terrapins opened with a 17-2 run and eventually led by 49 points.

Maryland, which never trailed, shot 46.7 percent from the field, while Delaware (1-1) missed nearly 75 percent. The Terrapins also dominated the low post with 28 points in the paint and 57 rebounds.

"We challenged ourselves to come out with the same energy that we had against Oklahoma," said Coleman, who became the 23rd player in school history to score at least 1,000 career points. "The fact that we did is a big confidence boost for all of us and we hope it continues for the rest of the season."

Vanessa Kabongo had 11 points and Irving had nine points and six rebounds for Delaware, which was without leading scorer Kyle DeHaven.

"This is a young team that is rebuilding and trying to get better," Delaware coach Tina Martin said. "Maryland has a chance to win the national championship this year. They're outstanding, there's no question about that. I'd pick them against any team in the country."

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - With Laura Harper and Kristi Toliver leading the way, No. 3 Maryland used a dazzling display of inside-outside basketball to advance to the championship game of the Preseason WNIT.

Harper had 17 points and 13 rebounds, Toliver made five of the Terrapins' school record-tying 12 3-pointers and Maryland posted a 75-59 victory over Notre Dame (No. 25 ESPN/USA Today, No. 23 AP) on Friday night.

Toliver scored 25 points on 10-for-15 shooting, had seven assists and also grabbed a two rebounds.

"She's an All-American candidate for sure and certainly one of the best point guards in the country," Notre Dame coach Muffet McGraw said of Toliver. "We could not contain her or guard her in any way. It didn't matter what we did, she was going to score. She was the obvious difference in the game."

Playing without standout center Crystal Langhorne, who's out with a sprained ankle, the Terrapins spread out Notre Dame's defense with a barrage of shots from the outside. Toliver went 5-for-7, Marissa Coleman made 4-of-7 from beyond the arc and freshman Marah Strickland was 2-for-4.

Harper, meanwhile, made up for Strickland's absence with her 12th career double-double, and Coleman and Jade Perry each had eight rebounds to help Maryland control the boards, 46-35.

"It's accurate to say we have something going from the outside and the inside," Terps coach Brenda Frese said. "I think we understand as a team, on any given night if they try to shut down someone, someone else is going to step up. With the chemistry we have on this team, we're having a lot of fun."

The 12 treys (on 20 attempts) tied the Maryland record set on Dec. 21, 2006, against UNC-Greensboro.

Charel Allen led Notre Dame (2-1) with 16 points. The Fighting Irish committed a school record-low three turnovers but missed a whopping 48 shots from the field and went 1-for-12 from 3-point range.

"We haven't played this caliber team before. This is our first road game, too, and I think this game shows where we stand and how much work we need to do," said Notre Dame guard Lindsay Schrader, who had 10 points and eight rebounds.

Up by six at halftime, Maryland got 3-pointers from Coleman and Strickland in an 8-2 run at the outset of the second half for a 46-34 lead. It was 50-41 before Coleman hit a 3 and Harper made two layups in a 9-2 spree that put the Terrapins ahead by 16 with 14:42 left.

"We took good care of the ball, did a lot of things we wanted to do, but have to be better defensively," McGraw said.

Both teams were extremely sharp in an entertaining and competitive first half that ended with the Terrapins up 38-32.

The Irish committed only one turnover in the opening 20 minutes. Maryland had seven but made up for it by going 6-for-9 from beyond the arc.

After Maryland scored the game's first five points, Notre Dame went on a 10-0 run. Maryland responded with eight straight points, but the Irish regained the lead before Coleman hit a 3-pointer and Harper added five successive points for a 29-24 advantage.

It's hard to argue with the Hall of Fame coach after the third-ranked Terrapins beat his fourth-ranked Tigers, 75-62 to win the Preseason NIT championship.

"That team is capable of winning a national championship," Chancellor said. "I don't want to put that much pressure on their coach, but they definitely could win it all."

The title was the first Preseason NIT championship for Maryland.

"It's a special win for us," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "I'm so proud of the champions we have in this locker room."

Kristi Toliver scored 23 points and had seven assists to lead the Terps, who have beaten three Top 25 teams in the past eight days.

"The Wizards have Agent Zero, we have 2-0," said Frese of her junior guard, who earned tournament MVP honors. "You can see what makes her so special. How she's leading this team. The shots she makes."

Laura Harper had 14 of her 16 points in the second half and Jade Perry added 14 points and 11 rebounds for the Terrapins (5-0), who were missing All-American center Crystal Langhorne for the third straight game. She has been sidelined with an ankle injury.

"It shows we have a team of All-Americans," Frese said. "How we're stepping up as a team."

Sylvia Fowles had 24 points and 13 rebounds for LSU (3-1). Quianna Chaney added 23 points.

Trailing 40-38 early in the second half, Maryland went on a 16-1 run to take a 54-41 lead with 12:23 left in the game. Harper scored six points during the spurt. The only point that LSU got during the run came when Manssa Coleman was called for a technical foul after completing a three-point play.

Fowles finally ended LSU's 5-minute drought without a basket with a jumper. The Tigers could get no closer than seven the rest of the game.

LSU, which hadn't given up more than 54 points in its three victories, saw Maryland pass that mark midway through the second half.

Maryland advanced to the championship game by beating No. 23 Notre Dame 75-59 on Friday night. The Terps tied a school record, hitting 12 3-pointers in that win.

With four ranked teams in the semifinals, the women's NIT continues to be a strong draw

The Terrapins led 34-32 at the half. Maryland had built its lead up to 30-20 on Perry's layup with 5:46 left, but LSU closed the half on a 12-4 run, including two 3-pointers by Chaney.

Fowles and Chaney kept LSU in the game, combining for 26 of the Tigers' 32 points in the first half. The two seniors were 10-for-22 (45 percent) in the first half while the rest of the team was just 3-for-19 (16 percent).

It was Maryland's first win over LSU since 1979. The Tigers lead the series, 3-2.

Game 6
#3/3 Maryland 98
Loyola 50
November 20, 2007
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Following an eight-day stretch in which it beat three ranked teams, No. 3 Maryland enjoyed an easy one against an overmatched opponent.

Freshman forward Emery Wallace scored 18 points, Drey Mingo had 16, and the Terrapins placed six players in double figures in a 98-50 rout of in-state foe Loyola on Tuesday night.

Maryland (6-0) tied a school record with 12 3-pointers, including three apiece by Wallace and Kristi Toliver.

The Terrapins defeated Oklahoma and Notre Dame before beating then-No. 4 LSU in the championship game of the Preseason WNIT. Facing a Loyola squad that represented a significant drop-off in competition, the Terrapins raced to an 11-2 lead, went up by 26 at halftime and breezed to the finish.

There were plenty of chest-bumps, giggles and high-fives along the way.

"Obviously we were having tons of fun," coach Brenda Frese said. "They care about each other; you can see that on and off the floor. It was a fun game, a great game for us to have everyone come out and contribute the way they did."

Wallace is slowly working her way back into a groove after undergoing three knee operations that kept her sidelined for two years. She played in only one game and had two points this season before going 6-for-8 from the floor and making all three of her foul shots in 16 minutes.

Her increased playing time was a product of the blowout, as well as the fact that her knee is improving as the season wears on.

"It was awesome, having my teammates cheer me on," Wallace said. "It felt great to be in that zone again."

Toliver scored 15, Marah Strickland had 12 and Marissa Coleman added 11.

The Terrapins were again without standout center Crystal Langhorne, who has missed five of six games this season with a sprained ankle. She obviously was not needed against the Greyhounds, now 0-7 against Maryland since Nov. 17, 1998.

"Without Crystal Langhorne, to do what they do. ... They're very good," Loyola coach Joe Logan said. "They've gotten better than they were a year ago."

Maryland shot 59 percent and went 6-for-11 from beyond the arc in taking a 51-25 halftime lead.

Laura Harper got Maryland started with a layup off the opening tip, and baskets by Toliver and Coleman made it 6-0. It was 17-7 before Strickland hit a jumper to start a 6-0 spurt that put the Terrapins up by 16.

After Loyola closed to 26-13, Toliver, Strickland and freshman Kat Lyons made 3-pointers in a 13-3 run that gave Maryland a 21-point cushion.

Wallace led the charge in the second half, scoring 14 points while going 3-for-3 beyond the arc.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) - Manssa Coleman and her Maryland teammates knew UC Santa Barbara would do everything they could to avoid another embarrassing loss to the Terps.

Kristi Toliver made two free throws in the final seconds to secure the Terps' 75-71 victory over the Gauchos.

Coleman scored a career-high 30 points for the Terps (7-0). The junior guard made 18 of 20 free-throw attempts. Toliver scored 19 points and Laura Harper had 15 points and 12 rebounds.

"They didn't want that to happen again," Coleman said of UCSB, which lost 105-44 at College Park last December. "We knew they would press us for 40 minutes."

Chisa Ononiwu led UCSB (2-3) with 20 points. She made four of eight 3-point attempts. Jenna Green scored 16 points and Jessica Wilson added 12.

Maryland opened up a 16-3 lead in the first five minutes, but UCSB trailed only 37-30 at halftime

The Gauchos, who trailed by as many as 13 points in the first half, took a 42-39 lead on a jumper by Whitney Warren with 13:20 remaining in the game.

Maryland scored the next eight points, five by Toliver, and extended its lead to 61-50.

UCSB pulled to 73-71 on a pair of free throws by Sha'Rae Gibbons with 25 seconds to go. Toliver made her fouls shots 10 seconds later, and UCSB missed its final shot.

"They couldn't possibly be more over confident," UCSB coach Mark French said. "The stars were perfectly lined up for us to pull off a great upset."

Maryland played without two-time All-America forward Crystal Langhorne, who has a sprained ankle. Head coach Brenda Frese, who is expecting twins in March, did not make the trip on advice of her doctor.

UCLA 75
Pauley Pavilion

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Kristi Toliver hit six 3-pointers and scored 22 points, and No. 3 Maryland overcame a 16-point second-half deficit to beat UCLA 79-75.

"We played great down the stretch," Toliver said. "We showed a lot of composure."

Marissa Coleman had 20 points, 10 rebounds and four assists for Maryland (8-0), which needed a 14-0 run to retake a lead it held the entire first half and hold off UCLA, which started three freshman and a sophomore.

UCLA coach Kathy Olivier thought her team's defensive intensity lulled down the stretch, allowing Maryland to storm back. She also felt her team didn't take full advantage of its lead, taking some poor shots and not putting together strong possessions.

"Down the stretch, their experience showed in a big, big way," Olivier said. "We needed to take good shots, not quick shots and use the clock. We had some good looks but they didn't go in for us."

Led by Toliver, Maryland made nine 3-pointers and shot nearly 53 percent from the field. Maryland outrebounded UCLA 42-33, but the Bruins (3-1) scored more points in the paint and had more second-chance points.

Laura Harper had 12 points and nine rebounds while Langhorne had 12 points but also seven turnovers for Maryland. Marah Strickland finished with nine points and nine rebounds.

Maryland didn't commit any of its turnovers during the final four minutes of the game.

"It shows the character of this team," Coleman said. "We worked hard and close games like this will test us in the long run."

Doreena Campbell added 15 points for UCLA while center Regina Rogers added 10 points.

"We saw what can happen if you let up on defense," Campbell said.

UCLA rallied from a 35-28 halftime deficit and took its first lead, 48-46, on Pluimer's layup with 13:31 left.

"Their guards are extremely physical," Toliver said. "They played great pressure defense and really pressured the ball. It was just a matter of overcoming that to get the ball in the basket."

Game 9
#3/3 Maryland 90
Pittsburgh 77
NOVEMBER 27, 2007
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Coming off a two-game swing to the West Coast, No. 3 Maryland toyed with Pittsburgh for a half.

Then jet lag caught up to the weary Terrapins.

Crystal Langhorne had 15 points and 13 rebounds, Laura Harper scored 21 to eclipse the 1,000-point mark, and Maryland held on for a 90-77 victory Tuesday night.

Kristi Toliver scored 20 for the Terrapins (9-0) and Marissa Coleman added 16. Coming off a holiday weekend in which it played UC Santa Barbara and UCLA in a three-day span, Maryland tired as the game wore on.

"I thought we looked like we're pretty much on a WNBA whirlwind tour right now with the schedule we're playing," coach Brenda Frese said. "I thought we let the fatigue factor play into our hands tonight."

The Terrapins led by 16 at halftime, then let the margin dwindle to 8 and won despite being outscored in the second half.

"Being able to grit this one out was nice," Frese said.

"It was definitely challenging," Toliver said. "We came out really strong and didn't focus too much on the fatigue that we had, but I think it showed down the stretch."

Playing in her second game since returning from a five-game layoff with an ankle injury, Langhorne went 6-for-8 from the floor and finished with her 45th career double-double.

"I think I did OK," she said, "but it's going to be a while until I really get back in the flow, get my wind back."

Harper, a senior forward, became the 24th women's player in school history to reach the 1,000-point mark. She has 1,013 points in 88 games.

Shavonte Zellous led the Panthers (3-2) with 30 points, one short of her career high. She scored 26 in the second half.

Coming off a narrow win over UCLA in which they trailed by 16 points, the Terrapins built an 18-point lead with nine minutes elapsed. Pittsburgh closed to 52-44 with 13:55 left, but couldn't not complete the comeback.

After Harper reached the 1,000-point mark with a layup that made it 52-35, Zellous made four straight baskets to spark a 9-0 run that got the Panthers within 8.

"It kind of happened," Harper said of reaching the milestone "and now I'm like, 'Dang, we've got to play defense.'"

Minutes later, Harper sank two free throws and added a layup to give the Terps a 14-point cushion with 8:49 to go.

The Terrapins limited Pittsburgh to 10-for-33 shooting and forced 10 turnovers in taking a 44-28 halftime lead.

Coleman scored off the opening tap, Langhorne made two straight baskets and Marah Strickland followed with a 3-pointer for a 9-0 lead. It was 13-2 before Jade Perry sandwiched four free throws around a fadeaway by jumper by Toliver to put the Terps up 19-4.

Pittsburgh started 2-for-10 from the field with four turnovers.

"We could have folded up our tent and gone home," Berenato said. "I was really proud of my team. We just competed and competed."

After the Panthers closed to 21-8, Langhorne made a driving layup and Strickland connected from beyond the arc to push the margin to 18.

#19/17 Ohio State 53
Big Ten/ACC Challenge
November 30, 2007
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - If Maryland keeps playing like this, it won't be long before the Terrapins again find themselves to be a hot topic of conversation.

Crystal Langhorne scored 17 points, Marissa Coleman added 14 and No. 3 Maryland beat Ohio State (No. 17 ESPN/USA Today, No. 19 AP) 77-53 in the women's Big Ten/ACC Challenge.

Two years ago, the Terrapins were deemed the third-best team in the Atlantic Coast Conference before they mounted a run to the national championship. There are six holdovers from that team, and at least two of them are beginning to get a familiar feeling about this season.

"Lang and I were talking about it last night. It's very similar to the year that we won it," Coleman said. "Nobody's really talking about Maryland. Everybody's talking about Connecticut and Tennessee and the rest of the country. It's just more motivation for us to go out there and play hard and try to dominate those clubs that we do play."

The Terrapins (10-0) did just that against the three-time defending Big Ten champion Buckeyes (5-2).

Langhorne and Laura Harper each had two layups in an 8-2 spurt that increased Maryland's 14-point halftime advantage to 47-27.

After Ohio State closed to 58-44, Langhorne made a layup, Harper hit a free throw and Marah Strickland scored in the lane to put the Terrapins ahead by 19 with 7:19 to play.

"A very, very convincing win," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "The best thing was just to be able to see how we executed defensively. We went in with a game plan and did a phenomenal job executing it to perfection."

Marscilla Packer, who came in averaging 17.7 points, went 2-for-11 and finished with six points for Ohio State.

"Obviously we're not going to win a lot of basketball games with Marscilla shooting like that," coach Jim Foster said. "She's a target. Coleman used her strength and size to do a great job on her."

Jantel Lavender had 16 points and 14 rebounds for the Buckeyes. Ohio State went 21-for-71 from the floor (30 percent) and missed 15 of its 21 shots from 3-point range.

Harper had 13 points and a team-high eight rebounds, and Kristi Toliver recorded 11 assists to help Maryland become the first team in the country with double figures in victories. Four of those wins have come against ranked opponents.

Strickland hit a 3-pointer off the opening tip, giving Maryland a lead it would not relinquish. Toliver scored five points and had two assists in an 11-0 run that made it 14-2, and the margin increased to 14 before the game was six minutes old.

After starting 2-for-13 with five turnovers, the Buckeyes used an 8-2 spree to get to 20-12. But a three-point play by Langhorne and two straight baskets by Jade Perry made it a 15-point game.

Langhorne finished with six rebounds to reach 966 for her career, two short of the school record held by Vicky Bullett. The senior center has 44 points in three starts since returning from a sprained ankle that forced her to miss six of Maryland's first seven games.

JIMMY V Classic
Louis Brown Athletic Center

PISCATAWAY, N.J. (AP) - With two starters on the bench in foul trouble and Rutgers down 10 points, Scarlet Knights sophomore Epiphanny Prince took over.

Prince had 22 points, 10 assists and seven rebounds and keyed a second-half run to help No. 4 Rutgers beat third-ranked Maryland 68-60 in the sixth annual Jimmy V Women's Basketball Classic.

"Epiphanny did a tremendous job when Matee and Kia went out," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "Unfortunately we didn't. She brought them energy in the second half."

Matee Ajavon added 15 points for the Scarlet Knights (5-1). Essence Carson, who missed Rutgers' victory over Saint Joseph's on Wednesday with a strained hip flexor, also had 15.

Trailing 41-31 with 12:57 left in the game and Kia Vaughn and Ajavon on the bench, Rutgers (5-1) went on a 15-4 run capped by back-to-back 3-pointers by Prince to give the Scarlet Knights a 46-45 lead. It was Rutgers' first lead since midway through the first half.

"She took the shots that were there when we needed them," Carson said of Prince. "She did a great job distributing the ball."

Rutgers extended the lead to 55-50 before Kristi Toliver's 3-pointer made it a two-point game.

Toliver surpassed the 1,000-point mark with another 3-pointer with 1:33 left that made it 61-57, but Maryland could get no closer as Rutgers hit its free throws down the stretch. The junior guard became the third Terrapins player this season to pass the 1,000-point milestone.

Marissa Coleman led Maryland (10-1) with 17 points and 11 rebounds. Toliver added 15 points, but was only 4-for-15 from the field. The Terrapins shot only 21.7 percent (5-for-23) from the field in the second half.

"Credit their defense, contesting every shot," Frese said.

For the first 15 minutes, Rutgers had the tempo to its liking. The game was slow-paced and the score was tied at 20.

Maryland then picked up the defensive effort, switching to a zone. The Terps went on a 13-3 run to close the half, taking a 33-23 advantage at the break. Maryland shot 61.9 percent (13-for-21) in the first half.

"I think all the credit goes to Rutgers. They got a low-scoring defensive game and they did a tremendous job dictating tempo," Frese said.

The teams exchanged baskets to start the second half as Maryland maintained its 10-point lead before Rutgers' run.

Crystal Langhorne broke Maryland's rebounding mark, surpassing Vicky Bullet's career record of 968. She needed two boards coming in and had seven.

"It's bad that it happened at this game," Langhorne said. "But it's special to achieve that record."

Maryland had already beaten No. 8 LSU, No. 9 Oklahoma, No. 16 Notre Dame and No. 19 Ohio State.

"They were playing the best basketball of any team in the country," Rutgers coach C. Vivian Stringer said. "I'm extremely proud of the way our team played."

This was the first meeting between the teams since 1998, which Rutgers won 81-61.

#3/4 Maryland 74
Middle Tennessee St. 69
December 5, 2007

Toliver, who was so sick she couldn't make it through the postgame press conference, scored 19 points and started a late 11-0 run to help the third-ranked Terrapins to a 74-69 victory over the Blue Raiders.

"She's the best point guard in the country," Middle Tennessee coach Rick Insell of Toliver. "You've got people around the country talking about this one and that one, and I won't mention any names, but I'm telling you right now the best point guard in the country was out there on that floor tonight."

The Terrapins (11-1), who suffered their first loss of the season Monday at Rutgers, were sluggish throughout, unable to pull away from a Blue Raiders team that had lost consecutive games to Southern Conference opponents.

Amber Holt banked in a jumper with 5 minutes remaining to give Middle Tennessee (3-4) a 61-60 lead. However, Maryland went on an 11-0 run, sparked by seven points from Toliver, to move ahead 72-62.

Middle Tennessee fought back with a 7-0 run aided by two Terrapins turnovers to pull within three. After another Maryland turnover, Chelsia Lymon made a layup that would've cut the Blue Raiders' deficit to 72-71 but was called for a charge, eliminating the bucket.

Toliver made a pair of free throws on the Terps' ensuing possession, ending any chance of an upset.

"We did everything to try to defend them the best could," Terps assistant coach Daron Park said. "Credit our upperclassman for understanding how much effort it takes sometimes to win a college basketball game in less than ideal conditions. You are facing adversity and things don't seem to be going your way and you dig deeper. I felt like we did that tonight. Our effort down the stretch was sensational."

Park was filling in for Maryland coach Brenda Frese, who is pregnant with twins and wasn't on the bench due to an illness that swept through the team. The game was the third Frese has missed this season. She didn't travel with the team on a two-game West Coast trip on the advice of her obstetrician.

Laura Harper scored 16 points and Crystal Langhore made 7 of 8 shots and scored 14 points for Maryland.

Brandi Brown led Middle Tennessee with 22 points and made six of the team's 12 3-pointers. Holt finished with 18 points and Lymon scored 12. Middle Tennessee became the first team all season to outrebound Maryland with a 40-34 advantage on the boards.

Middle Tennessee made seven consecutive shots early in the second half, capped by Holt's layup that gave the Blue Raiders a 45-44 lead with 13:59 remaining. The Terrapins quickly regained the lead after consecutive baskets by Marissa Coleman and Harper, but the Blue Raiders refused to wilt.

Middle Tennessee, which put a scare into the Terps in an 80-76 loss last season, trailed just 35-29 at the half, using a barrage of 3s to stay close. Seven of the Blue Raiders' 10 first-half field goals were 3s.

Game 13
#3/6 Maryland 91
Northern Iowa 37
December 7, 2007
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - After enduring two straight close games and a wicked virus that spread throughout the locker room, No. 3 Maryland was in desperate need of an easy win.

Northern Iowa proved to be the ideal foe.

Marissa Coleman had 22 points and 12 rebounds, and four other players scored in double figures for the Terrapins in a 91-37 rout.

It was a welcome breather for Maryland (12-1), which was coming off a loss to Rutgers and a narrow victory over Middle Tennessee State. In that latter game, coach Brenda Frese was sidelined with a stomach virus and several players operated at less than 100 percent.

"We needed a game like this to recover," Frese said.

"I think for all of us, we weren't happy with our last two performances," Coleman said. "We wanted to go out there and play as hard as we could with a lot of energy and emotion. When we play with that kind of energy and emotion, there are not too many teams that can play with us."

Certainly not Northern Iowa (4-3).

"There's no question that they have all the pieces to win the national championship," Panthers first-year coach Tanya Warren said. "If they stay healthy, I'd be shocked if they didn't win it."

Laura Harper had 10 points and 11 rebounds for the Terrapins, who scored the game's first 13 points, then used an 18-0 run to go up 37-9 with 5:57 left in the first half.

"We're definitely on the road to recovery," Frese said. "Much better energy; this is the level we're capable of playing at."

Crystal Langhorne scored 14, Marah Strickland 13 and Kristi Toliver added 12 for Maryland.

Traci Ollendieck led Northern Iowa with 14 points. The Panthers shot 26 percent and were outrebounded 52-19.

A year ago, the Terrapins led 35-8 at halftime in a 77-33 blowout of Northern Iowa.

This game wasn't much different. While the Panthers missed their first six shots and committed three turnovers, Maryland got points from four different players in building a 13-0 lead.

It was 19-9 before Harper made three baskets in the 18-point blitz. Warren attempted to stem the onslaught with a series of timeouts, but the strategy only delayed the inevitable.

Maryland shot 58 percent in the first half, forced 10 turnovers and held a 19-9 rebounding advantage.

Game 14
#3/6 Maryland 64
Temple 46
December 9, 2007
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Maryland closed a grueling stretch of 14 games in 31 days with one of its most physical challenges.

Not only did the Terps rise to the challenge, they rolled to a blowout.

Kristi Toliver had 15 points and added 11 assists, helping No. 3 Maryland beat Temple 64-46.

Crystal Langhorne added 14 points and six rebounds for the Terrapins (13-1), who jumped to an early 19-4 lead and led by as many as 21 points in the second half.

"I'm extremely pleased and proud, obviously, of this game, as well as the toughness that we have shown playing 14 games in 31 days," said Maryland coach Brenda Frese. "We have played 12 different conferences, so it's exciting. ... We're prepared and

The Terps now have an 11-day respite from playing - and they might need it after the Owls gave them one of their more physical games of the season.

"Other than the Rutgers game, this was probably the most physical game we've played," said Langhorne, who had 10 points in the first half as Maryland led 28-18.

It was the lowest scoring first half of the season both offensively and defensively for the Terps, who led by as many as 21 points in the second half.

Maryland had just 19 field goals, but made 24 of 32 free throws.

"It was a very physical game, but we kept our poise and composure and really did a tremendous job for 40 minutes," Frese said.

Temple, which committed 25 fouls, got just nine free throws - making six Temple didn't help itself with its shooting, either. The Owls didn't score over the game's first five minutes and made just two of their first 15 shots.

The Owls shot just 24 percent (6-of-25) in the first half and 32.8 percent for the game. Maryland shot 60 percent during that beginning stretch and 46.3 percent for the game.

Toliver scored all her points in the second half after collecting seven assists in the first half. It was Toliver's fourth double-double of the season and sixth of her career.

"She's the key. Anytime you have a point guard like Kristi you have to contain her because she can distribute the ball," Staley said.

Also in double figures for Maryland was Marissa Coleman with 12 points. Laura Harper added nine points and seven rebounds.

Maryland has now won three in a row since losing its only game of the season to No. 4 Rutgers on Dec. 3. The Terps don't play again until Dec. 20.

"They have earned a well-deserved break, so we're going to get away from each other," Frese said of her team. "We're going to allow them to be students because I don't think the schedule has been very kind."

"It's been tough, but it's been fun," she said. "When we first saw the schedule, we were excited. We were happy because there wasn't a lot of time for practice. After we got into it, though, we were hoping for some practices."

Ashley Morris scored 13 points and Shenita Landry had 10 for Temple.

Langhorne has 1,810 points for her career, the third-player to reach that mark at Maryland. Toliver's assists moved her into fifth place all-time for the program with 417.

The Owls got back to 51-39 with 6:32 to play, but Maryland scored nine points in a row for its biggest lead at 60-39 with 3:46 to play.

James Madison 65

JMU Convocation Center

HARRISONBURG, Va. (AP) - James Madison players were tired of hearing about Kristi Toliver's homecoming, and they were determined to shut her down. They succeeded.

But they had no answer for Laura Harper, who scored 24 points to lead No. 4 Maryland to a hard-fought 71-65 victory before a near-capacity crowd that turned out largely to see Toliver, the Terrapins' point guard and leading scorer who grew up in Harrisonburg.

Toliver's pre-game introduction was greeted with a loud cheer, which did not go unnoticed by Dukes players.

"I saw fire in their eyes, because they're very proud kids," said James Madison coach Kenny Brooks, who has known Toliver for most of her life and remains close to her.

Toliver said she didn't feel any additional pressure before the home folks, but it wasn't one of her better performances. She sat on the bench most of the first half after picking up two early fouls and finished with eight points - well below her 17.5 average - on 3-of-10 shooting.

"I was just trying to embrace everything and have fun," Toliver said. "I came out with two little fouls, but my team stepped up and played great."

She needed all the help she could get from her teammates to withstand a gritty performance by the Dukes, who led by 10 in the second half but faded down the stretch against the physical Terrapins.

James Madison (6-3) was led by Tamera Young with 28 points. Freshman point guard Dawn Evans added 11, and Jasmin Lawrence 10.

The night was supposed to belong to Toliver, but she got off to a slow start, missing her first two shots and going to the bench after picking up her second foul with 17:56 left in the first half. She remained there until less than four minutes remained before the break.

"The game was being called tight," Frese said. "I told Kristi to just keep her poise and composure. She did a much better job with that in the second half."

James Madison center Jennifer Brown said the Dukes came out determined to slow down Toliver "because there was so much hype about her coming home."

Brooks called the experience of competing against Toliver "awkward."

How awkward? His daughter spotted Toliver during the pre-game shoot-around asked if she could go say hello.

"I said, 'No. This is a JMU night,'" Brooks said.

And it nearly was, but the Terrapins survived with good defense and free throw shooting down the stretch, snapping the longest home winning streak in Division 1 at 30 games. The same crowd that joyfully cheered Toliver at the start of the game gave the Dukes a standing ovation as they left the court afterward.

"The people who came out were treated to something special," Brooks said.

Maryland bolted to a 6-0 lead, but James Madison went on a 21-6 run over the next 6:45. The Terrapins rallied and regained the lead 29-27 on two Jasmin Coleman free throws with 1:50 left in the half.

James Madison scored the first seven points of the second half to take a 40-33 lead, but Maryland battled back to take a 45-44 lead on Jade Perry's follow shot. The Dukes' Evans hit a 3. Young buried three consecutive shot jumpers and Lawrence hit a layup after a steal for a 55-45 James Madison advantage.

The Terrapins whittled away, taking the lead for good 64-63 on a layup by Coleman with 3:35 left. Toliver and Crystal Langhorne iced the win with two free throws each in the final 15 seconds.

Terrapin Classic
DECEMBER 29, 2007

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Marissa Coleman knew if Maryland kept to its game, Richmond wouldn't be a problem. She just didn't know how easy the Terrapins would make things look.

Coleman scored 23 points, Crystal Langhorne had 15 points and 15 rebounds, and Maryland beat Richmond 89-59.

"I knew if we came out and played together and played our style of basketball and kept the tempo going, we could have a commanding lead," Coleman said. "You never go into a game saying you're going to win by a certain amount of points."

Brittani Shells led Richmond (7-6) with 27 points. Danielle Bell scored 10 points, and Johanna McKnight added nine points and five rebounds.

Coleman went 6-for-8 from the floor, made four 3-pointers and grabbed 10 rebounds to ignite the Terrapins (15-1).

Maryland opened with a 7-0 run, led by as many as 35 points and never trailed.

"I thought we showed some good signs coming off the holiday break," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "You're always a little bit rusty this time of year, but I liked how we came out with our intensity defensively from the start."

Marah Strickland's pull-up jumper from the baseline put Maryland ahead by nine points with 13:22 left in the first half, and she pushed the lead to 17-6 with a 16-footer 2 minutes later.

"I thought we came out with a lot of energy and clicked immediately," Maryland guard Kristi Toliver said.

"My teammates found me for a couple of open shots, which really kind of got my confidence going for the rest of the game," Coleman said.

Maryland, which hasn't lost in five games following a 68-60 loss to Rutgers, took a 47-26 lead into halftime. The Terrapins shot 54 percent from the floor and made 29 of 39 free-throw attempts.

"I thought we came in here and competed very, very hard," Richmond coach Michael Shafer said. "I thought our kids came in here and tried to match up with the physicality of the game and tried to play as hard as they could."

Shells scored eight consecutive Richmond points in the second half. Her 3-pointer with 17:38 to play brought the Spiders within 20 points, and her long jumper from the top of the arc made the score 51-33. After making only three shots in the first half, Shells scored 21 points in the second including a 4-for-7 mark from beyond the 3-point line.

"Brittani gives you an opportunity to create off the dribble and create shots," Shafer said. "She's been a kid, at least in our league, that we've been missing."

Following a layup by Langhorne, Shells knocked down another 3-pointer to cut the Spiders' deficit to 53-36. Coleman followed with a 3-pointer with 15:54 left, and Jade Perry's layup put Maryland ahead by 22. Toliver scored seven of her 16 points during a 13-0 run late in the second half that built the lead to 85-50.

"If we can consistently play like that," Frese said, "there's no team in the country that's going to be able to score off us."

TERRAPIN CLASSIC
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - The Maryland Terrapins started their game against UMBC with an onslaught of 3-pointers. They never stopped.

Marissa Coleman scored 18 points and No. 5 Maryland made an ACC-record 17 3-pointers in a 98-56 win against UMBC in the Terrapin Classic.

The Terps, who made 60.7 percent of their 28 3-point attempts, eclipsed the previous ACC-record of 16, set by Wake Forest on Feb. 12, 2006. The old school-record was 12, a mark Maryland equaled in a win earlier this season against Notre Dame.

"I know this team likes to break a lot of records," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "I thought we were really unselfish with our ball movement, being able to get the ball inside, being able to get nice kicks out to our perimeter players, who were obviously ready to knock down a lot of shots."

Carlee Cassidy scored 24 points, including five 3-pointers, to lead UMBC (4-9), which lost its third consecutive game. Kristin Drabyn had 13 points for the Retrievers, who made 10 3-pointers of their own.

The victory completed the non-conference portion of the schedule for the Terrapins (16-1), the preseason favorite to win the ACC. The win was Maryland's 10th in a row in the Terrapin Classic, an event it hosts.

With only one starter listed at taller than 5-feet-10, UMBC played a zone, daring Maryland to beat it from the perimeter. The Terps obliged.

Kristi Toliver scored Maryland's first three buckets -- all of them 3-pointers -- starting a barrage that didn't end until nearly the final whistle. The Terps opened the first half making four consecutive 3-pointers and the second by making three in a row.

Five different Maryland players made 3-pointers, led by Coleman, who made six, and Toliver, who scored 15 of her 17 points from beyond the arc.

"My teammates were just finding me in open spots," Coleman said. "We had a great ball movement. I was getting in the opening areas and luckily knocking down my shots."

While Maryland's perimeter play was record-setting, its interior dominance was no less complete.

Laura Harper had 16 points and nine rebounds and Crystal Langhorne had 14 points and 10 rebounds, as the duo routinely scored on easy lay-ups and stick-backs.

Maryland outrebounded the overmatched Retrievers 44-11. Marah Strickland scored 12 points for Maryland.

"We will grow from tonight," said UMBC coach Phil Stern, who led his team to the 2007 NCAA Tournament. "You have to understand, there are four or five great teams in the country in women's basketball; they are one of them. Anybody else we play tonight, we are in the game."

UMBC had an early 6-3 lead after making consecutive 3-pointers but Maryland had first half runs of 18 and 21-0 en route to a 57-30 lead at the half.

Crystal Langhorne had 15 points and 10 rebounds, and the fifth-ranked Terrapins beat Wake Forest 83-49.

"We've been preparing for this all season," Langhorne said. "Coach Frese and her staff did a great job just getting us ready. We knew that she'd be out sooner or later, and we're getting used to that fact now."

With assistant coach Daron Park leading the team, Maryland dominated Wake Forest in the first half, holding the Demon Deacons to 20 percent shooting and outrebounding them 31-13 in racing to a 34-point halftime lead.

"Our kids did a great job the last three days preparing for this game," Park said. "We set the tone early, especially in the first 20 minutes. That was the most dominating performance I've seen in quite a while."

Laura Harper and Kristi Toliver also had 15 points each and Marah Strickland added 10 for Maryland (17-1, 1-0), which shot better than 51 percent in winning its seventh straight game.

Camille Collier scored 10 points and Alex Tchangoue had eight for the Demon Deacons (12-3, 0-1), who shot just 30 percent from the field in losing their 16th consecutive league game.

"Our defensive effort in the first half was tremendous," Toliver said. "We wanted to come out of the gate with a lot of energy and intensity. The better our defense is, the better our offense plays."

The Demon Deacons did not reach double-digit scoring until the 6:20 mark of the half, when Kem Wilson's jumper made the score 32-10.

"We just didn't play our game," Wake Forest forward Corinne Groves said. "Our shots weren't falling, and that got everybody screwed up in the head. We were freaking out."

"From the gate, they did a very good job of dictating the tempo," said Wake Forest head coach Mike Petersen, whose team led the ACC in scoring defense (47.1 points per game) and field-goal percentage defense (33.5 percent).

"They made us play bad.... [But] we relaxed and made some shots in the second half that we didn't make in the first half."

The Demon Deacons made a brief rally to open the second half, with Tchangoue's jumper capping a 6-2 run that cut the Terrapins' lead to 49-19.

However, Wake Forest's run sputtered and Maryland's lead was too big. The Terrapin's stretched its margin to 41 points twice in the half, the last at 82-41 on Toliver's three-point play with 2:15 remaining.

"I think we proved a couple things tonight," Petersen said. "We proved that they're No. 5 in the country for a reason, and we proved that when we don't dictate how the game is played, we're going to have problems. Clearly, Maryland dictated how the game was going to be played."

COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Maryland coach Brenda Frese found the Terrapins' win over Clemson thoroughly entertaining.

No surprise there. Maryland won by 64 points.

Laura Harper matched a career high with 27 points, Crystal Langhorne added 25 and No. 5 Maryland beat Clemson 110-46, their eighth straight win.

"It was a fun game. The exciting part is seeing where we're at now, where we're getting defensively, getting better and better every game," Frese said.

The 64-point margin of victory matched Maryland's (18-1, 2-0) most lopsided win in 28 years in ACC play -- a 117-53 win over Wake Forest on Jan. 23, 1980. It was their second largest margin of victory ever.

The Terps scored 100 points in a game for the first time since Jan. 10, 2007. They had scored 98 points twice earlier this season.

Clemson (7-9, 0-1) lost its fourth in a row overall and seventh straight to Maryland dating to March 2003.

The loss was Clemson's biggest ever. It's previous biggest defeat was by 57 points to Duke in 2004.

"Maryland is a great team, they have a lot of weapons. I just would have liked to compete a little better," Clemson coach Cristy McKinney said. "They probably get more work done in practice than they did today against us because I just didn't feel like we competed like we wanted to."

Harper added 11 rebounds for the 16th double-double of her career. Langhorne moved into second on Maryland's career scoring list with 1,890 points, passing Shay Doron. She now trails all-time leader Vicky Bullett (1,928) by just 38 points.

"I really like where they (Harper and Langhorne) are right now," Frese said. "They are doing a tremendous job with their leadership and their vocal spirit."

Harper said she and Langhorne enjoy playing together.

"I know we make each other better," Harper said. "Her being left-handed and me being right-handed just works out so nicely and we both have our sides of the court. We just love playing together and it's great."

Kristi Toliver added 19 points and 10 assists for the seventh double-double of her career. Marah Strickland had 11 points.

Maryland senior Ashleigh Newman tied a school record, playing in her 123rd consecutive game. Newman has played in every game during her four year Maryland career.

"Ashleigh's fought through a lot of adversity and injuries throughout her career and so it's a great accomplishment," Frese said. "With so many injuries, her being able to (play) every game speaks to her toughness."

"That's an amazing stat (45-0). I have never seen a stat like that for us," Frese said. "It shows that we're really being aggressive on defense and doing a good job of handling the ball on offense."

The Terps shot 73.3 percent in the second half and 62.1 percent for the game.

Clemson was led by Sthefany Thomas with nine points. The Tigers shot 36.4 percent for the game.

Maryland jumped to a 12-2 lead over the game's first four minutes and never trailed. Clemson closed to 14-9, but a 15-3 run by the Terps that included 11 straight points put Maryland up 29-12 with eight minutes to play in the first half.

The Terps stretched their advantage to 52-28 at halftime. A 22-4 run to open the second half put them up 74-32 with just under 14 minutes to play.

BOSTON (AP) - Carolyn Swords was going to high school nearby when Maryland brought a bunch of underclassmen to the new Boston Garden and won the 2006 NCAA championship.

Now she's a Boston College freshman, and those title-winning Terrapins are seniors and juniors who have the school back near the top of women's college basketball.

"I was very excited to play a nationally ranked team," Swords said, still grinning even though her 28 points and 13 rebounds couldn't stop No. 4 Maryland from beating BC 88-61. "It was very exciting to play those players from that team that won."

Crystal Langhorne had 18 points and 18 rebounds to break the Maryland career rebounding record set by Len Elmore and help the Terrapins (19-1, 3-0 Atlantic Coast Conference) win their ninth straight game. Kristi Toliver, who as a freshman sank a 3-pointer to force overtime in the championship game, had a season-high 26 points to go with seven assists.

"I can't say enough about the leadership that our seniors and our juniors bring to this team," said assistant coach Daron Park, who is filling in on road games because Brenda Frese is expecting twins in March and her doctors told her not to travel.

"You have no idea. It's amazing what this team has done for me, not only as a coach but just as a person. The way they welcomed me into the Maryland family, some of the things I've learned along the way."

"Brenda could have kids every year during the season and they'd still be good," Inglese said. "The whole staff is doing a great job getting them prepared. You've got to give a lot of credit to them."

Swords has known that since attending the '06 national semifinals and then watching Maryland beat Duke in the title game on TV. But the 6-foot-6 freshman from suburban Sudbury was neither nervous nor overmatched, going 12-for-16 from the floor - the only BC player in double figures and the only one to make more than half of her shots.

The same was true for throughout the BC lineup.

"They knew Maryland was a veteran team. They have a lot of experience. They weren't intimidated by it," Inglese said. "If you're going to lose, learn from it."

Langhorne came into the game needing seven rebounds to break the school mark of 1,053 that was set by Elmore before he went on to a 10-year career in the ABA and NBA. She got the record-breaker on Ayla Brown's missed layup with 9:13 left in the first half and finished the game with 1,065 career boards.

"I've definitely seen him on campus and seen him on TV," Langhorne said. "It means a lot, just to be in that category. But I still focus on team goals."

Maryland led from the first free throw, opening a 13-3 lead with 14:10 left in the first half and going up by 15, 29-14, before BC staged any sort of rally. Swords had a pair of second-chance baskets as the Eagles scored eight straight points.

But the Terps scored 11 of the next 13 points, with four points each by Langhorne and Laura Harper.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Maryland's seniors already know how it feels to win the NCAA championship. Now, finally, they know what it's like to beat Duke at home.

Marissa Coleman scored a career-high tying 30 points, and No. 4 Maryland pulled away to an 85-70 victory over the 10th-ranked Blue Devils before 15,531 fans, the fifth-largest crowd in Atlantic Coast Conference history

The Terrapins (20-1, 4-0) had lost nine straight at home against Duke (13-4, 2-1), including a 69-57 decision last season before a sellout crowd.

"We wanted to end this streak," senior guard Laura Harper said. "It was important to us. We can smile right now."

The game was a rematch of the 2006 national championship game, which Maryland won in overtime. The stakes weren't as high this time, but that didn't blunt the pleasure the Terrapins derived from beating their conference rivals.

"We had extra motivation. We wanted to send our seniors out with a win over Duke at home," Coleman said.

It was the 10th straight win for the Terps (20-1, 4-0), who blew a 13-point lead in the second half but never trailed. Kristi Toliver scored 19 of her 21 points after halftime. Crystal Langhorne finished with 16 and Harper added 13.

The Terrapins took 42 free throws and outscored the Blue Devils 33-10 at the foul line. But the biggest factor was Coleman, who went 9-for-13 from the floor and 8-for-11 at the line.

"No doubt, Marissa was the difference-maker," Duke coach Joanne McCallie said.

Coleman made a 3-pointer, a layup and two free throws in a 13-0 run that made it 81-68 with 2:09 left.

"Duke had no answer for Marissa. I thought she was phenomenal to watch," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said.

"We've got to work on our poise down the stretch," McCallie said. "We played too fast, probably made some poor decisions. We just didn't finish."

Down 13 early in the first half, Duke used its second 10-0 run of the game to close to 47-44. Maryland upped the advantage to 9 points, but simply couldn't pull away.

Baskets by Carrem Gay and Thomas made it 60-55, and after Toliver answered with a long 3-pointer as the shot-clock was about the expire, Gay made a three-point play to keep Duke within 5.

Minutes later, the Blue Devils completed the comeback, getting four points from Smith in a 7-0 burst that tied it at 65 with 7 minutes to go.

"I was very proud of how we kept our composure," Frese said.

Coleman scored 17, and the Terrapins went 17-for-18 at the foul line to take a 43-32 halftime lead.

Maryland missed its first four shots, then made five of the next six to go up 17-4. The Blue Devils started 1-for-8 from the floor, and McCallie burned two timeouts in the opening six minutes in an effort to keep the Terrapins from pulling away.

After Duke scored 10 straight points to get within 3, Langhorne made two layups and three free throws in a 14-6 spurt that made it 31-20.

Again, the Blue Devils fought back. Smith hit a 3-pointer, Joy Cheek made a layup and Abby Waner turned a steal into a three-point play to cut the deficit to 31-28. But Maryland answered with six straight foul shots to build the margin back to 9, and Coleman made successive 3-pointers near the end of the half to lift many in the crowd out of their seats.

The top seven crowds in ACC history have all been at Maryland.

"It was a fun game to be involved in," McCallie said, "until there were six minutes left."

Virginia 62
John Paul Jones Arena

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) - As a freshman on one of the top teams in women's college basketball, Marah Strickland has quickly come to know her place.

She's a shooter, one encouraged to be a "catch and shoot kid," interim coach Daron Park said, and she made the biggest shot of the night in fourth-ranked Maryland's 74-62 win over pesky Virginia.

"Every shot we shot and hit tonight was very important," Strickland said.

Strickland's 3 with 5:50 left was followed by one 44 seconds later by Virginia native Knsti Toliver, allowing the Terrapins to pull away from a 56-all tie.

"It really took the stuffing out of us," Virginia coach Debbie Ryan said. "They made those two 3s and it just seemed like a mountain for the team to climb."

Maryland (21-1, 5-0 Atlantic Coast Conference), playing without coach Brenda Frese because she is pregnant with twins and not allowed to travel, earned its 11th consecutive win.

The Cavaliers (13-5, 2-1) were hurt by the consecutive 3s but the Terrapins' dominance inside also was critical. Virginia had won seven straight.

Crystal Langhorne, who needed just five points to become Maryland's career scoring leader, had 20 points and 16 rebounds, and Marissa Coleman scored 13 points.

Langhorne said the ending suggested Maryland wore Virginia down.

"They started out pushing a lot in transition, but as the game went on, I think we got to them with our different looks that we were giving them defensively," she said.

Monica Wright led Virginia with 22 points, but went to the bench after her fourth foul with more than 9 minutes to play. Maryland took control shortly thereafter.

Strickland finished with 19 points, and Toliver had 16 points and five assists.

Virginia was outscored 18-6 the last 5:50 in its fifth straight loss to Maryland.

The Cavaliers got 13 points from Lyndra Littles and 12 from Sharnee Zoll.

The Terrapins trailed 34-33 at the half, but got three straight baskets from in close by Langhorne as part of an 8-2 run that gave them a 41-36 lead early in the second half. Wright's jumper and 3-pointer tied it, and then Toliver and Wright exchanged 3-point baskets.

#4/4 Maryland 99
Georgia Tech 95 (20T)
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Brenda Frese was fidgeting as the game moved into the first overtime. Her discomfort could only partially be attributed to the plight of No. 4 Maryland, which was locked in a seesaw duel with Georgia Tech.

Seven months pregnant with twins, Frese proved to be a source of amusement to her players during the Terrapins' dramatic 99-95 victory.

"I tried to loosen the girls up in the huddle going into overtime and double overtime because I had to go to the bathroom so bad," Frese said.

Crystal Langhorne had 31 points and 15 rebounds, and Marissa Coleman scored Maryland's first five points in the second overtime to carry the Terrapins (22-1, 6-0 Atlantic Coast Conference) past the stubborn Yellow Jackets.

Laura Harper scored 24 and grabbed a career-high 20 rebounds for Maryland, which overcame 25 turnovers to earn its 12th straight win in a game that featured 23 lead changes and 18 ties.

"I thought we showed tremendous character down the stretch," Frese said. "It's just a special win."

"They say they want me to get this thing done," Frese said. "Maybe that was their way of helping it along."

Alex Montgomery scored 26 and Janie Mitchell and Iasia Hemingway had 20 apiece for the Yellow Jackets (16-3, 3-2).

"It was a great battle and it was a great game for the ACC," Tech coach MaChelle Joseph said. "It was down to free throws, and you can't defend free throws."

Coleman started the second overtime with a basket, but Jacqua Williams answered with a 3-pointer for Georgia Tech to make it 95-94. After Coleman sank three free throws, Mitchell misfired before Langhorne clinched it by making two free throws with 4.1 seconds to go.

"This game showed why Crystal Langhorne is an All-American," Joseph said. "I've said it before and I'll say it again: She's the best post player in America."

The Yellow Jackets had the last shot in regulation and in the first overtime, yet failed to connect on both occasions.

In regulation, Mitchell sank a 3-pointer under pressure to tie it at 82 with 10 seconds to go. Then, after a Maryland turnover, Williams' jumper bounced off the rim as the buzzer sounded.

The Terrapins made only two baskets in the final eight minutes of regulation but had 13 points at the foul line.

Georgia Tech scored the first six points in the initial overtime, but a 3-pointer by Coleman and a three-point play by Langhorne brought Maryland back. It was 92-all before Coleman missed a 3-point try, and Williams was fouled getting the rebound. But she botched the front end of a 1-and-1 with 1.6 seconds left.

Maryland trailed 43-40 early in the second half before Langhorne made a layup and Marah Strickland connected from beyond the arc to spark a 13-3 run that put the Terrapins up 53-46.

But Georgia Tech wouldn't crumble. Williams made a layup and Montgomery followed with seven straight points to put the Yellow Jackets back in front. Hemingway then stole the ball from Kristi Toliver at midcourt and drove in for a layup to cap the 11-point spree.

"It was a very emotional game," Coleman said. "We knew it was going to be tough. We fought through it as a team and we stayed composed."

Game 24

#3/4 North Carolina 97
#4/3 Maryland 86 (2OT)

Carmichael Auditorium

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - LaToya Pringle scored 12 of her career-high 31 points in the second overtime to help the third-ranked Tar Heels beat No. 4 Maryland 97-86.

Erlana Larkins had 25 points and 18 rebounds for the Tar Heels (18-2, 5-0 Atlantic Coast Conference), who bounced back from a loss to the Huskies with a thrilling home victory.

In a matchup befitting the rivalry of recent seasons, North Carolina turned in the kind of steady late-game performance it lacked in road losses to the Huskies and to Tennessee earlier this year.

Of course, if Pringle and Larkins keep playing like this, North Carolina should be just fine.

Pringle has spent the bulk of her career toiling in the background while Larkins, Latta and Little got the attention in the Tar Heels' run to consecutive Final Fours. Yet against the Terrapins (22-2, 6-1), she made the overtime-forcing three-point play and scored six straight points in the second OT as the Tar Heels finally pulled away.

She finished 11-for-16 from the field, pulled down nine rebounds and blocked three shots in 40 minutes. She did all that despite taking an elbow to that cut open her lip midway through the second half, forcing her to change out of her bloodied No. 30 jersey and don the No. 55 with no name on the back.

After Larkins knocked down two free throws for the lead just a few seconds into the second overtime, the 6-foot-3 Pringle went to work. She scored inside off a feed from Larkins and knocked down a jumper in the lane off a feed from Jessica Breland before scoring on a putback to make it 87-82 with 1:52 left.

Maryland got no closer the rest of the way, with Pringle going 6-for-6 at the line in the final minute to help seal it.

Rashanda McCants added 14 points, nine rebounds and eight assists for North Carolina, which led by 10 points early but had to rally from a seven-point deficit midway through the second half. She also had a layup off a steal to tie it at 79 with 31 seconds left in the first overtime.

Crystal Langhorne had 23 points to lead the Terrapins, who had won 12 straight games. Marissa Coleman added 20 points and 13 rebounds, while Kristi Toliver had 20 points and 14 assists.

"Someone told me a long time ago going on the road in the ACC was going to be real tough and we saw it first hand today," said assistant coach Daron Park, who coaches the team's road games with Brenda Frese unable to travel due to her pregnancy. "I thought we showed great composure from the opening tip, getting down early and keeping our heads about us and battling back."

It was the sixth straight meeting in which both teams were ranked in the top 10. Two years ago, Maryland handed North Carolina its only two losses, the second coming in the Final Four on the Terps' way to the national championship. Last year, the Tar Heels won on the road in the regular season and beat the Terrapins in the ACC tournament semifinals.

After Pringle's three-point play tied it at 71 with 46.5 seconds left in regulation, both teams had a chance to avoid overtime. But Breland blocked Coleman's jumper on one end while Pringle's putback of a missed 3 from McCants rattled out as the horn sounded.

#5/5 Maryland 90
Miami 50

January 31, 2008
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - For No. 5 Maryland, beating Miami was easy compared to the task of celebrating another milestone by Crystal Langhorne.

Langhorne scored 19 points to become the first female to reach 2,000 for the Terrapins, and Maryland cruised to its school-record 16th home win of the season, 90-50.

Langhorne, a 6-foot-2 senior center, started the game needing only 2 points to reach 2,000. She got it on her first shot, a 16-footer behind the foul line with 25 seconds elapsed.

After the game, Langhorne was presented the game ball by coach Brenda Frese. The Terrapins then awkwardly attempted to hoist Langhorne on their shoulders at midcourt. They managed to get her airborne, but her position atop the shoulders of backup forward Jade Perry was precarious at best.

"I don't know what they were thinking," Langhorne said. "But it was fun."

Langhorne already owns the school rebounding record, male or female, with 1,111. Juan Dixon is the school leader in scoring with 2,269, one of five men with at least 2,000 points.

Langhorne isn't the only person helping rewrite the Maryland women's record book. Kristi Toliver had 10 assists, giving her 508 for her career, second on school list.

"The team that I'm playing with, and their ability to score, makes my job so much easier," said Toliver, a junior guard.

Marah Strickland scored 14 and Laura Harper had 13 to help Maryland improve to 16-0 at home. The Terps (23-2, 7-1 ACC) had an easy time of it after playing two straight double-overtime games, a win over Georgia Tech and a loss at North Carolina.

"To be able to have a convincing win like tonight says a lot about our character," Frese said.

Maurita Reid led Miami (8-13, 1-5) with 15 points. The Hurricanes have lost four straight, and this was by far their most lopsided defeat of the season. But it wasn't nearly as bad as the 111-53 thrashing they absorbed against Maryland in January 2007.

Miami coach Katie Meier had a feeling the Hurricanes were in trouble when she learned that Maryland lost at Carolina.

"That was a great response by Maryland. I wasn't happy playing them coming off a loss like that." Meier said. "I also knew they wanted to get the ball inside because we have a problem defending that. So I was a little bit leery at the start of the game."

Her fear was justified. Miami kept up early, but Maryland took control by asserting itself in the paint. After the Hurricanes pulled in a tie at 14, Langhorne scored seven points and Perry made two layups in a 16-4 run that made it 30-18.

At that point, Langhorne had half her team's points and was 9-for-9 at the foul line.

"Their talent was overwhelming, and our response, I did not think was tough enough," Meier said.

Miami closed to 34-23 before backup guard Kat Lyons drilled a 3-pointer, Marissa Coleman scored five straight points and Harper added a follow-shot in a 10-0 run to end the half.

The run continued after halftime. Layups by Langhorne and Harper made it 48-25 before Epiphany Woodson made a basket to end Miami's scoreless drought at 6 minutes, 26 seconds.

#4/5 Maryland 74
Virginia Tech 71 (OT)

February 4, 2008
Cassell Coliseum

Kristi Toliver scored 28 points and No. 5 Maryland rallied from a 21-point deficit to beat Virginia Tech 74-71 in overtime.

Crystal Langhorne scored 19 points and had 16 rebounds for the Terrapins (24-2, 8-1 Atlantic Coast Conference). Marissa Coleman had 17 points, and Laura Harper had eight points and 12 rebounds.

"We just stayed composed and battled back," Maryland assistant coach Daron Park said. "I think you saw what a special group of upperclassmen we have."

Brittany Cook led the Hokies (13-10, 0-8) with 26 points and 14 rebounds, and Andrea Barbour had 24 points.

The Terrapins, plagued by 25 turnovers, took the lead for the first time when Harper's layup made it 66-64 with 3:12 left in overtime. Langhorne then hit a layup, and Maryland held on for the win.

A 3-pointer by Cook with 3 seconds left made it 72-71, but Toliver was then fouled by Barbour and hit both of her free throws.

The Hokies scored the first 11 points and led by as much as 21 in the first half, taking a 31-10 lead on a basket by Laura Haskins with 10:13 left.

"It was the biggest natural high," Cook said. "We came out on fire."

Virginia Tech coach Beth Dunkenberger said the Hokies "took a huge step" that she hoped they can build on.

"They came out extremely inspired," Toliver said. "Playing against us, we get everybody's best shot."

Maryland cut the deficit to 39-29 at intermission, but didn't tie the score until late in the second half. The Terrapins made it 60-all with 2:54 left on Langhorne's layup after Coleman hit a 3-pointer and a layup.

The Hokies had 17 steals, 11 of them in the first half. They shot 35 percent to 46 percent for Maryland.

Maryland had rallied early in the season from 16 down to beat UCLA 79-75.

This was the ninth meeting between the two teams. Virginia Tech leads the series 5-4 and last won in 2005.

#4/4 Maryland 86
Virginia 80

February 8, 2008

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Locked in another tight duel against an inspired foe, No. 4 Maryland turned to Marissa Coleman to turn things around.

Coleman came through, and the Terrapins survived an upset bid by Virginia to remain unbeaten at home.

Laura Harper had 25 points and 15 rebounds, and Coleman fueled a second-half comeback that carried Maryland to an 86-80 victory.

Coleman scored 21 and grabbed 12 rebounds, Kristi Toliver had 16 points and 12 assists, and Crystal Langhorne contributed 17 points on 8-for-10 shooting for the Terrapins (25-2, 9-1 ACC), now 17-0 at home.

Neither team led by more than three points until Toliver sank a 3-pointer to make it 49-44. Virginia's Paulisha Kellum then made two free throws, a follow-shot and a 3-pointer to ignite a 15-2 run that put the Cavaliers up 59-51 with 11:25 left. Lyndra Littles capped the surge with a layup and a shot from beyond the arc.

Coleman brought the Terrapins back, converting a pair of three-point plays and both ends of a 1-and-1 during a 13-2 spree that put Maryland ahead 64-61 with eight minutes to go.

"She really presents a challenge because of her size and skill level," Virginia coach Debbie Ryan said of Coleman. "She spearheaded the attack at that point, and we just didn't handle it very well."

Coleman's fist-pumping enthusiasm was nearly as important as her eight points in the pivotal run.

"She gave us a huge boost of energy right at a critical time," Terps coach Brenda Frese said. "She was aggressive, attacking to the rim, getting the three-point play. We needed to get a catalyst, and I thought she did a tremendous job."

Kellum scored 23 points, including 21 second-half points after a 1-for-10 shooting performance in the first half. Aisha Mohammed had 15 points for the Cavaliers before fouling out and Shamee Zoll scored 13.

Virginia (17-5, 5-2) has lost only twice in its last 13 games, both times to the Terrapins.

"I feel like we played a very good game under very adverse conditions," Ryan said. "We were definitely on the losing end in the personal foul area. But we didn't let it bother us."

After being forced into overtime in three of their previous four games, the Terrapins struggled before pulling away at Virginia.

"We're going to get everybody's best shot," Coleman said. "We're a great program and we've had some success the past couple years, so whenever we step on the floor we're going to get our opponent's best game."

Maryland led 66-65 before Coleman scored on a drive and Toliver drilled a 3-pointer to expand the margin to six. Kellum answered with a 3, then followed two foul shots by Toliver with a three-point play to bring the Cavaliers to 73-71.

But Langhorne made Maryland's next three baskets, and two foul shots by Harper gave the Terrapins a 79-75 lead with 1:28 left. After a Virginia miss on the other end, Toliver made two free throws with 42.8 seconds remaining.

A first half that featured nine ties and nine lead changes ended with the Terrapins up 37-36. Maryland shot 62 percent from the floor compared to 38 percent for Virginia, but the Cavaliers took 16 more shots, in part because the Terrapins committed 12 turnovers.

During the break, Maryland honored Shay Doron, a starter on the 2006 national championship team, by hanging her No. 22 from the rafters of the arena. She was the first player recruited by Frese.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Boston College found a way to slow the Terrapins' dominating inside attack. Stopping Maryland's perimeter game was another story.

Marah Strickland had a career-high 20 points and Maryland (No. 5 ESPN/USA Today, No. 4 AP) cruised to a 78-51 win over Boston College.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Terrapins (26-2, 10-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), while the Eagles (17-8, 5-5) suffered their third straight loss.

Maryland, which had made just 24 percent of its 3-pointers over the previous five games, made 11 of 22 3-point attempts.

"They are a very difficult team for us or anybody to try to stop," Boston College coach Cathy Inglese said. "They have such a balanced attack, it's tough to stop everything. We focused more inside."

The Terps assisted on 20 of 27 baskets, often passing out of the post for open 3-pointers.

"I thought that we were clicking on all cylinders on the offensive end," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "We were making the extra pass, getting the ball inside and outside. Each and every player was ready to step up and shoot the ball with confidence."

Strickland scored 14 first-half points and made all five of her 3-point shots.

The Eagles jumped out to an early 7-2 lead but Maryland responded with a 14-2 run, taking control of the game for good. The Terps led 45-28 at the half and after Strickland hit a 3-pointer to open the second half, the Eagles never got within 20 points.

Boston College was led by Carolyn Swords and Stefanie Murphy, who scored 10 points each. The Eagles were plagued by 20 turnovers that led to 26 Maryland points.

Kristi Toliver added 12 points for Maryland and Ashleigh Newman broke out of a slump with 15. Crystal Langhorne, the Terps' All-America center, was held to just four points, equaling the second lowest output of her career.

Laura Harper, who finished with 13 points and 10 rebounds, broke the Maryland record for career blocked shots when she rejected a Brittany Johnson layup 2:16 into the game, pushing her total to 187.

#4/5 Maryland 76
#12/12 Duke 69
Cameron Indoor Stadium

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) - Maryland's players figured they owed it to Brenda Frese to focus on beating Duke -- even in the face of their coach's big news.

Crystal Langhorne had 25 points and 12 rebounds Sunday night to help the fourth-ranked Terrapins beat No. 12 Duke 76-69, a victory that came hours after Frese gave birth to twin boys.

Kristi Toliver added 23 points for the Terrapins (27-2, 11-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), who controlled the entire game to sweep the regular-season series for the first time in 15 years. Maryland also earned its first win at Cameron Indoor Stadium since 2000.

The Terrapins learned a few hours before tipoff that the 37-year-old Frese had become a first-time mother. Once they had secured a tough win, they were free to think about her.

"We tried to text her, but honestly I think 'Coach B' really would have wanted us to focus on this game and win this game," said Laura Harper, who had 12 points and seven rebounds. "That would have been the best thing for it. Now that we did, we can come back and try to text her again or contact her somehow."

The game was a rematch of the 2006 national championship game won by the Terrapins in overtime, but Frese and her newborns were the biggest news on this day.

Markus William Thomas was born Sunday at 10:21 a.m. and Tyler Joseph Thomas was delivered 20 minutes later. Frese wasn't due to deliver until next month, but it became apparent in recent weeks that she wouldn't carry the twins full term. She long ago stopped accompanying the team on road games, with assistant Daron Park leading the team in her absence.

Park said he had exchanged text messages with Frese's husband, Mark Thomas, before the game.

"As I was sitting in the hotel room after shootaround today reflecting on what has happened, part of me also felt the game was very secondary given the miracle of life that we had a small chance to experience," Park said with a smile.

Still, Maryland did enough to stay right behind league-leading and third-ranked North Carolina in the ACC standings. The Terrapins had four players in double figures, took a 43-29 rebounding advantage and shot 56 percent after halftime as the Blue Devils (19-7, 8-3) repeatedly tried to get back into the game after trailing by 14 points in the first half.

Maryland steadily went inside to Langhorne, and the senior came through by going 11-for-15 from the floor. Toliver, despite committing 12 turnovers against the Blue Devils' trapping defense, also came through with some key second-half 3-pointers despite having a defender in her face.

Duke never folded, cutting the deficit to 41-33 at halftime on a 3-pointer from Wanisha Smith in the final minute before the break. And the Blue Devils managed to close the gap to six points on six separate occasions before finally pulling as close as 70-65 on a drive by Smith with 2:54 to play.

Yet Maryland remained in control. Langhorne hit a free throw to answer Smith's score, followed by two more from Marissa Coleman. Langhorne also came up with a key defensive play, getting back in transition to block a layup from Smith with about a minute left. Toliver closed that stretch with two more free throws pushing the lead to 75-65 with 57 seconds left.

Abby Waner had 13 points to lead the Blue Devils, while Smith, Chante Black and Joy Cheek each had 11 points. Duke shot 40 percent for the game while going just 8-for-11 from the line compared to the Terrapins' 23-for-33 effort.

Afterward, McCallie, a mother of two, congratulated Frese on the birth of her sons.

"I don't ever want to go back to where she is right now," McCallie said with a chuckle. "I know it's a joyous thing for her and her family. But wow, diapers again. That's a concept."

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Maryland bid farewell to its se in a ceremony that produced tears from five players who helped bring the program back to national prominence.

Then the Terrapins had to play a basketball game, and Kristi Toliver scored eight of her 24 points in overtime as No. 4 Maryland rallied to beat Florida State 92-84 to finish 19-0 at home.

The Terrapins (28-2, 12-1 ACC) trailed 73-65 with 2:59 left in regulation before storming back to win their sixth straight before 16,135. Maryland committed 23 turnovers and blew an 11-point lead in the second half but made up it with a strong finish.

"I definitely think the emotion played a part," senior forward Laura Harper said. "This day means so much to us and this program. But Senior Day is not going to be Senior Day if we don't win the game."

After Marissa Coleman's driving layup with 4.9 seconds remaining forced overtime, the Terrapins fell behind 81-78. Toliver hit a 3-pointer and Crystal Langhorne made a layup to put Maryland up 83-81, and after the Seminoles got within a point, Marah Strickland scored in the lane and Toliver made two free throws to make it 89-84 with 55 seconds to go.

Langhorne, who had her No. 1 hung from the rafters after the game, finished with 21 points and 11 rebounds. Harper contributed 12 points and 10 rebounds, and Coleman had 13 points and nine rebounds.

It was the fifth time the Terrapins finished undefeated at home, the first since 1988-89. Maryland had never won more than 15 home games in a single season.

Coach Brenda Frese made her first appearance on the sidelines after giving birth to twins on Feb. 17. She didn't coach the first half, but returned after the break to guide the team from an oversized chair at the end of the bench while assistant Daron Park roamed the sidelines.

Mara Freshour led Florida State (16-11, 6-6) with 23 points and Shante Williams scored 14 to become the 21st woman in FSU history to reach the 1,000 mark. But the Seminoles couldn't win despite taking 26 more shots than Maryland, mainly because the Terrapins' upperclassmen carried the day.

"Those seniors have really changed the face of Maryland basketball," FSU coach Sue Semrau said. "Those five seniors have gotten their program back to a place where there's a lot of respect, not only in the ACC but nationwide."

Strickland launched the comeback in regulation with two free throws, and Langhorne hit two more to get the Terrapins to 73-69. It was 75-70 before Coleman made a fadeaway jumper, and a driving layup by Toliver made it 75-74 with 35 seconds to go.

After Alysia Harvin made one of two foul shots for the Seminoles, Coleman connected to force overtime.

"We were playing tentative," Semrau said. "I thought we backed off a little bit and gave them the opportunity to make that final shot."

The Terrapins committed 16 turnovers in the first half, including seven in the opening seven minutes.

Langhorne scored 8 points in a 17-7 run that enabled Maryland to turn a 32-31 halftime lead into a 49-38 advantage, but the Seminoles answered with a 14-0 spree in which five different players scored.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - Maryland coach Brenda Frese hadn't been on the road with her team since December.

When she made a surprise appearance in the locker room, her players responded.

Laura Harper scored 21 points and grabbed 11 rebounds, and Crystal Langhorne contributed 20 points and 11 rebounds as No. 5 Maryland closed the regular season with a 76-64 victory over N.C. State.

"Coach B just popped up after our speech, and we just thought it was a recording," Harper said of Frese, who gave birth to twin boys Feb. 17. "We were so confused. It was the best surprise ever, though."

The Terrapins (29-2, 13-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) did that, taking control of the game early with an 11-0 run en route to their seventh consecutive victory.

Harper capped Maryland's early spurt with a putback, giving her team a 21-12 lead with 10:56 remaining in the first half. The Terrapins stretched their lead to 36-18 with 3:54 left as the Wolfpack (18-11, 6-8) went scoreless for more than 5 minutes.

"We got a lot of good looks, and they just didn't fall for us," said N.C. State coach Kay Yow, whose team shot just 33.3 percent from the field in the first half. "When you get those kind of looks, you've got to put some of them down."

Nikitta Gartrell scored 19 points for N.C. State, which suffered its fourth consecutive loss to the Terrapins, and Shayla Fields added 17 points. Khadijah Whittington tallied 16 points and 10 rebounds in the final regular-season home game of her career for the Wolfpack, who failed to finish at least .500 in conference play for the first time since 2002-03.

Maryland was just too strong inside.

Langhorne and Harper combined to shot 15 of 27 from the floor, and teammate Marissa Coleman joined them with a double-double of her own with 11 points and 10 rebounds. Kristi Toliver added 13 points and six assists for the Terrapins, who made just 2 of 14 3-point attempts but outrebounded N.C. State 46-35.

"They're two special seniors," said Frese about Harper and Langhorne. "To be able to have the poise and confidence that when we need a big play, we know we can go inside. They have the confidence to put this team on their back and be able to step up and make plays for us."

N.C. State center Chanita Jordan played just 17 minutes because of foul trouble, leading Whittington to battle Maryland's post duo without much help. Whittington, the No. 2 rebounder in N.C. State history, left the court at Reynolds Coliseum to a standing ovation with 39.7 seconds remaining.

"We had one player inside who could match and go with Maryland, but only one," Yow said. "Their backup is not bad, but those two are both candidates for All-America."

The Wolfpack cut Maryland's lead to eight points on two occasions in the second half but never got closer. After a jumper by Whittington pulled N.C. State within 47-39 with 13:40 left, the Terrapins scored the next five points to restore their cushion.

The lead ballooned as large as 19 points with 2:55 to play.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - Laura Harper couldn't miss. The rest of her Maryland teammates seemed to feel the same way.

Harper scored 15 of her 25 points after halftime while the fifth-ranked Terrapins shot 57 percent to beat Boston College 93-81 in the quarterfinals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, pushing Maryland to the semifinals for the fifth straight year.

Crystal Langhorne had 24 points for the second-seeded Terps (30-2), who will face No. 12 Duke on Saturday. The Blue Devils rallied to beat Florida State 81-67 in Friday's last quarterfinal.

Harper, a 6-foot-4 senior, came up with one of her best offensive performances of the season, going 8-for-8 from the field and 9-for-10 at the foul line in 25 minutes. That included four straight points late that turned away the seventh-seeded Eagles' final spurt and kept the Terrapins in pursuit of their first ACC title in 19 years.

"I just go out and play every game with energy and have a lot of fun," Harper said. "Games like this are wonderful to play. I hope I have more like this."

It was the second straight 20-point outing for Harper, who has been a steady producer while Langhorne, Kristi Toliver and Marissa Coleman grabbed more of the headlines. Harper has started every game and came in ranked fourth on the team in scoring (14.3 points) while ranking second in shooting (63.3 percent).

She matched her career high of 27 points earlier this season against Clemson and has reached double figures in 25 games.

Maryland coach Brenda Frese--who was roaming the sideline for the first time this season after remaining seated through games before giving birth to twins last month--said Harper has improved her consistency and confidence most.

"Each and every game, she's so focused," Frese said. "She believes in herself each and every time. She's unstoppable when she puts her mind into it, just like tonight. You can see the focus and determination."

Langhorne, who was named the ACC's player of the year earlier this week, came through with another strong performance. She had 16 points on 7-for-7 shooting in the first half and finished 11-for-13 from the field with seven rebounds against Boston College (20-11), which fell behind by 19 at halftime and spent the entire second half trying to rally.

The Terrapins needed every bit of that hot shooting, too. Behind a career day from Mickel Picco, Boston College shot 56 percent, including 11-for-19 from 3-point range. Picco, a 5-8 sophomore, had 33 points on 13-for-19 shooting while going 7-for-11 from 3-point range to cause problems for Maryland the entire night.

Maryland got off to a fast start thanks to Langhorne and Coleman, who had nine points during an 18-5 run to close the first half that gave the Terrapins a 48-29 lead at the break. That lead held up, though the pesky Eagles wouldn't go away and twice closed the margin to nine points in the final 4 minutes.

Picco's runner pulled Boston College to within 83-74 with 3:11 to play, but that's when Harper closed the door on BC. She first hit two free throws followed by a contested jumper that pushed the margin to 13 points with 2:21 left to essentially end the game.

Boston College fell to 1-3 in the tournament since joining the league before the 2005-06 season. Boston College earned its first tourney win against Virginia Tech in Thursday's first round.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - Wanisha Smith a career-high with 22 points Saturday in yet another double-figure game against the fifth-ranked Terrapins, and it helped the 12th-ranked Blue Devils upset them 74-63 in the semifinals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

Joy Cheek added 16 points for the third-seeded Blue Devils (23-8), who turned 19 turnovers into 32 points to reach their first ACC title game since 2005.

"To see the team play so hard and to want to be together, and really fight together to me is the part about this game I'll take - the fighting spirit and that poise," coach Joanne P. McCallie said.

A year after the then-No. 1 Blue Devils were upset in the ACC's semifinal by Kay Yow and feel-good North Carolina State, these third-seeded Blue Devils pulled a shocker of their own by stunning the favored Terrapins. Their reward: a rematch with No. 2 and top-seeded North Carolina - which beat them by 31 in last week's regular-season finale - in the schools' sixth meeting in the league title game.

Marissa Coleman scored 20 points and ACC player of the year Crystal Langhorne added 16 for the Terrapins (30-3), who saw their eight-game winning streak snapped and were denied their first berth in the league title game since 2006.

Duke, which was swept by Maryland in the regular season for the first time since 1993, delivered the biggest surprise of the tournament. The Blue Devils had lost five straight against top-five teams in McCallie's first season, while Maryland and North Carolina - who combined for one ACC loss all season - were widely expected to cruise to the title game and stage a rematch of the double-overtime thriller won by the Tar Heels in January.

"This one obviously hurts - it hurts for our seniors and for this team," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "I felt like we were in a great place coming into this tournament, but from our end, we can get better, and that's the lesson to learn here."

Especially on defense against Smith, a senior who reached double figures for the eighth time in 12 career games against the Terrapins.

She helped the Blue Devils rally from an early 10-point deficit and never trailed in the second half. Krystal Thomas capped a 12-2 run midway through the half and gave the Blue Devils their first double-figure lead with a layup to make it 52-41 with 12 minutes left.

Maryland responded with an 11-4 burst over the next 1/2 minutes, with Langhorne's layup through traffic with 5:2 remaining making it 56-52. But the Terrapins couldn't get an closer than that the rest of the way.

Laura Harper had 12 points and 12 rebounds and Kris Toliver added 10 points, but she was 4-of-12 from the field an just 2-for-10 from 3-point range for Maryland, which held a 40-2 rebounding advantage yet finished just 3-of-20 from beyond th arc.

"(Duke) did a great job in terms of taking away our insid game," Frese said. "A lot of times, we did get tentative in term of turning the corner, trying to get to the rim, tried to pull up little earlier from the perimeter. Obviously, a lot of those shot came down the stretch, when we were trying to get back int the game."

Smith, who equaled her 22-point effort against Jacksonvill State in December 2004, put DUKE ahead to stay when he 3-pointer from the left corner capped a 17-4 run and made 23-20 with 8 minutes before the break.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Crystal Langhorne had 25 points and 12 rebounds, Marissa Coleman scored 17 and Laura Harper had 14 as Maryland pulled away to an 80-66 victory over Coppin State in the first round of the Spokane Regional.

Coppin State made more field goals (27-24) than the Terrapins and had fewer turnovers (16-15). Maryland held a 28-10 advantage at the foul line and a 42-26 rebounding edge.

"We didn't want this to be our last game. That's all we kept saying," Maryland's Marissa Coleman said. "We knew if we let them be close toward the end, we would be in for a battle."

Rashida Suber scored 25 points and Shalamar Oakley had 20 for Coppin State, the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference champions. The Eagles are now 0-12 against in-state rival Maryland, but they didn't hang their heads after this one.

"They did a tremendous job in terms of their scouting. I thought they were very physical and very aggressive, and did a tremendous job for 40 minutes," Terps coach Brenda Frese said. "They really made us work."

Everything seemed to be going according to form in the opening minutes, when Coleman and Langhorne dominated the paint to stake the Terps (31-3) to a 15-6 lead. The Eagles had already burned a timeout in an effort to blunt the onslaught, even thought it appeared to many in the crowd to be a futile gesture.

Then everything went askew. It began with an innocent layup by Suber. Then Oakley made two free throws, and a jumper. And by the time those two got finished playing this little round of 2-on-5, they had combined for 14 straight points to put Coppin State ahead 20-15.

The Eagles weren't done. After Maryland pulled even, Oakley answered with a three-point play. Then the Terrapins went ahead 34-27, and Coppin responded by holding Maryland without a field goal for the final three minutes of the half.

"In the first half they were definitely the aggressor," guard Kristi Toliver said. "Credit to them for putting us out of our comfort zone."

Down 40-35 at the break, Coppin came out strong in the second half. A runner in the lane by Oakley got the Eagles to 45-41, and at that point the only fans making noise were the ones who traveled 30 miles from Baltimore to cheer for Coppin.

Then Harper made two free throws, Kristi Toliver hit a 3-pointer, Langhorne made a layup and Ashleigh Newman capped a 10-0 run with jumper from beyond the arc for a 55-41 lead.

The Eagles closed to 57-48, but their upset bid was finally quashed with an 11-1 spurt that put the Terps up by 18.

"We know we're going to get everybody's best game no matter who we're playing. It's the NCAA tournament," Coleman said. "We have been in his situation before. We knew we had another 20 minutes to make up for our mistakes in the first half."

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver had 19 points apiece, Crystal Langhorne had 18 points and 12 rebounds, and Maryland held off Nebraska 76-64.

Marissa Coleman also scored 19, and Crystal Langhorne had 18 points and 12 rebounds.

"I don't think we played our best. We did enough to advance, and that's what it's about," said guard Kristi Toliver, who scored 19 points but had six of Maryland's 14 turnovers.

Getting this far is no small feat for the Terrapins (32-3). In their previous seven tournament appearances, they made it to the round of 16 only once--on their way to winning the 2006 national championship.

"We're going to the Sweet 16, so as much as people want to say Maryland this and Maryland that, we're still there and we're going to be ready for Vandy," forward Laura Harper said.

Yvonne Turner scored a career-high 23 points for the Cornhuskers (21-12), who performed marvelously in an unfriendly environment.

"This is a very difficult place to play, especially playing the No. 1 seed on their home court," Nebraska coach Connie Yori said. "They did a lot of things in the second half that enabled them to pull away from us."

Playing twice at home, the Terrapins downed No. 16 seed Coppin State on Sunday before facing an eighth-seeded Nebraska team coming off its first NCAA tournament win in 10 years.

The Terps showed why they were ranked in the top five throughout the season while racing to a 32-17 lead, and even after the Cornhuskers pulled even at 45, an 8-0 Maryland run appeared to restore order.

But Nebraska never stopped coming.

Coleman was the driving force in keeping Maryland afloat, scoring 15 in the second half after going 1-for-6 from the floor in the opening 20 minutes. It was 45-45 before the junior forward sank a 3-pointer with 14:36 left to put the Terrapins ahead for good. Coleman then hit a jumper, and a 3-pointer by Toliver made it 53-45.

Minutes later, however, Turner hit a 3-pointer and was fouled, and the rare 4-point play sparked a surge that got Nebraska to 65-61. Toliver answered with two straight baskets, and the Terrapins finally had enough breathing room to plan for their trip west.

Led by Langhorne, Maryland finished with a 47-34 rebounding advantage.

"We are not as big and physical as they are, and the rebounding is really what it boiled down to," Yori said.

Maryland thrilled the partisan crowd of 8,715 by racing to a 32-17 lead with 5 minutes left in the first half, but the Cornhuskers closed with a 16-2 blitz to make it 34-33 at the break. Turner led the charge with eight points, including a pair of 3-pointers.

Turner was 2-for-3 from beyond the arc in the opening 20 minutes; her teammates were 0-for-8.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) - Crystal Langhorne scored 28 points and Maryland's defense swarmed Vanderbilt in a convincing 80-66 win in the Spokane Regional semifinals.

Two years removed from their national title, the Terrapins are one win away from a return to the Final Four. Maryland will face either Stanford or Pittsburgh in Monday night's regional final. It will be the sixth regional championship game for the Terrapins.

And while Maryland's offense was again a model of efficiency--shooting 51 percent and getting 14 assists on 29 baskets--it was a concerted effort at the defensive end that finally made the Terrapins look like championship contenders.

"We wanted to show our defense," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "We wanted to come out and play inspired for the first 20 minutes."

After delivering twin boys in February, Frese stomped and yelled at her players, lauding their effort on the defensive end. The Terrapins looked very little like the team who lost in the second-round last year, then sweated through a pair of closer-than-expected games on their home court to reach the regional semis.

The Terrapins (33-3) were inspired in the first half, holding Vanderbilt to just 34 5 percent shooting and forcing nine turnovers that Maryland converted into 10 easy points, quickly getting the pace to its liking. Vanderbilt leading scorer Christina Wirth was held scoreless for the first 15 1/2 minutes, and only the aggressive play off the bench of Jessica Mooney kept the Commodores within 15 at halftime.

Langhorne was nearly unstoppable in the first half, often getting set up by precision passes from point guard Kristi Toliver, who tempered her own offensive game to be more of a distributor.

"We have great guards, K.T. (Toliver) did a great job handling the ball tonight and getting the post easy touches," said Langhorne, who made 8 of 13 shots in the first half, most inside 5-feet, as Vanderbilt failed to slow the ACC player of the year.

Maryland's 44 first-half points were nearly what Vanderbilt allowed in its first two wins--47 points to Montana and 46 to West Virginia.

After Vandy pulled within 12 early in the second half, the Terrapins rolled off 18 of the next 26 points, capped by Langhorne's three-point play with 11:34 left. It gave Maryland a 20-point lead and the Terps never looked back.

Marissa Coleman added 19 and Marah Strickland had 13 for the Terrapins.

Vanderbilt relied on its defense to reach the regional semifinals. Since Jan. 1, no team other than Tennessee--which Vandy lost to three times--had scored more than 62 points on the Commodores.

But Vanderbilt's players and coaches kept saying Maryland reminded them of Tennessee, and its concerns were justified. The Commodores finished the season (24-9) and have just one senior on their roster.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) - Candice Wiggins scored 41 points, and got some help from unlikely sources as the second-seeded Cardinal pulled away from No. 1-seed Maryland 98-87 in the Spokane Regional final.

"We knew coming in we were the underdogs," Wiggins said through tears as her teammates jumped up-and-down on the NCAA logo as "All Right Now" was played by the Stanford band. "We stayed tough and did the things that got us here and we're going to keep it going."

With a young supporting cast, Stanford took its cue from Wiggins, its senior star who failed in two previous regional finals as a freshman and sophomore. She bounced all over the court, providing problems for the Terrapins, whether hitting step-back 3-pointers or rising between defenders in the lane.

Her best bouncing may have come at the end, when Wiggins started hoping around, leaving the ball on the court as the final seconds ticked off.

After hitting for a career-best 44 against UTEP in the second-round, Wiggins was 10 of 22 shooting, including five 3-pointers, and made 16 of 19 free throws. The 41 points was the fifth best performance in tournament history and she is the first player with two 40-point games in tourney history.

When teammates JJ Hones and Kayla Pedersen, both complements to Wiggins, hit big shots in the first half to give Stanford a comfortable advantage, Maryland could never climb back.

Hones scored a career-high 23 points - then laid down on the giant NCAA logo at midcourt after the final buzzer. Pedersen added 15 points, seven assists and six rebounds as the duo made up for a night where Jayne Appel, Stanford's second leading scorer, was held in check and scored just 11.

Stanford won its 22nd straight, and will be the first Final Four team from West of the Rockies since the Cardinal's appearance in 1997. It will be Stanford's seventh Final Four trip, and the Cardinal matched a school record with their 34th win of the season, behind their third-highest scoring output of the season.

"I'm so proud of our team," Stanford coach Tara VanDerveer said.

Kristi Toliver led Maryland (33-4) with a career-high 35 points, but was forced to be more of a scorer than distributor as ACC player of the year Crystal Langhorne was stymied by the swarming interior defense of Stanford.

Langhorne took just six shots and scored 13 points as Appel and Pedersen collapsed on Maryland's senior center every time she touched the ball. Langhorne scored 28 in Maryland's regional semifinal win over Vanderbilt.

"Sometimes it's just not your day. Stanford did a tremendous job tonight for 40 minutes," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said.

It was Wiggins who ignited the Cardinal's decisive run early in the second half. Toliver's 3-pointer got the Terrapins within 56-51 with 14:50 left, the closest they had been since trailing 41-38 late in the first half.

Wiggins immediately answered with a catch-and-shoot 3 of her own, and after a Maryland miss, Rosalyn Gold-Onwude, scoreless at the time, hit Stanford's 11th 3-pointer of the night.

Appel then blocked Laura Harper on defense, and put back Pedersen's miss for a 13-point Cardinal advantage. Pedersen then capped the spurt with a three-point play.

Maryland made one final charge. Toliver scored nine straight points to pull Maryland within single digits at 79-72 following a 3 with 6:19 to play. Wiggins answered with a 3 from the top of the arc moments later.

Toliver added a rainbow baseline jumper to stay within eight, but Maryland went 1 of 5 at the free-throw line over the next two minutes, missing its best chance to rally.

"Right now all I'm feeling is the loss and the fact I don't get to play with my seniors anymore," Toliver said.

Dottie McKnight

44-17 (.721) • 4 Years (1971-75)

The first coach in the varsity era of women's basketball at the University of Maryland, McKnight directed a fledgling program into immediate success. In her four seasons at the Maryland helm, she never had a losing season. Her program was certainly not as established as it would become after her departure, but McKnight, in fact, boasts a better winning percentage than her successor, Chris Weller. McKnight laid claim to Maryland's first state championship in 1973, and won a second in 1975 with Weller as her assistant.

Chris Weller

499-286 (.636) • 27 Years (1975-2002)

Chris Weller dominates Maryland women's basketball history. She guided her alma mater to a national championship game and to three Final Fours in total. Her Maryland teams enjoyed national rankings in 18 seasons and she engineered an unprecedented eight Atlantic Coast Conference championships. In 1995, she became just the fifth coach in women's college history to earn at least 400 victories at the same school. Three years earlier, her Terps were No. 1-ranked for nearly a month and drew to College Park a sellout crowd that still is the largest in history to watch an ACC women's basketball game. She was been a pioneer, architect and engineer to one of the most successful programs in the nation.

Brenda Frese

Hired in 2002, Brenda Frese has rebuilt a Maryland women's basketball program, leading the team to the first national championship in 2006. Working hard on the recruiting trails and luring some of the top talent to ever play in a Terrapin uniform, the Terps have burst onto national the scene. After logging just 10 wins her first season, Maryland had recevied postseason bids five-straight years, earning a No. 1-seed in 2008, advancing to the NCAA Elite Eight for the second time in three years. En route to its title win, the Terps advanced to the Final Four for the first time since 1989. That year, the Terps also garnered a top-5 national ranking in the AP and Coaches poll for the first time in 17 years, finishing No. 1 in the coaches for the first time in school history. Maryland began the following season ranked No. 1 and maintained that position for 10 weeks.

Game-By-Game Results

Game-by-game results for every Maryland women's basketball season since 1971-72. Atlantic Coast Conference play began in 1977-78. Overall records are followed by home, road and neutral court records in parentheses. Home games were played at Preinkert Field House in the 1971-72 and 1972-73 seasons. Home games were played at Cole Field House from the 1973-74 season through 2001-02, except where indicated. In 2002-03, Maryland began play in Comcast Center. RC indicates games at Ritchie Coliseum, •-Indicates ACC games

MARYLAND

BASKETBALL

Great Teams & Moments

Great Teams and Great Moments define Maryland women's basketball since it earned varsity distinction in the 1970s, rising quickly among the nation's elite and maintaining excellence nearly 30 years later. The biggest moment in the program's history is winning the National Championship in 2006.

Two eras mark the history of Maryland women's basketball. For 30 years, Chris Weller had been synonymous with the Terrapins, beginning with her legacy first as a player in the mid-1960s, only to return later as an assistant coach, and eventually, a head coach until her retirement in 2002. The Weller Era was marked by NCAA Tournaments, collegiate milestones and perennial national rankings.

The Frese Era began in April 2002 and Terrapins were quickly reshaped into a national powerhouse, claiming the program's first national title in 2006. Frese has put Maryland back on the map with some of the best talent in the nation donning the Terrapin uniform.

Terrapin Tradition

- 1 National Title
- 4 Final Four Appearances
- 22 National Tournament Appearances
- 8 Acc Championship Crowns
- 2 30-Win Season; 15 20-Win Seasons
- 5 Olympians
- 6 All-Americans
- 34 All-ACC Honorees
- 1 Rhodes Scholar

1972-73
State Champions

State Champions
AIAW Regional

The Terps wind their way to the second of three state titles, finishing 11-6 in the final season under Dottie McKnight. Perhaps most notable was the first-ever women's basketball game ever to be televised on Jan. 26 from Cole Field House. Maryland lost to defending national champion Immaculata.

EAIAW Regional

The 1975-76 season is best known as the beginning of the "Chris Weller Era." Maryland successfully defends its state championship and finishes fourth in the EAIAW Regionals in Pittsburgh, Pa. The Terps go 20-4 in Weller's first season with an 18-2 regular season marred only by a pair of one-point losses.

EAIAW Regional

Maryland receives its first national ranking on Nov. 25 with a No. 15 billing by the Associated Press. The Terps would finish in the No. 16 spot at season's end, but not after a 17-6 final record and fourth-place finish in the EAIAW Regionals. Maryland downs Virginia 79-67 on Feb. 11 to mark the beginning of the Terrapins' second-longest series in history. Jane Zivalich becomes the first Terp chosen for the U.S. Select Team.

ACC Champions
AIAW Finals

The Terps register their best season to date, with numerous "firsts." Maryland captures the first of its now unprecedented eight ACC championships, earns a second-place finish in the EAIAW Tournament and finishes sixth in the final AP poll. The Terps beat UCLA and Olympian Ann Myers, 92-88 on Jan. 4 in a preview to the eventual national title bout. In the midst of an 11-game win streak to open the season and a 117-47 win over Duke, Maryland grabs a still-standing record 29 steals on Jan. 14. Maryland bests No. 2 NC State 89-82 on Feb. 11 to win the ACC title, and Tara Heiss establishes what is still the school mark for single game assists with 17 against Rutgers on Feb. 28. Weller's upset magic continues with a win over No. 1 ranked Tennessee on March 17 and a win over Southern Connecticut sends the Terps to the first-ever AIAW Final Four. Maryland downs Wayland Baptist on March 23 to win its first game in Final Four history. On March 25 a record crowd of 9,351 and national television audience on NBC Sports World watch host UCLA defeat the Terps 90-74 at Pauley Pavilion for the national championship.

ACC Champions
AIAW Quarterfinals

The Terps capture their second straight ACC title and reach the AIAW National Tournament for the second straight season. Maryland achieves its highest national ranking on Nov. 25 with a spot in the No. 2 position. The Terps down NC State in Raleigh on Feb. 10 to claim their second ACC banner. Maryland finishes 22-7 and ends the campaign with a No. 8 national ranking.

1979-80
AIAW Quarterfinals

Kris Kirchner logs her name in the Terp record book with a modest 15-point effort against Seton Hall on Feb. 29. Its significance is her contribution to 1,351 points to establish a Maryland career record. Maryland captures its first EAIAW Regional Tournament title with a 79-70 win over Rutgers on March 8. Jane Zivalich is named a Rhodes Scholar finalist and the Terps advance to the AIAW quarterfinals. Maryland finishes with a No. 6 national ranking and a 21-9 record for its third straight 20-win season. Tara Heiss is named to the 1980 U.S. Olympic squad.

ACC Champions
AIAW Quarterfinals

Maryland continues its prominence in the EAIAW Re gional, advancing to the title game for the fourth straigh season. A 64-63 win over emerging rival NC State on Feb 14 helps the Terps capture the ACC crown for the third time in its first four years of existence, and finish with a No. 6 ranking in the Associated Press poll. A trip to the national tournament in Knoxville, Tenn., results in a win over Kentucky and a loss to the homestanding Volunteers.

ACC Champions
NCAA Final Four

"Four" becomes a magical number to Chris Weller and he crew as the Terps win 25 times to advance to their secon Final Four – this time it is the first NCAA Final Four just fou years after appearing in the national title game in the first ever AIAW Final Four. The Terps capture their fourth ACC title with a 93-81 win over Clemson on Feb. 28. The Terps earn the No. 2 seed in the NCAA West Regional and defea Stanford 82-48 in Cole Field House to mark the campus first NCAA Tournament game on March 14. The Terps trel west for a win over Missouri on March 19, and Drake tw days later to earn a trip to their second Final Four. Cheyne State upends Maryland 76-66 to end the season on March 26, but not without a No. 3 billing in the final AP poll markin the highest finish in Maryland history.

ACC Champions
NCAA Sweet Sixteen

Maryland tops Rutgers 83-66 on Jan. 26 to run its schoo record win streak to 16 games to open the season. NC Stat knocks the Terps from the ranks of unbeaten on Jan. 29 though only five weeks later the Terrapins earn revenge b downing the Wolfpack 84-81 for their fifth ACC crown o March 6. Maryland earns the No. 3 seed in the East Regio and defeats Central Michigan on March 19 in an opening round game. Maryland eventually falls to Old Dominion in the regional semifinal and ends the year with a No. 7 nationa ranking. The Terps conclude the season as the NCAA lead

NCAA First Round

The Terps fail to win 20 games for the first time in three seasons, but record at least 19 for the seventh straight year. Maryland is ranked 17th in the final AP poll and earns a No. 6 seed in the NCAA East Region.

1984-85

Maryland enters the 1984-85 season having been ranked in the AP Top 20 for 128 consecutive weeks — the most by any team in the nation. Weller spends her summer months as an assistant coach for the U.S. National Jones Cup team.

1985-86
ACC Champions
NCAA First Round

Success and championships return after just a one-year hiatus. The Terps enter the ACC Tournament as an underdog, yet win their sixth title, defeating NC State, Virginia and North Carolina. Deanna Tate is named MVP of the tournament after downing the Tar Heels 90-74 on March 3. Maryland accepts a No. 6 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region, and suffers an opening round loss to Ohio State.

1986-87

The Terps exit the ACC Tournament in a semifinal loss to Virginia. It is only the second season in the last 10 that Maryland has failed to reach a national tournament.

1987-88
ACC Champions
NCAA Elite Eight

And back come the Terps again. Not to be denied an ACC title for more than a season at a time, Maryland goes 26-6 overall and never loses in 13 home contests. The Terps take a four-game win streak into the ACC Tournament where they down Georgia Tech, Wake Forest and Virginia, and claim a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region. Deanna Tate wins her second straight tourney MVP award as the Terrapins hold off the Cavaliers, 76-70 on March 7 for their seventh conference crown. They run their streak to nine games with an 81-66 victory over Ohio State in the regional semifinal on March 24. The Terps fall to Auburn in a bid for a third Final Four, but finish 26-6 and return to national prominence.

Maryland finishes eighth in the final poll released by USA Today, and ninth by AP. Junior Vicky Bullett breaks Maryland's all-time scoring and rebounding marks with still a year to play, and stars for the U.S. Olympic team during August 1988. She wins a gold medal in the Summer Games while averaging 4.4 points and 3.0 rebounds in five games.

ACC Champions
NCAA Final Four

Maryland's most successful season? Perhaps. Vicky Bullett and Deanna Tate both earn Kodak All-America honors as the Terps embark on an all-time best 29-3 record. Included in the mark was another perfect home record, 12-0, which ran Maryland's Cole Field House win streak to 27. On March 5, Maryland defeats Virginia 89-66 to win its 17th consecutive game, a new school record. The Terps won four more games to establish the existing school mark of 21 straight victories. The 18th win of the streak, March 6 against NC State, secures an eighth ACC title. Bullett is named the league's player of the year as Maryland enters the NCAA West Region as the No. 1 seed. Maryland notches win 19 of the streak on March 18 against Bowling Green with a 73-68 opening round win at Cole Field House. The streak grows to 21 with a 79-71 win over Texas on its home floor on March 25, earning the Terps a trip to their third Final Four. On ESPN in a national semifinal on March 31, Maryland watches its season and its streak wind to a close with a 77-65 loss to Tennessee.

NCAA Sweet Sixteen

Maryland reaches its third straight NCAA Tournament with a 19-11 record. Maryland wins its first home game against George Mason on Nov. 29 to run its record home court win streak to 28 games before falling on Dec. 6 to defending national champ Tennessee. Dafne Lee helps the Terps to an 85-84 overtime win over Wake Forest to begin a four-game win streak heading into the ACC Tournament. In the process, she scores 39 points against the Deamon Deacons to tie the school record. On Feb. 16, Maryland earns a No. 6 seed in the NCAA East Region and downs Appalachian State 100-71 for its final win on March 14 at Cole Field House.

1990-91
NCAA First Round

Maryland wins five straight games at mid-season to help in building a 17-13 mark and earn a No. 6 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region. Maryland advances to the ACC semifinals with a 91-73 win over Georgia Tech.

1991-92
NCAA Elite Eight

One of the Terps' most exciting seasons saw Maryland finish 25-6 in 1991-92, including the first No. 1 ranking in school history and a Cole Field House sellout crowd of 14,500 to watch No. 1 Maryland and No. 2 Virginia. Prior to that historic, No. 3 Maryland downs top-ranked Virginia 67-65 in Charlottesville on Jan. 15 to mark the second time in history that the Terps had beaten a No. 1 team. The win catapults the Terps to their first-ever No. 1 ranking on Jan. 21, a post they would hold for four weeks. Maryland wins its first five games to defend the ranking and runs its win streak to 11 games overall to set up a Virginia rematch on Feb. 11 at Cole Field House. The Cole sellout still is the largest ACC crowd in history and one of the largest in collegiate women's history. Maryland exits the ACC Tournament after an opening round upset by Georgia Tech, and bows to Western Kentucky in the Mideast Regional finals. The Terps end the season ranked eighth in both national polls, and Chris Weller is a consensus pick as national coach of the year.

NCAA First Round

Jessie Hicks scores 20 points to lead the Terrapins past No. 1 Tennessee, Dec. 30 at Cole Field House. It is Maryland's third win ever against a top-ranked foe, and coupled with a Jan. 2 victory over No. 10 Purdue, propels the Terps to a No. 3 ranking of its own. Maryland falls to Virginia, 106-103, in a memorable triple-overtime championship game of the ACC Tournament on March 8, but earns a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region. The Terps are upset in an opening round game at Cole Field House, 86-82, by Southwest Missouri State. Maryland ends the campaign 22-8, and ranked 11th by the Associated Press and 18th by USA Today.

The Terps finish 15-13 while ranking as high as No. 16 during the year. Maryland falls to Virginia in the ACC Tournament semifinals and gets its bubble burst when it fails to earn an NCAA bid for the first time in seven seasons.

1994-95

A promising rookie class of recruits is rated as high as fourth-best in the country, though Maryland finishes 11-18 on the season. Maryland defeats NC State 83-80 at Cole Field House for Chris Weller's 400th career victory on Jan. 28

1995-96

Maryland upends No. 14 Duke at Cole Field House on Feb. 5, and No. 18 Clemson at Cole a week later on Feb. 10. The Terps finish 13-14, but again advance to the ACC semifinals.

1996-97

In her 22nd season as coach, Chris Weller readies the troops for another run at the NCAA Tournament. Maryland wins a pair of early-season tournaments and leads the nation in scoring defense through much of January. The Terps defeat No. 14 Duke 68-64 on Jan. 12, and drop No. 15 NC State by a 54-51 count on Jan. 18. The Terps defeat No. 21 Clemson on the road on Feb. 22 to earn a No. 3 seed in the ACC Tournament, but fall in a first-round game to Duke, 60-52 in overtime. The Terrapins gain an at-large NCAA bid in the Midwest Region.

NCAA First Round

Facing a schedule ranked the third-strongest in the nation, Maryland leads the ACC in scoring defense and ranked 29th nationally. Maryland wins seven straight early games. Highlights include a pair of wins over Top 20 foes: No. 7 North Carolina on Jan. 18 and later No. 9 NC State in the ACC Tournament quarterfinals. Tiffany Brown nets a then-school record seven 3-pointers in the win over North Carolina before a national TV audience on ESPN2.

1998-99

1999-2000

Maryland returns to the national scene as the Terps claim a berth in the 2000 Women's National Invitational Tournament. The Terps advanced all the way to the tournament's quarterfinals before falling to finalist Florida. During the regular season, the Terps recorded a pair of upset victories over ranked teams, defeating No. 12 Duke on Feb. 3 and No. 16 Virginia on Feb. 24. The win over Duke ended the Blue Devils' 20-game home ACC win streak. Tiffany Brown became Maryland's most prolific 3-point shooter, setting the career records for treys made and attempted. She also set the single-game mark with eight at Clemson on Jan. 6. Marché Strickland made five consecutive 3-pointers in a 65-second span against Georgia Tech on Jan. 23. Because of her accomplishment, Strickland garned national media recognition.

NCAA First Round

The 2000-01 season marks the program's 17th national tournament appearance. The Terps tops then-No. 18 Clemson 85-73 in overtime in Cole Field House and sweeps the season series at Clemson when they are ranked 17th with a 68-62 victory. No. 22 NC State falls to the Terps 57-56 on its home court, and then suffers the 75-54 loss at Cole Field House when they are No. 17. On the doorstep of a Top 25 ranking all season, Maryland loses to Colorado State in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament after receiving its first NCAA bid since 1997. Terp juniors Deedee Warley and Marché Strickland score their 1,000th point, Warley in the upset at Clemson and Strickland at Duke on Feb. 15.

A distinctive era comes to a close in the 2001-02 season, as 27-year head coach Chris Weller (499-286, .636) says goodbye to Maryland and Cole Field House closes its doors as the home of Terrapin women's basketball. On Feb. 21, with a 66-54 loss to NC State, the Terrapins celebrate their 28 years of memorable moments and championship history in Cole Field House. Weller officially announces her retirement from Maryland on March 5 after celebrating the ACC Tournament's 25th anniversary and the Terps' league-leading eight titles.

A new era begins as Maryland women's basketball moves to its new home at Comcast Center with a new mentor at the helm in Brenda Frese. The Terps will forever hold the distinction of playing the first-ever basketball game, men's or women's, at the new facility hosting Loyola on Nov. 22, a game which Maryland won, 80-72. Renneika Razor scores the first basket en route to the Terps victory. Maryland breaks 100 points for the first time since 1993, when they downed UMES, 102-31, on Dec. 1. In Maryland's 69-58 loss at Virginia on Jan. 19, Razor becomes the 20th Terp in school history to break the 1,000-point barrier, ending her career ranked 16th all-time amassing 1,163 points. A crowd of 5,078 are in attendance for Maryland's thrilling 74-72 win over NC State on Feb. 1. It was the largest crowd since 1996 when No. 9 Virginia came to town. Razor ends her career with second team All-ACC honors, the highest honor given to a Terp since 1998.

2003-04

NCAA Second Round

In what was supposed to be another rebuilding year, the Terps win the most games since the 1996-97 campaign and finish in a tie for third place in the ACC, the best showing since that same year. Maryland equals its conference win total from the previous two years, combined, earning an NCAA Tournament berth for the first time in three years. Led by a couple of high school All-Americans, Shay Doron opens the season making an NCAA record-tying 23 free throws vs. Coppin State on Nov. 21.She goes on to break the school's single-season mark. A Comcast Center record 13,446 come out for the home regular-season finale vs. No. 4 Duke on Feb. 22 which is televised on ESPN2. The record is also the second-largest crowd for a women's basketball game in ACC history. After a 62-47 win over Florida State on March 6, the Terps advance to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament to face the Blue Devils and fall short of the upset, 70-63, on March 7. The Terps are selected the 12th seed in the West Region and go on to win their first NCAA tourney game in 12 years when they upset Miami (Fla.), 86-85, on March 21. Three Terps earn ACC postseason honors. Doron leads the way with third team nods becoming the first rookie in school history to earn All-ACC honors. Kalika France also becomes the first freshman Terp to be named Honorable Mention All-ACC while Delvona Oliver earns the recognition for the first time in her career. Doron (first team) and Oliver (second team) are also selected to the ACC All-Tournament team. By year's end, Doron and France lead the team in scoring, the first time a pair of Terp rookies has done so.

NCAA Second Round

The Terps earn a No. 23 preseason ranking in both the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls. Boasting the fourth-best recruiting class in the nation, the Terps win the most games since 1992-93, while making its second-straight trip to the ACC semifinals and the second round of the NCAA Tournament. After opening the season at 5-1, the Terps crack the AP's top 20 on Dec. 6, their first top-20 ranking in 11 years. On Jan. 9, Maryland tops No. 5/4 North Carolina, 92-77, its first victory over a top-five team since 1992. The Terps jump to No. 15 in the AP poll after the victory. Shay Doron scores a school-record tying 39 points on Jan. 16 at Florida State, but the Terps fall in overtime, 95-91. Jan. 25 marks the 30th anniversary of the first-ever nationally televised women's basketball game which features the Terps and Immaculata. On Feb. 3 head coach Brenda Frese records her 100th-career victory with an 84-67 win over Georgia Tech. Maryland sets a Comcast Center attendance record for the second-consecutive year on Feb. 12 as 17,243 fans turn out for the Terps' clash vs. Duke, also setting the all-time ACC women's basketball single-game attendance mark. Crystal Langhorne scores 29 points and grabs 22 rebounds at Miami on Feb. 17, the first 20-rebound game in school history since 1980. Langhorne then sets a new freshman-class school record, netting 33 points in the regular-season finale on Feb. 28. The Terps upset No. 19 NC State on March 5 to advance to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament for the second year in a row. Comcast Center plays host to the NCAA Tournament for the first time, as seven teams travel to College Park for the first and second rounds. Frese earns her 50th win at Maryland as the Terps advance to the second round for the second-straight year with a win over UW-Green Bay on March 20. Crystal Langhorne was named ACC Rookie of the Year and second team All-ACC, the highest-honored freshman in school history. Shay Doron was selected first team All-ACC, Kodak/WBCA Regional All-American and Kodak/WBCA Honorable Mention All-American. At year's end, Langhorne set the freshman-class scoring and rebounding records while Doron set the sophomore class mark for points. The Terps ended the year ranked 24th in the nation, the first time Maryland has been ranked in the final poll in 12 years.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

The Terrapins boasted a roster stacked with six former high-school All-Americans and eight Gatorade Players of the Year, however, they were considered a long shot. Ranked 14th in both the preseason Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls, Maryland rose to become the No. 1 team in the nation under the guidance of fourth-year head coach Brenda Frese, capturing the program's first NCAA title and posting the most wins – men's or women's – in school history (34). The Terps led the nation in 3-point shooting (.400) and rebounding margin (+11.9 rpg). Its final No. 1 ranking by the coaches was the first in school history. The milestones and records came early. In the home opener vs. Xavier on Nov. 20, Shay Doron became the 21st player in school history to score 1,000 points, the fastest Terrapin to reach the milestone to that point. Rated in the top 10 for the first time in over a decade, the Terps registered a convincing defeat of 2005 NCAA finalist and 10th-ranked Michigan State on Nov. 25. Coupled with the win and near upset of perennial powerhouse and No. 1-ranked Tennessee on Nov. 26, Maryland moved up to No. 6 and cruised through December with a spotless record. Winning the Terrapin Classic for the seventh time, Doron garnered Most Valuable Player honors. The Terrapins opened the ACC slate with its first of six overtime games of the season at Boston College on Jan. 5. The second-largest crowd in ACC history came out to Comcast Center to support the Terps vs. rival and second-ranked Duke on Jan. 8, but the Blue Devils snapped the Terrapins' 10-game win streak with a decisive 86-68 win. Maryland regrouped, putting together another string of eight wins, including three more overtime victories, capped by the stunning triumph and upset of top-ranked North Carolina on Feb. 9 at Carmichael Auditorium, snapping the Tar Heel's 30-game win streak on their home court and handing them their first loss of the season. Ashleigh Newman hit one of the more memorable shots of the season, picking up a loose ball and sending the shot from just over half court to send the game into overtime. The Terps earned a No. 4 ranking and, in the 89-63 thumping of Clemson on Feb. 23, Crystal Langhorne became the 22nd 1,000-point scorer in school history, becoming the fastest Terp to do so (60 games), breaking Doron's record. A win over second-ranked Duke in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament on March 4, snapped a 14-game losing streak to the Blue Devils. It also put the Terps in the finals for the first time in 13 years. UNC, on the other hand, was also looking for revenge, defeating the Terps, 90-81, on March 5 to claim the conference crown. In the final AP poll, Maryland was ranked No. 3 in the nation, its best final ranking in the poll since 1993. The NCAA Tournament bracket was announced on March 13 and the Terps received their highest seeding since 1993. Tabbed the second seed in the Albuquerque Region, Maryland cruised to a victory over Sacred Heart on March 19, but struggled to put away an up-and-coming St. John's squad, pulling out an 84-71 win on March 21, advancing passed the second round for the first time since 1992. The Terrapins faced Baylor in the Sweet Sixteen and quickly disposed of the defending champions, 82-63, on March 25, and earned a spot in the Elite Eight. Langhorne had her second-straight 30-point outing. Looking to punch their ticket to their first Final Four since 1989, the Terrapins were struck with a stomach virus which filtered through most of the players, staff, band members and fans. Gutting it out, a determined Terrapin squad forced their fifth overtime game of the year after Utah missed a key free throw in the final seconds. Maryland dominated in the extra five minutes winning 75-65 on March 27. Kristi Toliver, who had been struck with the illness the night before, netted a career-high 28 points and was voted to the all-tournament team. Langhorne was the region's Most Outstanding Player. In Boston, Maryland faced a familiar foe – the top overall No. 1 seed North Carolina and the favorite to win the championship. The Terrapins had other plans, pulling off the upset, once again, winning 81-70, on April 4. In their first-ever trip to the NCAA Finals, Maryland faced its recent nemesis. Trailing 13 points with less than 15 minutes remaining, the Terrapins mounted their comeback, tying the second-largest in NCAA history. Toliver hit one of the biggest shots in tournament history with seconds remaining in regulation, a three-pointer over Duke's center, to force the overtime. The Terps, believing that "Overtime is Our Time," did not have a doubt in the eventual outcome, as they hoisted the trophy on April 4. Laura Harper was the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, while Toliver again earned all-tournament nods. The postseason honors were plentiful. Langhorne was the program's first All-American (AP and USBWA) since 1989, also earning first team All-ACC nods. Doron and Marissa Coleman were second team all-conference honorees, with Coleman becoming the second-straight Terrapin to win the ACC's Rookie of the Year award after a school-record tying five conference rookie of the week selections.

NCAA Second Round

Coming off its national championship run and with all five starters returning, Maryland earned its first preseason No. 1 ranking in school history in both the AP and ESPN/Coaches polls and remained in that position for 10 weeks. For the second-consecutive year, the Terps led the nation in rebounding margin (+14.3), while also recording the best assists-per-game average in the nation (18.3). Opening the season on the road and challenged by a talented Middle Tennessee State squad who was looking for an upset, the season began with an 80-76 victory on Nov. 10. From there, the Terps won their next 17 games, setting a new school record for best start to a season (18-0). It also extended its overall win streak to 24 games, dating back to the first round of the 2006 NCAA Tournament, also a new school record. In the midst of that streak, the Terps reached the 100-point plateau four times, including a 110-79 victory on Nov. 25 to win the Junkanoo Jam. The home opener against George Mason on Nov. 12 proved to be one of the highlights of the season as the national championship banner is unveiled. In the 105-44 thrashing of UC-Santa Barbara on Dec. 2, Marissa Coleman posted the first triple-double in school history, also becoming the 11th player in the ACC to accomplish that feat. The ACC opener against NC State on Jan. 3 is win number 20, the third-straight 20-win season. Their 111-53 win at Miami on Jan. 10 was the most points the Terps had scored in a conference game since 1980 and was also the largest margin of victory in an ACC game ever. During the year, two three-point shooting records go down. In the Dec. 29 win over UNC Greensboro in the Terrapin Classic, Maryland's 12 threes is a new school record. Ashleigh Newman's 6-for-7 performance from three-point range against the Hurricanes is a new field goal percentage record (.857) which has stood since 1989, but it was quickly broken four games later on Jan. 25 at Clemson when Kristi Toliver was perfect on six tries. The Terrapins stun a national television audience on CBS, routing No. 19 Michigan State by 40 points on Jan. 6. The win over the Spartans also marks the first time the Terps have swept the non-conference regular season schedule. On Jan. 28, the first sell out in Comcast Center and the first since 1992 sets a new single-game ACC record. The record is matched on Senior Night on Feb. 18. Maryland advances to the ACC Tournament semifinals on March 3 for the fourth-consecutive year. Earning a No. 2 seed in the Dayton Regional, the Terps defeated Harvard in the first round on the NCAA Tournament on March 18, advancing to the second round for the fourth-straight year, before bowing out by a vengeful Mississippi squad on March 20. With help from the fans, Maryland sets a new school attendance record as more than 150,000 people attend home games. The Terps are ranked sixth in average home attendance (9,533), making the largest single-season improvement in the NCAA in 2006-07. Their overall attendance of 241,280 at all games is the fourth-best in the nation. All five starters are named preseason candidates for the Naismith Award, while four are selected nominees for the Wade Trophy, a record for both awards. Three Terps are named to the All-ACC team, with Crystal Langhorne earning first team honors for the second time, only the third Terp to do so. Marissa Coleman is a second team honoree for the second time, as well, while Kristi Toliver is selected to the third team. Langhorne is the first Terrapin to be named an All-American by the WBCA, and is selected by the AP and USBWA for the second-straight year, the first multiple All-American in school history. Shay Doron leaves College Park ranked second on the all-time scoring list, while leaving her mark all over the record books. Maryland ends the season ranked 14th in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll and sixth in the AP rankings.

NCAA Elite Eight

It was a season of broken records and milestones achieved. Early in the season, the Terps won the Preseason WNIT, capturing wins over #23 Notre Dame on Nov. 16 and #4 LSU on Nov. 18. En route to their title victory, Marissa Coleman was the first of four Terps of the season to reach the 1,000-point career milestone against Delaware on Nov. 13. Laura Harper and Kristi Toliver would go on to join Coleman and Crystal Langhorne, who achieved the feat as a sophomore, in the 1,000-point scorers club. With Toliver becoming the 25th member of the club on Dec. 3, the Terrapins also became the 11th known NCAA squad to have four active 1,000-point scorers. Maryland played 15 games in the first 31 days of the season, five coming against ranked opponents. Despite a lofty schedule, the Terps were the first in the nation to win 10 games, defeating #19 Ohio State in the inaugural Big Ten/ACC Challenge on Nov. 30, and went 14-1 during that span, falling only to top-5 foe Rutgers in the Jimmy V Classic in Piscataway, N.J. on Dec. 3. It was the first meeting between the teams in 10 years. Playing in her home state of New Jersey, that game also saw Langhorne break the program's rebounding record set by the legendary Vicky Bullett in the 1980s. After this stretch, head coach Brenda Frese was sidelined due to the pregnancy of twins, remaining at home for the road contests. But a veteran squad of five seniors and two juniors took care of business, cruising to an 83-49 win at Wake Forest in the ACC opener on Jan. 3, then returning home on Jan. 6 for a 110-46 rout of Clemson, the Terps' largest margin of defeat in a league game since 1980 and the Tigers' worst in program history. Spurred on by Coleman's 30 points, the Terrapins took care of ACC-rival Duke on Jan. 14, claiming their first win over the Blue Devils in College Park since 1998. After becoming the first Terrapin in the women's basketball program to haul down 1,000 career boards, she takes down the overall men's and women's rebounding mark, surpassing the legendary Len Elmore at Boston College on Jan. 10. Counting down to the record-breaking day, Langhorne takes down Bullett's scoring record on Jan. 18 at Virginia. Over the course of four games from Jan. 20-Feb. 4, Maryland needed some extra time in three of the contests to determine the outcome, including back-to-back double overtimes against Georgia Tech on Jan. 20 and at North Carolina on Jan. 26. GT could not handle the Terps' post play, as Langhorne dropped 31 points, while Harper grabbed 20 boards in the win. In Chapel Hill, it was a battle of the unbeatens, both teams looking to claim the top spot in the league standings. Though Maryland had three players with double-doubles, including 20 points and 14 assists from Toliver, the Tar Heels were victorious, unlike the thriller in Carmichael Auditorium two years previous. Feb. 4 marks the return of a popular player, with Shay Doron, Frese's first recruit, having her jersey honored at halftime. On the morning of the Terps' nationally televised contest at Duke on Feb. 17, the Terps were given some incredible news of Frese's delivery of twin boys. The team would follow up with a gift of their own, defeating the Blue Devils on their home court for the first time since 2000. Frese was back on the sidelines a week later to help pay tribute to the senior class on Feb. 24, her most impactful class that would go on to win 117 games, the most of any class to date. At the conclusion of the game, Maryland's most decorated player, Langhorne, has her jersey honored and hung from the rafters. Langhorne became the first female Terrapin to score 2,000 points against Miami on Jan. 31. The Terps closed out the regular season with a win at NC State on March 2. Frese making a surprise appearance. The win is the 13th in league play, tying a school record for most ACC wins. Heading ito the ACC Tournament, it is announced that a school-record four Terrapins are named to the All-ACC team, led by first team selections for Langhorne and Toliver. Langhorne is named the 2008 ACC Player of the Year, as well, becoming one of only four players in the league all-time to receive the rookie and player of the year honor in the careers. Maryland received its highest ACC Tournament seeding since 1993. After defeating Boston College in the first round on March 7, Maryland is upset by Duke in the semifinals on March 8. But news of a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Spokane Regional on Selection Monday gives the Terrapins the motivational boot to charge ahead. It is the second No. 1 seeding for the Terps in school history. The Terrapins open the Big Dance at home, with Frese capturing her 200th-career victory against Coppin State on March 23. On that evening, Toliver also breaks the ACC's 30-year old single-season assist record, formerly held by hall of famer Tara Heiss. The team earns a trip to the Sweet 16, defeating Nebraska on March 25, the 21st home win of the season, which is believed to be an NCAA record. A convincing victory over Vanderbilt in Spokane on March 29 sets up a highly-anticipated matchup against #4 Stanford on March 31. In what turned out to a be a high-scoring frenzy, the Cardinal win, 98-87. It was the Terps' second trip to the NCAA Elite Eight in three years. At the end of the season, Langhorne and Toliver are tabbed All-Americans by the AP, USBWA and WBCA. Sports Illustrated also recognizes Harper and Coleman. Toliver also wins the prestigious Nancy Lieberman award. For the third-straight year, the Terps are crowned statistical champions, this year boasting the top shooting percentage in the country. Langhorne also becomes the first player in NCAA history to lead the nation in field goal shooting three times. Soon after, Langhorne and Harper are both selected in the WNBA draft, becoming the first Terps to be selected in the first round. Langhorne is picked sixth overall by the Washington Mystics, while Harper is 10th, selected by the Sacramento Monarchs.

A two-time MVP of the ACC Tournament (1986, 1988), Tate dominated the 1989 NCAA Tournament while helping the Terps reach their second NCAA Final Four ... the only Terp named to the 1989 All-Final Four team ... also named the MVP of the 1989 NCAA Tournament West Region ... left as the fifth-leading scorer in Terrapin history despite only playing three seasons (1,541 points) ... second on the all-time list for scoring average with 16.5 ppg ... ranks third all-time with her 500 career assists ... her 1988-89 season was the most prolific for any Maryland thief in the history of the program, when she recorded 126 steals (31 more than the next closest season total) ... first team All-ACC selection in 1989 ... named to the All-ACC Tournament team in 1989 ... a member of the U.S. Select team in 1988 ... played one season in the ABL, 1997-98, with the New England Blizzard and Chicago Condors.

"When we raised Crystal's name and number to the rafters at Comcast Center, it was a fitting end to her time at Maryland, and with over 15,000 fans there to cheer her and witness it, it made us very proud. One only had to look around at the crowd that day to understand what Crystal and her teammates had built in a very short time here at Maryland. A true All-American, both athletically and academically, Crystal truly earned her place among the game's greats."

Made an immediate impact when she arrived on campus, leading the Terrapins to the program's first NCAA crown and first Final Four in 17 years in 2006 ... the first Terp All-American since 1989 and the only multiple All-American in school history ... broke Maryland's scoring and rebounding records, becoming the only men's or women's Terp with 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds ... first player in NCAA history to lead the country in field goal shooting three times, breaking the ACC record as a junior (70.7 percent) ... career 65.2 shooting percentage ranks top 15 all-time in the NCAA across all divisions and top five in Division I history ... seventh all-time in the NCAA in double-figure scoring games ... 22nd player in school history to score 1,000 points, reaching the plateau faster than anyone in school history (64 games) ... only player in school history to score 500 points in three seasons ... one of four to score 600 points in a season ... has peppered her name all over Maryland's career, season, game and class records ... finalist for the Wooden Award twice and finalist for the WBCA's Wade Trophy and Naismith Award in 2007 and 2008 ... 2008 ACC Player of the Year ... 2005 ACC Rookie of the Year, garnering rookie of the weeks honors a school-record five times, and was the highest-honored freshman Terrapin in school history, earning second team all-conference honors ... one of four ACC players all-time to receive Player and Rookie of the Year honor ... only three-time first team All-ACC in Maryland history and only one selected all-conference four times ... one of 10 in the league all-time to earn four All-ACC nods ... earned a spot on the All-ACC Tournament team four times, only Terrapin to do so ... also voted the NCAA Albuquerque Region Most Valuable Player ... preseason candidate for the Wooden, Wade Trophy and Naismith Awards multiple times ... 2008 ACC Scholar Athlete ... an ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-American.

"When we recruited Kristi, we knew she should be one of the truly elite players in the game. She became a Maryland legend as a freshman by hitting one of the most memorable shots in NCAA history. Her All-American season as a junior builds her case to be considered among the very best in our program's history. I'm also happy for her because doing it as a point guard is a perfect reflection of her unselfish nature."

Best known for "The Shot," which sent the 2006 National Championship game into overtime, developed into one of the top point guards in Maryland and ACC history ... won the 2008 Nancy Lieberman Award, presented to the nation's top point guard ... that season, was also a first team All-ACC selection, leading the league and ranked fifth in the nation with a 7.4 assists per game average ... broke the ACC's 30-year old single-season assists mark, dishing out 275 on the year ... three assists from breaking the all-time career record ... preseason candidate for the Wade Trophy, Wooden Award and Naismith Award multiple times ... a third team All-ACC selection as a sophomore ... 25th player in school history to score 1,000 points ... also holds career marks for free throws and three pointers made.

Cole Field House

When college basketball was achieving its most explosive growth - from the late 1950's to the late 1970's – there was one college gymnasium on the East Coast that sat as many as 12,000 fans. Cole Field House epitomized the new big time, main event status of college hoops, the sport of network TV and emerging legends. Despite facing cosmetic renewal, Cole's charisma was never tampered with. There was not a bad seat on December 2, 1955, when it was dedicated in the men's game against Virginia, and was equalling as thunderous when it closed its doors as the men's team defeated Virginia on March 3, 2002. Cole was also the place where a capacity crowd witness the No. 1 Maryland women's basketball team host No. 2 Virginia on Feb. 12, 1992, then an ACC record. That attendance mark stood for 12 years until the Terps broke that record in 2005 at Comcast Center. Cole Field House will always be home to countless memories, buzzer beaters and a thousand slam dunks.

Many great women's basketball teams and great players have played at Cole Field House. It ranks among the top 50 all-time Best Women's Basketball Home Courts, as the Terps compiled a 288-95 mark (75.2 percent) from 1973-2002, which ranks among the top 50 overall.

Cole was dedicated as the Student Activities Center, a $3.3 million project that was erected under the tutelage of Board of Regents Chair, Judge William P. Cole, Jr., and President Wilson Elkins. A year after the dedication, the building was named in honor of Cole, who served the Board of Regents for 25 years.

Although Cole has remained the same basketball hall it was built to be, there were refinements. Additions were made such as an increase in seating capacity to 14,500, scoreboards that not only told the fan what the score was, but also how loud they were cheering, and a new floor design.

As championships were awarded over the years, Cole got some of the very best. The 1966 and 1970 men's basketball Final Four were held there. In 1990, the first and second rounds of the eastern regionals were in Cole Field House. The NCAA wrestling championships were held at Cole in 1960, 1972, 1978, 1987, and 1990, and the NCAA women's volleyball championship took place there in 1990.

Comcast Center

Maryland's home for Terrapins Athletics was completed in the fall of 2002 and has provided six seasons of toppled attendance records and memories on the hardwood. Comcast Center provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball games and serves as the campus site for university special events and select community events.

Comcast Center houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's approximate 700 student-athletes on 27 teams. An additional 1,500-seat gymnasium serves as home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams, and Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share in their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors can learn about the men and women who have forged the Maryland Athletics program among the nation's elite as they stroll through the Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. The Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has once again reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and basketball arena in the country.

The Associated Press published its 500th women's basketball poll when it released its preseason rankings prior to the 2005-06 campaign, also marking the start of the 30th season of the poll. Among the 25 teams to appear in the preseason poll, Maryland was one of two schools to appear in the 2005-06 preseason ranking and the AP's first-ever poll published in 1976. The other school was Baylor.

University of Maryland

DEEP ROOTS BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 86 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes four Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, more than 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whose accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue is Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homeland security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selected for national leadership and are making news. Many recent major faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthen our homeland security endeavors—centers for research on agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freight transportation security; behavioral and social analyses of terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advanced world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center for Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also home to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennial source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents of the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home national championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey, competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than any university in the nation.

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead. Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, and with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is moving aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighter than any other in its history.

President C.D. Mote Jr.

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received a B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

Deborah A. Yow

Director of Athletics • 15th Year at Maryland

Deborah A. Yow is in the 15th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 14-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 16 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada. She serves as the current President of the national Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation, as well as the Board of Directors of USA Football and the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Academic Enhancement Committee.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, was cited in The Chronicle of Higher Education in October 2007 as one of the "Ten Most Powerful People in College Athletics/The Builder" and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 14 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget now approaches $60 million annually and the $51 million debt which her administration inherited has been reduced to $7.6 million.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student-athletes at Maryland. Academic outcomes and student-athlete welfare have received consistent and focused attention.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The 18,000-seat Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable $250 million upgrade of athletic facilities.

- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable seven national championships during the past three seasons.
- In the recent academic year, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics and had the highest graduation rate of any public institution in the Atlantic Coast Conference.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $24.7 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report and Sports Illustrated as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the best-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Center for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002 Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 15 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps defeated Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl, and in 2007 was selected to play Oregon State in the Emerald Bowl in San Francisco. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the sixth-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in three of his first four seasons.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Cathy Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past six years and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Football Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- In 2006-07, 16 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 14 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's A.D.," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States. She holds a bachelor's degree from Elon University, a masters degree from Liberty University and a doctorate (honorus causa) from the U.S. Sports Academy and an honorary doctorate for career achievement from Elon University.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success.. and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

Athletic Development

Terrapin Club

Athletic excellence is a tradition at the University of Maryland—a tradition alumni and friends alike want to see continue and flourish. That's why we are inviting you to be a member of the Maryland Athletics Family by joining the Terrapin Club. Whether you are an alumnus of the University of Maryland or a friend interested in supporting the state's flagship campus, belonging to the Terrapin Club enables you to:

- Provide annual scholarship support for our student-athletes who will contribute to the community
- Share our vision to fully scholarship all sports to best represent the University
- Take pride in the achievement of athletic excellence
- Participate in the camaraderie and fellowship unique to Terrapin Club members
- Receive a tax deduction for your financial contribution for scholarships
- Enjoy access to great benefits including priority seating in Byrd Stadium for football and Comcast Center for basketball, priority parking and tickets to other events

At Maryland, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics operates without significant University funding and receives no state appropriations or tax dollars for operational expenses. Sanctioned by the University of Maryland College Park Foundation, 100% of the funds raised through the Terrapin Club are managed by the Foundation for the exclusive use of Maryland Athletics. Your contribution directly supports an annual student-athlete scholarship cost of over $8 million and Terrapin Club and department expenses. The Terrapin Club provides scholarship support to many of the 700 student-athletes who compete on 27 varsity team representing the University of Maryland.

Getting Involved

Direct Gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa, MasterCard, Amencan Express or Discover). For your convenience, a personal checking account can be debited a set amount every month.

In many cases, corporate matching gifts may be used to make your Terrapin Club contribution. Please contact your employer to see if you are eligible for a matching gift program.

The M Club

An 85-Year Tradition of "Athletes Helping Athletes"℠

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest and most respected letterwinner clubs in the country with an organization of more than 4,500 former Maryland varsity athletes and a leader in the National Letter Winners Association.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for all the varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships and to cultivate networking, social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund, support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts and provde for career development initiatives. Members receive information about the current teams and news about former teammates through a monthly electronic newsletter and a quarterly printed newsletter.

In addition, active members receive information about, and discounts for, various M Club activities. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being a part of a unique and exclusive organization that is nationally recognized.

University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call the M Club office at (301) 314-7020, or visit our website at www.themclub.org.

Major Gifts Fundraising

In the Fall of 2006, the University of Maryland publicly launched Great Expectations: The Campaign for Maryland, a $1 billion fundraising effort that will transform the University from excellence to greatness. Intercollegiate Athletics, one of the most visible units of the University will seek to raise a total of $133 million to: (1) enhance and improve competition, practice and training facilities for a number of our teams; (2) fund annual scholarships for student athletes; and (3) endow student-athlete scholarships, coaching positions and teams.

A centerpiece of the ambitious Great Expectations fund raising campaign is an enhancement to Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium, for which construction began in 2007. Phase one of this project, which is scheduled for completion for the 2009 season, includes the expansion of Tyser Tower along the South concourse to add 64 luxury suites of varying sizes and 440 mezzanine seats (featuring heated and covered seating and food service); a University suite with seating for 200 guests; new work areas for television, radio and print media, new work areas for coaches and game day operating staff; a new game-day merchandise outlet; and enhanced seating for disabled customers.

Phase two includes the installation of railings in the North and South lower bowl to enhance fan safety and comfort, and chair back seating in the 200 level on the North side. The playing field will be lowered to improve sight lines for seats on the lower rows, converting a number of those seats from obstructed view to some of the best views in the stadium. Additionally, all of the blue roofs in the stadium will be painted.

Future expansion for football facilities includes renovation of Gossett Football Team House to enlarge the locker room and training areas, as well as the transformation of the West End Zone with the addition of nearly 8,000 seats which will bring stadium capacity to approximately 60,000 seats.

This expansion plan is an ambitious one. Critical to its success is the leasing of all available Suites within the expanded Tyser Tower. You can support the proud tradition and future growth of Maryland Football by contributing to the Great Expectations campaign or leasing a luxury Suite at the stadium.

To obtain information on leasing a suite at Byrd Stadium, or any other component of the Great Expectations Campaign for Athletics, please contact the Athletics Major Gifts Office at (301) 314-7020, or toll free at (800) 653-7667, by email at terrapinclub@umd.edu, or visit www.GreatExpectationsAthletics.com

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Jessica Myers (right) works with the women's basketball program.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

Maryland Gameplan

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career Networking Night

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

Student-Athlete Advisory Committee

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills PROGRAM

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs Commitment Statements

Commitment to Academic Excellence

To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence

To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development

To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development

To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service

To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

Official Medical Team

Sports Medicine

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the University of Maryland Medical Center's Sports Medicine program have joined forces to provide the best possible medical attention and care to all Terrapin student-athletes.

Says Deborah A. Yow, Maryland's director of athletics: "When we recruit student-athletes to play for Maryland, we owe them the best education, the best coaching and the best comprehensive health care. It is especially gratifying for us to partner with our medical center in the same fashion as other ACC institutions do with their medical schools."

Darryl Conway

Assistant AD/Sports Medicine
Delaware '93
Fifth Year at Maryland

Darryl Conway was hired in June 2004 as Maryland's assistant athletics director for sports medicine after spending three years as the head athletic trainer at the University of Central Florida. Conway oversees all medical and athletic training operations for the Terrapins' 27 varsity athletic programs.

Conway has been an athletic trainer at both the collegiate and professional levels. At UCF he was the head trainer for the football squad, while supervising the assistant trainers, graduate assistants and student assistants who provide training coverage of Central Florida's 17 varsity sports. At UCF, Conway was responsible for overseeing the compilation and input of daily medical records, the computerized injury surveillance program and the NCAA injury surveillance system. He served as a clinical instructor/field experience supervisor for athletic training students, assisted in the development of marketing and fundraising projects for the sports medicine department and served as the site coordinator for the NCAA drug testing program at UCF.

Prior to his position at Central Florida, Conway served as the Director of Sports Medicine at the University of Northern Iowa, working as the head trainer for the Panthers' football and men's basketball teams from 1999 to 2001. He was the head athletic trainer at Morgan State University in Baltimore for one season and was an assistant trainer and professor at Delaware, his alma mater, for two years. From 1993 to 1996, Conway was an assistant trainer with the NFL's New York Jets.

Conway earned a bachelor's degree in physical education studies, magna cum laude, from the University of Delaware in 1993, before receiving a master's degree in physical education and a certificate in sports management from Adelphi University two years later.

Conway has taught numerous collegiate courses related to athletic training, has made numerous presentations and has co-authored several scholarly publications and book chapters. He has been a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA) since 1989, and is also a member of the United States Weightlifting Federation.

Conway and his wife, Tracy, have a son, Michael.

Craig Bennett, M.D.

Head Team Physician/
Orthopaedic Surgeon
Fifth Year at Maryland

Craig H. Bennett, M.D., is in his fifth season as the head team physician and orthopaedic surgeon for Maryland. Dr. Bennett is the Chief of Orthopaedic Sports Medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine and has also served as the head orthopaedic surgeon for the NFL's Baltimore Ravens. Prior to his arrival at Maryland, Dr. Bennett was at the University of Pittsburgh where he served as an assistant professor of orthopaedics, as a team physician for Pittsburgh's athletic department and as the associate team physician for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Dr. Bennett graduated with honors from Brown University in 1985. He earned his medical degree from the University of California at San Francisco and completed his residency in orthopaedic surgery at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. He then completed a sports medicine-knee and shoulder fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh and subsequently stayed on staff at Pittsburgh for five years. While at Pittsburgh, he also served as the team physician for the men's basketball team.

Dr. Bennett was selected to the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons Leadership Fellows Program in 2003-04 and Towson University honored him as their African-American Scholar of the Year in 2004. He is a board certified member of the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgery and a member of the NFL Team Physicians Association.

James Dreese, M.D.

Team Physician/
Orthopaedic Surgeon
Third Year at Maryland

Dr. James Dreese serves as assistant team physician for University of Maryland athletic teams. He is an Assistant Professor of Orthopaedics at the University of Maryland Medical Center. He received his undergraduate degree from Penn State University, where he competed on the football team and earned a varsity letter.

After completing his Orthopaedic Surgery residency at the renowned Hospital for Special Surgery in New York, NY he received subspecialty training in Sports Medicine and Shoulder Surgery at the University of Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh, Pa. He served as a team physician at Davidson University in Charlotte, N.C., prior to joining the Orthopaedic Surgery staff at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Dreese is s subspecialist in the management of shoulder, knee, and elbow injuries.

Yvette Rooks, M.D.

Head Team Physician/
Primary Care Physician
11th Year at Maryland

Yvette Rooks M.D., is in her 11th year as a primary care physician for Maryland's athletics programs. She is also an Assistant Professor and Residency Program Director in the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the University Of Maryland School Of Medicine.

Dr. Rooks received her doctorate of medicine from the State University of New York at Syracuse in 1993. She completed her Family Medicine Residency at the University of Maryland Department of Family and Community Medicine in 1996. She served as Chief Resident from 1995-96.

At the conclusion of her residency Dr. Rooks pursued additional training in the field of sports medicine and completed a fellowship in this area at Kernan Orthopedic Hospital of the University Maryland Medical System in 1998. Dr. Rooks is Board certified in Family Medicine and has a Certificate of Added Qualification, CAQ, in Sports Medicine.

Dr. Rooks has been a faculty member in the Department of Family and Community Medicine for 11 years. She served as Chair of the Clinical Years Curriculum Committee, which oversees the curriculum for the clinical years of medical training at the University of Maryland Medical School from 2002-2007. She was the Director of Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship from July 2005 until January 2008 and has served as the Head Primary Care Team Physician for the University of Maryland at College Park-Terrapins since 1998.

Dr. Rooks was recently appointed to the NCAA Committee on Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sports and is the President –Elect for the Maryland Academy of Family Medicine.

Team Physician/

Valerie E. Cothran, M.D., is in her first year as primary care team physician at the University of Maryland. Dr. Cothran is an assistant professor in the Department of Family and Community Medicine and serves as Program Director of the Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship at the University of Maryland. She received her medical degree from Wake Forest University and completed her residency at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, Ky. She also completed a fellowship in sports medicine at University of Kentucky Medical Center. Dr. Cothran is an alumnus of the University of Maryland and was a four-year letterwinner in track & field.

Strength and Conditioning

In the highly competitive world of collegiate basketball, the off-court preparation of the basketball athlete is a critical component in the on-court success of any Division I program. Corliss Fingers, Maryland's strength and conditioning coach for women's basketball, believes strongly that a solid off-court training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development and, in turn, has resulted in great success on the basketball court.

Corliss Fingers

Fingers' philosophy consists of allowing the players to gain strength, speed and change of direction capabilities through drills that are basketball oriented. She believes that the team must be prepared to run and play the up-tempo style of basketball that is Brenda Frese's trademark. Fingers trains the team so that it will be able to play up to Frese's style.

The Terps' new state-of-the-art weight room at Comcast Center.

The members of the women's basketball team have the use of a fully-equipped weight training facility located down the hall from the women's basketball office and the team's locker room in Comcast Center. The conveniently located 4,000 sq. foot facility features a combination of Sorinex weight training equipment and York free weight equipment. The strength staff utilizes this facility specifically during the season as basketball team members are personally trained before, during and after the season.

ACC Select

Raycom Sports and the Atlantic Coast Conference, in partnership with CBS College Sports, will offer online video streaming of women's basketball games, including Maryland women's basketball games, during the 2008-09 campaign. The broadband network, called ACC Select, will primarily stream sports and games primarily not available through traditional broadcast and cable television distribution.

Terp fans can watch high-quality, full-screen video of Maryland's non-televised home games, as well as, games from around the league, from anywhere on their computers with ACC Select. Terrapin fans can purchase a one-time subscription, a monthly pass or an annual pass to watch the live webcasts. All games are also archived on the website. For more information, visit www.accselect.com.

Terps on TV

Maryland appears on television at least 10 times this season, including five nationally televised games on ESPN2, Big Ten Network and Fox Sports Net (Comcast SportsNet in the Baltimore/Washington area). Overall, ACC teams will make 82 television appearances as part of the conference's television package. Maryland will have five games nationally televised on ESPN2 and Fox Sports Net, including its games vs. North Carolina, vs. Rutgers and both games of the regular season vs. Duke. The Terps' Big Ten/ACC Challenge game vs. Ohio State will be on the Big Ten Network.

National analysts Debbie Antonelli and Beth Mowins return as part of the ACC's broadcast team and are joined by Charlene Curtis and Mike Hogewood, once again.

The regular season telecasts climax with the coverage of the 32nd annual ACC Women's Basketball Tournament at the Greensboro Coliseum, in which seven game will be broadcast – four on the league's regional sports network (Comcast SportsNet, Fox Sports Net South, Fox Sports Net Florida and New England Sports Network) and three distributed nationally on Fox Sports Net (Comcast SportsNet in the Baltimore/Washington area).

Media Credentials Policy

The University of Maryland issues media credentials under the priorities listed below. These priorities are designed to achieve efficient use of limited space available for working members of the media at University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic events.

The University of Maryland Athletics Media Relations Office is responsible for administering this policy. Credential requests must be made by sports editors or sports directors by calling the women's basketball contact at (301) 314-7064 or by emailing athletics-credentials@umd.edu.

Priorities

1. Originating radio and television personnel involved in a live television or radio broadcast of a University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competition.
2. Daily newspapers, wire services, and regional and national publications that regularly and substantially report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletics.
3. Non-originating radio and television personnel producing reports on a University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competition. Only local radio stations with a full-time sports director conducting a regular and substantial sports show reporting on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletics receive consideration for credentials.
4. Officially recognized University of Maryland daily student publications and daily student electronic media outlets that regularly and substantially report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletics.
5. Official websites of Atlantic Coast Conference schools, non-conference opponents, and the Atlantic Coast Conference office.
6. Non-daily newspapers or publications that regularly and substantially report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletics.
7. Online entities that meet the requirements set out in guideline 7, below.

Guidelines

1. Season media credentials are issued to those organizations that report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletics on a regular and substantial basis, as outlined above. Issuance of season media credentials does not guarantee working space in media work areas.
2. With the exception of Terrapin beat reporters reporting on the team on a daily basis and producing daily reports, all passes are approved and issued on a game-by-game basis.
3. Except as otherwise provided for in this policy, all passes and credentials are transferable within the same media outlet for use by those serving an editorial function. Passes used by any member of a credentialed outlet without specific editorial assignment or by non-working members of the organization are subject to revocation upon University request.
4. Due to limited space and to ensure compliance with NCAA guidelines, credentials will not be issued to "free-lance" writers or photographers without a specific assignment received in writing by the assigning organization.
5. The University of Maryland and the NCAA prohibit the issuance of credentials to representatives of an organization that regularly publishes gambling information, such as "tout sheets" or "tip sheets." The University of Maryland will not issue credentials to organizations whose primary function is to deliver news related to the recruitment of student-athletes.
6. No credentials will be issued to individuals under the age of 18. Admission to media facilities are for working media only.
7. Credentials may be issued: a) to online entities that are affiliated with a national or regional media organization; or, b) to online entities that host a website that regularly and substantially reports on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletics, and employs for that University of Maryland-dedicated website at least one full-time permanent employee who writes a substantial majority of all material posted on the site, and that registers a minimum of 20,000 legitimate unique users per month in each of the past 12 months.

   An online entity that meets the requirements of either 7.a) or 7.b) and which sponsors message boards or chat rooms may be credentialed only if the entity enforces its policies regarding abusive or discriminatory material.
8. University personnel may deny or revoke credentials without notice and an individual shall surrender his/her credential upon request for: noncompliance with the priorities or guidelines set out in this policy; noncompliance with health, safety, or security directives issued regarding University athletic events; violations of University, Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, NCAA, or ACC policies; and for conduct for which there are reasonable grounds to believe violate state or federal law, or constitute a breach of professional ethics. Any organization that wishes to contest a denial or revocation shall: a) request the Media Relations Office provide a written rationale for the denial or revocation; b) submit a written response to that rationale to the Associate Athletic Director for Media Relations. After reviewing the response, the Associate Athletic Director for Media Relations, in consultation with appropriate University officials, shall issue a decision to uphold or reverse the denial or revocation. The Associate Athletic Director's decision shall be final.
9. The University of Maryland Athletics Media Relations Office reserves the right to change this policy at any time. The latest version will be available online at www.umterps.com.

Credential Requests

Credential requests must be made by sports editors or sports directors online at http://www.sportssystems.com/clients/maryland/ no later than five days prior to an event. Credential requests can also be made on official letterhead from a sports editor or sports director and sent to Doug Dull, Athletics Media Relations Office, 2725 Comcast Center, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20741. They may also be faxed to 301-314-9094 or e-mailed to ddull@umd.edu. No credential requests will be accepted by phone.

Credentials will be mailed whenever possible, picked up at the Athletics Media Relations Office or picked up on game day at Media Will Call at the South Gate of Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium. Credentials will be sent via overnight entities (FedEx, UPS, U.S. Postal Service) only at the expense of the requesting outlet.

All persons picking up credentials will be required to furnish positive identification.

Internet Guidelines

The acceptance of media credentials is an acknowledgement of the University of Maryland's rights to the game and play-by-play coverage and an outlet's agreement to abide by any restrictions the University of Maryland may place on real-time play-by-play coverage and use of comprehensive game statistics. Failure to abide by these restrictions implemented by the University of Maryland may result in revocation of press credentials. Maryland reserves the right to grant approval for distribution of real-time play-by-play, game-related statistics and information through the Internet ("real time" is defined

Game Day Press Parking

Game day parking is recommended on the north side of Comcast Center best accessed from the University Drive (Rt. 193) entrance to campus at Paint Branch Drive. Parking is free and except for selected games, open to the public. Please contact the women's basketball media relations contact.

Photography Regulations

All photographers and camera operators must remain seated in baseline photo areas, as per NCAA regulations. Locations will be assigned for more crowded games. Photographer and videographer positions are at the complete and absolute discretion of the basketball game officials and the Maryland media relations office at all times, without exception.

The NCAA has established a policy to control congestion in photography areas. Priority shall be given, in all instances, to photographers and videographers on assignment. Only game photographers (no runners, assistants or producers) shall have access to courtside photo areas.

Strobe lights may be installed in Comcast Center, but arrangements must be made through the media relations office two weeks in advance. Space for strobe lights is available on a first-come first-served basis.

Press Seating

Press seating is located on the basketball floor in the northeast corner of the arena. The area is manned by members of the Media Relations Office throughout the game. The Media Relations staff desires to help the media be as comfortable as possible during each game.

Photographers

The NCAA has established a policy to control congestion in the photography areas on the basketball court. Only photographers on assignment, along with members of working television media, are given photo passes. Admission to the court and the photo boxes is by photo pass only. Photographers, both still and electronic, must shoot from the baselines at the northwest (Maryland bench end/directly in front of press seating) and southeast (visiting bench) corners of the court. Photographer's floor access is governed by Atlantic Coast Conference policy. Please note that only game photographers (no runners, assistants or producers) will have access to the photography areas. Photographers are also welcome to shoot from the photo deck on the west side of Comcast Center. Access to the photo deck is from the concourse level opposite the team benches. Photographer positions are at the complete discretion of the basketball game officials and the Media Relations Office AT ALL TIMES. Failure to comply with their directions will result in expulsion from the arena.

In-Season Interview Policies

All Maryland players and head coach Brenda Frese will be available for interviews with accredited members of the media throughout the season. ALL INTERVIEW REQUESTS must be made through the Media Relations Office, contacting the women's basketball contact. Please give a minimum of 24 hours notice. Player's individual phone numbers will not be given to the media and game day interviews will not be granted until the end of a game.

The Media Relations Office is located on the second level of Comcast Center in room 2725. The phone number is (301) 314-7064 and the FAX number is (301) 314-9094.

Postgame Press Conference

Postgame interviews with Maryland head coach Brenda Frese are held in media room following the game. Coaches from opposing teams will be brought to the media room after each game.

The Maryland locker room is closed to credentialed media. Players will be brought to the media room for postgame interviews at the media's request This is in accordance with ACC rules. The visiting team's locker room access policy is determined by officials of that school.

Postgame Statistics

Statistics packets, including running play-by-play, first half and final boxscores and post-game notes and quotes, are compiled following every game and made available to the media at press row and in the press room.

E-Mail Services

Basketball releases can be obtained electronically by contacting the women's basketball media relations contact or Joey Flyntz, media relations intern, at jtflyntz@umd.edu. List TERP NEWS in the subject heading, and include the name of your media outlet and phone number in your message. (This is a media service only).

Telephones

A limited number of telephones are available in the Comcast Center press room (calling card or reversed charges required). Any additional telephone requests should be directed to Nick Morrow, Asst. Director of Operations and Facilities, at 301-314-7127. List "Media Relations" as the contact for all installations.

Weekly Teleconference

The 12 ACC women's basketball coaches will be featured on one teleconference, before the ACC Tournament on Tuesday, March 3, 2009. during the 2008-09 season. Replays of the teleconference will also be available at www.theacc.com.
